NOTE.—Owing to the lateness of the publicatien of our last Catalogue, it embraced the Students of four Terms. while this embraces but two Terms, which will account for the difference in number

CLASSIFICATION.

The studies pursued at this College are divided into the following Departments, with a Professor at the head of each.

I. Moral and Intellectual Philosophy.
II. Mathematics and Astronomy.
III. Natural Science.
IV. Greek Language and Literature.
V. Latin Language and Literature.
VI. Belles-Lettres and English Literature.

The above constitute the Departments of the regular course. Provision is also made for instruction, when desired, in

VII. Hebrew and Biblical Literature.
VIII. Modern Languages—French and German.
IX. Law.

The studies in each department are arranged, as nearly as possible, according to their natural relation and mutual dependence. Those come first in order, a knowledge of which is necessary to a proper understanding of those which follow. Students should not think of skipping over, and taking advanced studies, for which they have not the necessary preparation. This will not be allowed to those pursuing a regular course, except in cases of urgent necessity. But young men who have not time or means to graduate in either the Collegiate or Scientific Course, may select and pursue any study taught, at the time, in the College, for which the Faculty may judge them to have the requisite qualifications, subject to all the rules and regulations of the College.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

Parents and guardians are informed that daily bills are kept of the merit and demerit of each Student, the former denoting the excellencies of each, in his recitations, and other College exercises—the latter, the delinquencies and deficiencies of each, in his respective duties. The President will furnish an exhibition of these records in any particular case, when requested by the Student or his friends; and in all cases where private admonition has been given without effect, a statement of demerit will be forwarded to the friends of such delinquent scholar. This will be the last step of discipline, preceding the final one of suspension or dismission. The Faculty are determined that the College shall not be infested, and the whole community embarrassed and perhaps corrupted, by idle or dissolute members.

FUNDS.

By a resolution of the Board of Trustees, the parent of each minor is expected to name some person in Lebanon, as the guardian or patron of his son while in College, with whom his funds shall be deposited, and to whom he shall be accountable for their proper use. All persons are forbidden to trust a minor without the consent of his guardian, and are hereby notified that if they do so, they do it at their own risk.

EXAMINATIONS.

Two days at the close of each term will be devoted to Examination on the studies pursued during the term. No student will be advanced unless he pass a satisfactory examination. The Examining Committee are solicited to be present at all the examinations.

GOVERNMENT.

The discipline of the institution will be paternal and mild, but firm. An effort will be made to awaken and develop the mental and moral faculties, and thus secure the true element of progress through life. Transgressions of rules, and negligence in study, may be borne with for a season, when signs of amendment are perceived; but no student will be permitted to remain while acting in open disregard of rule.

Believing that the time appropriated to vacation is ample for relaxation, and having painfully observed the evil effects of absence from recitation, either at the beginning or at any other period of the term, upon the standing and proficiency of the student, the Faculty earnestly request parents and guardians not to sanction such absence, without very urgent reasons.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

Two Literary Societies—the Philosophian and the Platonian—have been organized, and have already laid the foundation of respectable Libraries.

LIBRARIES.

The Libraries of the College and Literary Societies contain about 5000 volumes. The College Library is accessible to all the students, according to rules established by the Joint Board. The Libraries belonging to the two Literary Societies are accessible to the members of the Societies, according to regulations established by themselves.

TEXT-BOOKS.

All the books in the Courses of Study are kept at the College, and will be sold to students at less than the usual retail prices. A full supply of stationery is also kept on hand for the accommodation of students.

MERIT AND DEMERIT.

A daily record of the merit and demerit of each student is kept, which is read publicly at the close of each term, and then entered permanently upon the College Records.

DEGREES CONFERRED.

The Degree of Bachelor of Arts is conferred only on those who have, in a satisfactory manner, completed the branches embraced in the Collegiate or Classical Course.

The Degree of Bachelor of Science will be conferred on all those who have, in like manner, completed the branches embraced in the Scientific Course.

The Degree of Master of Arts may be conferred upon any Bachelor of Arts of three years standing, who, during the interval, has sustained a good moral character, and been engaged in some literary, professional, or scientific pursuit. Graduates of longer standing, or from other colleges, may receive the Master's Degree on the same terms. Application for the Degree should be made to the President of the College at least three months before commencement, and should be accompanied by the fee—five dollars. From the applicants for the degree, one or more will be selected to give the Master's Oration. In case the Degree is not conferred, the money will be refunded.

LOCATION.

McKendree College is located in Lebanon, twenty-two miles east of St. Louis, on the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, which renders it easily accessible from all points. The situation is healthful, the college grounds are beautiful; the villege is small, quiet, retired, and free from the various temptations to idleness and vice found in larger communities.

Further information concerning the College may be obtained from any Preacher of the Southern Illinois Conference, or by correspondence with the Faculty.

The First Term commences on the third Thursday of September, and closes December 22nd.

Examination of Fall Term commences Monday, December 20th.

Second Term commences December 23rd, and closes March 16th, 1859.

Examination of Second Term commences March 14th.

Third Term commences March 17th, and closes with Commencement Day, which takes place on the third Thursday of June.

Annual Examination will commence on Monday preceding Commencement.

Vacation commences the day after Commencement, and continues 13 weeks.

The First Term of the next Collegiate year will commence on the third Thursday (15th) of September, 1859.

CLASSIFICATION.

The studies pursued at this College are divided into the following Departments, with a professor at the head of each.

I. Moral and Intellectual Philosophy.
II. Mathematics and Astronomy.
III. Natural Science.
IV. Greek Language and Literature.
V. Latin Language and Literature.
VI. Belles-Lettres and English Literature.

The above constitute the Departments of the regular course. Provision is also made for instruction, when desired, in

VII. Hebrew and Biblical Literature.
VIII. Modern Languages, French and German.
IX. Law.
X. Book-keeping and Mercantile Science.

The studies in each department are arranged, as nearly as possible, according to their natural relation and mutual dependence. Those come first in order, a knowledge of which, is necessary to a proper understanding of those which follow. Students should not think of skipping over, and taking advanced studies, for which they have not the necessary preparation. This will not be allowed to those pursuing a regular course, except in cases of urgent necessity. But those who have not time or means to graduate in either the Collegiate, or Scientific Course, may select and pursue any study taught, at the time, in the College, for which the Faculty may judge them to have the requisite qualifications, subject to all the rules and regulations of the College.

Boarding, per week,..........................	$2 to 2 50
Washing, per dozen,..........................	60
Wood, per cord,..............................	$2 to 2 25

Many students board themselves at 75 cents to $1 per week.

All College bills must be paid in advance.

For instruction in Hebrew, French, German, and Book-keeping, an additional charge of $5.00 each, will be made.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

Parents and guardians are informed that daily bills are kept of the merit and demerit of each Student, the former denoting the excellencies of each, in his recitations, and other College exercises—the latter, the delinquences and deficiencies of each, in his respective duties. The President will furnish an exhibition of these records in any particular case, when requested by the Student or his friends; and in all cases when private admonition has been given without effect, a statement of demerit will be forwarded to the friends of such delinquent scholar. This will be the last step of discipline, preceding the final one of suspension or dismission. The Faculty are determined that the College shall not be infested, and the whole community embarrassed and perhaps corrupted, by idle or dissolute members.

FUNDS.

By a resolution of the Board of Trustees, the parent of each minor is expected to name some person in Lebanon, as the guardian or patron of his son while in College, with whom his funds shall be deposited, and to whom he shall be accountable for their proper use. All persons are forbidden to trust a minor without the consent of his guardian, and are hereby notified that if they do so, they do it at their own risk.

EXAMINATIONS.

Two days at the close of each term will be devoted to Examination on the studies pursued during the term. No student will be advanced unless he pass a satisfactory examination. The Examining Committee are solicited to be present at all the examinations.

GOVERNMENT.

The discipline of the institution will be paternal and mild, but firm. An effort will be made to awaken and develop the mental and moral faculties, and thus secure the true element of progress through life. Transgressions of rules, and negligence in study, may be borne with for a season, when signs of amendment are perceived; but no student will be permitted to remain while acting in open disregard of rule.

Believing that the time appropriated to vacation is ample for relaxation, and having painfully observed the evil effects of absence from recitation, either at the beginning or at any other period of the term, upon the standing and proficiency of the student, the Faculty earnestly request parents and guardians not to sanction such absence, without very urgent reasons.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

Two Literary Societies—the Philosophian and the Platonian—have been organized, and have already laid the foundation of respectable Libraries.

LIBRARIES.

The Libraries of the College and Literary Societies contain about 6000 volumes. The College Library is accessible to all the students, according to rules established by the Joint Board. The Libraries belonging to the two Literary Societies are accessible to the members of the Societies, according to rules established by themselves. During the past academic year more than 500 volumes have been added to the College Library, and it is hoped that a still larger addition will be made during the present year. The Literary Societies have also greatly increased the number and value of their books, by liberal and well selected purchases.

TEXT-BOOKS.

All the books in the Courses of Study are kept at the College, and will be sold to students at less than the usual retail prices. A full supply of stationery is also kept on hand for the accommodation of students.

MERIT AND DEMERIT.

A daily record of the merit and demerit of each student is kept, which is read publicly at the close of each term, and then entered permanently upon the College Records.

DEGREES CONFERRED.

The Degree of Bachelor of Arts is conferred only on those who have, in a satisfactory manner, completed the branches embraced in the Collegiate or Classical Course.

The Degree of Bachelor of Science will be conferred on all those who have, in like manner, completed the branches embraced in the Scientific Course.

The Degree of Master of Arts may be conferred upon any Bachelor of Arts of three years standing, who, during the interval, has sustained a good moral character, and been engaged in some literary, professional, or scientific pursuit. Graduates of longer standing, or from other colleges, may receive the Master's Degree on the same terms. Application for the Degree should be made to the President of the College at least three months before commencement, and should be accompanied by the fee—five dollars. In case the Degree is not conferred, the money will be refunded.

LOCATION.

McKendree College is located in Lebanon, twenty-two miles east of St. Louis, on the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, which renders it easily accessible from all points. The situation is healthful, the college grounds are beautiful; the village is small, quiet, retired, and free from the various temptations to idleness and vice found in larger communities.

Further information concerning the College may be obtained from any member of the Southern Illinois Conference, or by correspondence with the Faculty.

CLASSIFICATION.

The studies pursued at this College are divided into the following Departments, with a professor at the head of each.

I. Moral and Intellectual Philosophy.
II. Mathematics and Astronomy.
III. Natural Science.
IV. Greek Language and Literature.
V. Latin Language and Literature.
VI. Belles-Lettres and English Literature.

The above constitute the Departments of the regular course. Provision is also made for instruction, when desired, in

VII. Hebrew and Biblical Literature.
VIII. Modern Languages, French and German.
IX. Law.
X. Book-keeping and Mercantile Science.

The studies in each department are arranged, as nearly as possible, according to their natural relation and mutual dependence. Those come first in order, a knowledge of which is necessary to a proper understanding of those which follow. Students should not think of skipping over, and taking advanced studies, for which they have not the necessary preparation. This will not be allowed to those pursuing a regular course, except in cases of urgent necessity. But those who have not time, or means to graduate in either the Collegiate or Scientific Course, may select and pursue any study taught, at the time, in the College, for which the Faculty may judge them to have the requisite qualifications, subject to all the rules and regulations of the College.

MISCELLANEOUS.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class must be fourteen years of age, and will be examined in the following branches, or their equivalents, which for the convenience of those who pursue their preparatory studies at this Institution, we arrange below into a two years' course. Candidates for advanced standing will be examined in the studies which have been pursued by the class which they propose to enter, or in others equivalent to them. In all cases, satisfactory testimonials of good moral character must be presented; and when one has been a member of another College, a certificate of regular dismission will be required.

Candidates for the Scientific Course will be subject to similar examinations and requirements, except in the languages.

LAW DEPARTMENT.

At a meeting of the Joint Board in June, 1860, the Faculty were authorized to open a Law Department, and make provisions to meet the wants of the Students in regard to law studies. That department has been opened, and is now in successful operation, eight students having entered it the first term. It is under the care and instruction of Hon. A. C. French, LL. D., who will call others to assist him as occasion may require.

When the following course of studies has been completed in a satisfactory manner, the Degree of Bachelor of Laws, if desired, will be conferred.

COURSE OF LAW STUDIES.

Curtis's Forms.

In addition to regular recitations, a course of lectures is delivered each quarter.

ELECTIVE STUDIES.

Students wishing to graduate in the classical or scientific course, may be allowed to substitute law, for a part of the mathematical course after the Sophomore year. Those having the ministry in view, may also substitute Hebrew. In some cases French or German may be substituted. But all substitutions must have the concurrence of the faculty, and will be subject to an extra charge for tuition each term.

EXPENSES.

Tuition in the Academical Department, per term...	$ 6 00
Tuition in the Preparatory Department, " ...	7 00
Tuition in the Collegiate Department, " ...	8 00
Contingent expenses per term..................	$2 50 to 3 00
Room rent, per annum, from.......	$10 to 12 00
Boarding, per week..........................	$2 to 2 50
Washing, per dozen..........................	60
Wood, per cord.......	$2 to 2 50

Many students board themselves at 75 cents to $1 per week.

All College bills must be paid in advance.

For instruction in Hebrew, French, German and Book-keeping, an additional charge of $5.00 each, will be made, and for Law, $7.00 each term.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

Parents and guardians are informed that daily bills are kept of the merit and demerit of each Student, the former denoting the excellencies of each, in his recitations, and other College exercises—the latter, the delinquences and deficiencies of each, in his respective duties. The President will furnish an exhibition of these records in any particular case, when requested by the Student or his friends; and in all cases where private admonition has been given without effect, a statement of demerit will be forwarded to the friends of such delinquent scholar. This will be the last step of discipline, preceding the final one of suspension or dismission. The Faculty are determined that the College shall not be infested, and the whole community embarrassed and perhaps corrupted, by idle or dissolute members.

FUNDS.

By a resolution of the Board of Trustees, the parent of each minor is expected to name some person in Lebanon, as the guardian or patron of his son while in College, with whom his funds shall be deposited, and to whom he shall be accountable for their proper use. All persons are forbidden to trust a minor without the consent of his guardian, and are hereby notified that if they do so, they do it at their own risk.

EXAMINATIONS.

Three days at the close of each term will be devoted to Examination on the studies pursued during the term. No student will be advanced unless he pass a satisfactory examination. The Examining Committee are solicited to be present at all the examinations.

GOVERNMENT.

The discipline of the institution will be paternal and mild, but firm. An effort will be made to awaken and develop the mental and moral faculties, and thus secure the true element of progress through life. Transgressions of rules, and negligence in study, may be borne with for a season, when signs of amendment are perceived; but no student will be permitted to remain while acting in open disregard of rule.

Believing that the time appropriated to vacation is ample for relaxation, and having painfully observed the evil effects of absence from recitation, either at the beginning or any other period of the term, upon the standing and proficiency of the student, the Faculty earnestly requests parents and guardians not to sanction such absence, without very urgent reasons.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

Two Literary Societies—the Philosophian and the Platonian—have been organized, and have already laid the foundation of respectable Libraries.

LIBRARIES.

The Libraries of the College and Literary Societies contain about 6000 volumes. The College Library is accessible to all the students, according to rules established by the Joint Board. The Libraries belonging to the two Literary Societies are accessible to the members of the Societies, according to rules established by themselves. During the past academic year 350 volumes have been added to the College Library, and it is hoped that a still larger addition will be made during the present year. The Literary Societies have also greatly increased the number and value of their books, by liberal and well selected purchases.

APPARATUS.

A large amount of Apparatus has been recently procured of N. B. Chamberlain & Sons, of Boston, Mass., affording facilities for giving instructions in the Natural Sciences equal to any institution in the West.

TEXT-BOOKS.

All the books in the Courses of Study are kept at the College, and will be sold to students at less than the usual retail prices. A full supply of stationery is also kept on hand for the accommodation of students.

MERIT AND DEMERIT.

A daily record of the merit and demerit of each student is kept, which is read publicly at the close of each term, and then entered permanently upon the College Records.

DEGREES CONFERRED.

The Degree of Bachelor of Arts is conferred only on those who have, in a satisfactory manner, completed the branches embraced in the Collegiate or Classical Course.

The Degree of Bachelor of Science will be conferred on all those who have, in like manner, completed the branches embraced in the Scientific Course.

The Degree of Bachelor of Laws will be conferred on all who complete, in a satisfactory manner, the Course of Study prescribed for that Department.

The Degree of Master of Arts may be conferred upon any Bachelor of Arts of three years standing, who, during the interval, has sustained a good moral character, and been engaged in some literary, professional, or scientific pursuit. Graduates of longer standing, or from other colleges, may receive the Master's Degree on the same terms. Application for the Degree should be made to the President of the College at least three months before commencement, and should be accompanied by the fee—five dollars. In case the Degree is not conferred, the money will be refunded.

LOCATION.

McKendree College is located in Lebanon, twenty-two miles east of St. Louis, on the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, which renders it easily accessible from all points The situation is healthful, the college grounds are beautiful; the village is small, quiet, retired, and free from the various temptations to idleness and vice found in larger communities.

Further information concerning the College may be obtained from any member of the Southern Illinois Conference, or by correspondence with the Faculty.

CLASSIFICATION.

The studies pursued at this College are divided into the following Departments, with a professor at the head of each:

I. Moral and Intellectual Philosophy.
II. Mathematics and Astronomy.
III. Natural Science.
IV. Greek Language and Literature.
V. Latin Language and Literature.
VI. Belles-Lettres and English Literature.

The above constitute the Departments of the regular course Provision is also made for instruction, when desired, in

VII. Hebrew and Biblical Literature.
VIII. Modern Languages—French and German.
IX. Law.
X. Book-keeping and Mercantile Science.

The studies in each Department are arranged, as nearly as possible, according to their natural relation and mutual dependence. Those come first in order, a knowledge of which is necessary to a proper understanding of those which follow. Students should not think of skipping over, and taking advanced studies, for which they have not the necessary preparation. This will not be allowed to those pursuing a regular course, except in cases of urgent necessity. But those who have not time, or means to graduate in either the Collegiate or Scientific Course, may select and pursue any study taught, at the time, in the College, for which the Faculty may judge them to have the requisite qualifications, subject to all the rules and regulations of the College.

MISCELLANEOUS.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class must be fourteen years of age, and will be examined in the following branches, or their equivalents, which, for the convenience of those who pursue their preparatory studies at this Institution, we arrange below into a two years' course. Candidates for advanced standing will be examined in the studies which have been pursued by the class which they propose to enter, or in others equivalent to them. In all cases, satisfactory testimonials of good moral character must be presented; and when one has been a member of another College, a certificate of regular dismission will be required.

Candidates for the Scientific Course will be subject to similar examinations and requirements, except in the languages.

PREPARATORY COURSE.

FIRST YEAR.

FIRST TERM.

First Book in Latin, M'Clintock and Crooks.
Arithmetic, Greenleaf.
Geography, Warren.

LAW DEPARTMENT.

At a meeting of the Joint Board in June, 1860, the Faculty were authorized to open a Law Department, and make provisions to meet the wants of the Students in regard to law studies. That Department has been opened, and is now in successful operation, eight Students having entered it the first term. It is under the care and instruction of Hon. A. C. French, LL. D., who will call others to assist him as occasion may require.

When the following course of studies has been completed in a satisfactory manner, the Degree of Bachelor of Laws, if desired, will be conferred.

COURSE OF LAW STUDIES.

FIRST YEAR.

Blackstone's Commentaries,
Kent's Commentaries,
Chitty on Contracts.
Gould's Pleading,
Greenleaf's Evidence.

This list will be enlarged as occasion requires.

SECOND YEAR.

Story's Equity, Pleading and Jurisprudence,
Greenleaf's Evidence,
Angel and Ames on Corporation,
Browne on Actions at Law,
Mansel on Demurrer,
Burton on Real Property,
Curtis's Forms.

ELECTIVE STUDIES.

Students wishing to graduate in the classical or scientific course, may be allowed to substitute law, for a part of the mathematical course after the Sophomore year. Those having the ministry in view, may also substitute Hebrew. In some cases French or German may be substituted. But all substitutions must have the concurrence of the Faculty, and will be subject to an extra charge for tuition each term.

All College bills must be paid in advance.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

Parents and guardians are informed that daily records are kept of the merit and demerit of each Student, the former denoting the excellencies of each, in his recitations, and other College exercises—the latter, the delinquencies and deficiencies of each, in his respective duties. The President will furnish an exhibition of these records in any particular case, when requested by the Student or his friends; and in all cases where private admonition has been given without effect, a statement of demerit will be forwarded to the friends of such delinquent scholar. This will be the last step of discipline, preceding the final one of suspension or dismission. The Faculty are determined that the College shall not be infested, and the whole community embarrassed and perhaps corrupted, by idle or dissolute members.

FUNDS.

By a resolution of the Board of Trustees, the parent of each minor is expected to name some person in Lebanon, as the guardian or patron of his son while in College, with whom his funds shall be deposited, and to whom he shall be accountable for their proper use. All persons are forbidden to trust a minor without the consent of his guardian, and are hereby notified that if they do so, they do it at their own risk.

EXAMINATIONS.

Three days at the close of each term will be devoted to Examination on the studies pursued during the term. No Student will be advanced unless he pass a satisfactory examination. The Examining Committee are solicited to be present at all the examinations.

GOVERNMENT.

The discipline of the institution will be paternal and mild, but firm. An effort will be made to awaken and develop the mental and moral faculties, and thus secure the true element of progress through life. Transgressions of rules, and negligence in study, may be borne with for a season, when signs of amendment are perceived; but no Student will be permitted to remain while acting in open disregard of rule.

Believing that the time appropriated to vacation is ample for relaxation, and having painfully observed the evil effects of absence from recitation, either at the beginning or any other period of the term, upon the standing and proficiency of the Student, the Faculty earnestly requests parents and guardians not to sanction such absence, without very urgent reasons.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

Two Literary Societies—the Philosophian and the Platonian—have been organized, and have already laid the foundation of respectable Libraries.

LIBRARIES.

The Libraries of the College and Literary Societies contain about 6,000 volumes. The College Library is accessible to all the Students, according to rules established by the Joint Board. The Libraries belonging to the two Literary Societies are accessible to the members of the Societies, according to rules established by themselves. During the past year a number of volumes have been added to the College Library, and it is hoped that a still larger addition will be made during the present year. The Literary Societies have also greatly increased the number and value of their books, by liberal and well selected purchases.

APPARATUS.

A large amount of Apparatus has been recently procured of N. B. Chamberlin & Sons, of Boston, Mass., affording facilities for giving instructions in the Natural Sciences equal to any institution in the West.

TEXT-BOOKS.

All the books in the Courses of Study are kept at the College, and will be sold to Students at less than the usual retail prices. A full supply of stationery is also kept on hand for the accommodation of Students.

MERIT AND DEMERIT.

A daily record of the merit and demerit of each Student is kept, which is read publicly at the close of each term, and then entered permanently upon the College Records.

DEGREES CONFERRED.

The Degree of Bachelor of Arts is conferred only on those who have, in a satisfactory manner, completed the branches embraced in the Collegiate or Classical Course.

The Degree of Bachelor of Science will be conferred on all those who have, in like manner, completed the branches embraced in the Scientific Course.

The Degree of Bachelor of Laws will be conferred on all who complete, in a satisfactory manner, the Course of Study prescribed for that Department.

The Degree of Master of Arts may be conferred upon any Bachelor of Arts of three years standing, who, during the interval, has sustained a good moral character, and been engaged in some literary, professional, or scientific pursuit. Graduates of longer standing, or from other colleges, may receive the Master's Degree on the same terms. Application for the Degree should be made to the President of the College at least three months before commencement, and should be accompanied by the fee—five dollars. In case the Degree is not conferred, the money will be refunded.

LOCATION.

M'Kendree College is located in Lebanon, twenty-two miles east of St. Louis, on the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, which renders it easily accessible from all points. The situation is healthful, the college grounds are beautiful; the village is small, quiet, retired, and free from the various temptations to idleness and vice found in larger communities.

Further information concerning the College may be obtained from any member of the Southern Illinois Conference, or by correspondence with the Faculty.

CLASSIFICATION.

The studies pursued at this College are divided into the following Departments, with a Professor at the head of each:

I. Moral and Intellectual Philosophy.
II. Mathematics and Astronomy.
III. Natural Science.
IV. Greek Language and Literature.
V. Latin Language and Literature.
VI. Belles-Lettres and English Literature.

The above constitute the Departments of the regular course. Provision is also made for instruction, when desired, in

VII. Hebrew and Biblical Literature.
VIII. Modern Languages—French and German.
IX. Law.
X. Book-keeping and Mercantile Science.

The studies in each Department are arranged, as nearly as possible, according to their natural relation and mutual dependence. Those come first in order, a knowledge of which is necessary to a proper understanding of those which follow. Students should not think of skipping over, and taking advanced studies, for which they have not the necessary preparation. This will not be allowed to those pursuing a regular course, except in cases of urgent necessity. But those who have not time, or means to graduate in either the Collegiate or Scientific Course, may select and pursue any study taught, at the time, in the College, for which the Faculty may judge them to have the requisite qualifications, subject to all the rules and regulations of the College.

MISCELLANEOUS.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class must be fourteen years of age, and will be examined in the following branches, or their equivalents, which, for the convenience of those who pursue their preparatory studies at this Institution, we arrange below into a two years' course. Candidates for advanced standing will be examined in the studies which have been pursued by the class which they propose to enter, or in others equivalent to them. In all cases, satisfactory testimonials of good moral character must be presented; and when one has been a member of another College, a certificate of regular dismission will be required.

Candidates for the Scientific Course will be subject to similar examinations and requirements, except in the languages.

LAW DEPARTMENT.

At a meeting of the Joint Board in June, 1860, the Faculty were authorized to open a Law Department, and make provisions to meet the wants of the Students in regard to law studies. That Department has been opened, and is now in successful operation, eight Students having entered it the first term. It is under the care and instruction of Hon. A. C. French, LL. D., who will call others to assist him as occasion may require.

When the following course of studies has been completed in a satisfactory manner, the Degree of Bachelor of Laws, if desired, will be conferred.

In addition to regular recitations, a course of lectures is delivered each quarter.

ELECTIVE STUDIES.

Students wishing to graduate in the classical or scientific course, may be allowed to substitute law, for a part of the mathematical course after the Sophomore year. Those having the ministry in view, may also substitute Hebrew. In some cases French or German may be substituted. But all substitutions must have the concurrence of the Faculty, and will be subject to an extra charge for tuition each term.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

Parents and guardians are informed that daily records are kept of the merit and demerit of each Student, the former denoting the excellencies of each, in his recitations, and other College exercises—the latter, the delinquencies and deficiencies of each, in his respective duties. The President will furnish an exhibition of these records in any particular case, when requested by the student or his friends; and in all cases where private admonition has been given without effect, a statement of demerit will be forwarded to the friends of such delinquent scholar. This will be the last step of discipline, preceding the final one of suspension or dismission. The Faculty are determined that the College shall not be infested, and the whole community embarrassed, and perhaps corrupted, by idle or dissolute members.

FUNDS.

By a resolution of the Board of Trustees, the parent of each minor is expected to name some person in Lebanon as the guardian or patron of his son while in College, with whom his funds shall be deposited, and to whom he shall be accountable for their proper use. All persons are forbidden to trust a minor without the consent of his guardian, and are hereby notified that if they do so, they do it at their own risk.

EXAMINATIONS.

Two days at the close of each term will be devoted to examination on the studies pursued during the term. No student will be advanced unless he pass a satisfactory examination. The Examining Committee are solicited to be present at all the examinations.

GOVERNMENT.

The discipline of the institution will be paternal and mild, but firm. An effort will be made to awaken and develop the mental and moral faculties, and thus secure the true element of progress through life. Transgressions of rules, and negligence in study, may be borne with for a season, when signs of amendment are perceived; but no student will be permitted to remain while acting in open disregard of rule.

Believing that the time appropriated to vacation is ample for relaxation, and having painfully observed the evil effects of absence from recitation, either at the beginning or any other period of the term, upon the standing and proficiency of the student, the Faculty earnestly requests parents and guardians not to sanction such absence, without very urgent reasons.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

Two Literary Societies—the Philosophian and the Platonian—have been organized, and have already laid the foundation of respectable Libraries.

LIBRARIES.

The Libraries of the College and Literary Societies contain about 6,000 volumes. The College Library is accessible to all the students, according to rules established by the Joint Board. The Libraries belonging to the two Literary Societies are accessible to the members of the Societies, according to rules established by themselves. During the past year a number of volumes have been added to the College Library, and it is hoped that a still larger addition will be made during the present year. The Literary Societies have also greatly increased the number and value of their books, by liberal and well selected purchases.

APPARATUS.

A large amount of Apparatus has been recently procured of N. B. Chamberlin & Sons, of Boston, Mass., affording facilities for giving instructions in the Natural Sciences equal to any institution in the West.

TEXT-BOOKS.

All the books in the Courses of Study are kept at the College, and will be sold to Students at less than the usual retail prices. A full supply of stationery is also kept on hand for the accommodation of Students.

MERIT AND DEMERIT.

A daily record of the merit and demerit of each Student is kept, which is read publicly at the close of each term, and then entered permanently upon the College Record.

DEGREES CONFERRED.

The Degree of Bachelor of Arts is conferred only on those who have, in a satisfactory manner, completed the branches embraced in the Collegiate or Classical Course.

The Degree of Bachelor of Science will be conferred on all those who have, in like manner, completed the branches embraced in the Scientific Course.

The Degree of Bachelor of Laws will be conferred on all who complete, in a satisfactory manner, the Course of Study prescribed for that Department.

The Degree of Master of Arts may be conferred upon any Bachelor of Arts of three years standing, who, during the interval, has sustained a good moral character, and been engaged in some literary, professional or scientific pursuit. Graduates of longer standing, or from other colleges, may receive the Master's Degree on the same terms. Application for the Degree should be made to the President of the College at least three months before commencement, and should be accompanied by the fee—five dollars. In case the Degree is not conferred, the money will be refunded.

LOCATION.

M'Kendree College is located in Lebanon, twenty-two miles east of St. Louis, on the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, which renders it easily accessible from all points. The situation is healthful, the college grounds are beautiful; the village is small, quiet, retired, and free from the various temptations to idleness and vice found in larger communities.

Further information concerning the College may be obtained from any member of the Southern Illinois Conference, or by correspondence with the Faculty.

CLASSIFICATION.

The studies pursued at this College are divided into the following Departments, with a Professor at the head of each :

I. Moral and Intellectual Philosophy.
II. Mathematics and Astronomy.
III. Natural Science.
IV. Greek Language and Literature.
V. Latin Language and Literature.
VI. Belles-Lettres and English Literature.

The above constitute the Departments of the regular course. Provision is also made for instruction, when desired, in

VII. Hebrew and Biblical Literature.
VIII. Modern Languages—French and German.
IX. Law.
X. Commercial and Mercantile Science.

The studies in each Department are arranged, as nearly as possible, according to their natural relation and mutual dependence. Those come first in order, a knowledge of which is necessary to a proper understanding of those which follow. Students should not think of skipping over, and taking advanced studies, for which they have not the necessary preparation. This will not be allowed to those pursuing a regular course, except in cases of urgent necessity. But those who have not time, or means to graduate in either the Collegiate or Scientific Course, may select and pursue any study taught, at the time, in the College, for which the Faculty may judge them to have the requisite qualifications, subject to all the rules and regulations of the College.

MISCELLANEOUS.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class must be fourteen years of age, and will be examined in the following branches, or their equivalents, which, for the convenience of those who pursue their preparatory studies at this Institution, we arrange below into a two year's course. Candidates for advanced standing will be examined in the studies which have been pursued by the class which they propose to enter, or in others equivalent to them. In all cases. satisfactory testimonials of good moral character must be presented; and when one has been a member of another College, a certificate of regular dismission will be required.

Candidates for the Scientific Course will be subject to similar examinations and requirements, except in the languages.

PREPARATORY COURSE.

FIRST YEAR.

FIRST TERM.

First Book in Latin, McClintock and Crooks.
Arithmetic, Greenleaf.
Geography, Warren.

SECOND TERM.

LAW DEPARTMENT.

At a meeting of the Joint Board in June, 1860, the Faculty were authorized to open a Law Department, and make provisions to meet the wants of the Students in regard to law studies. That Department has been opened, and is now in successful operation, eight Students having entered it the first term. It is under the care and instruction of Hon. A. C. French, L.L.D., who will call others to assist him as occasion may require.

When the following course of studies has been completed in a satisfactory manner, the Degree of Bachelor of Laws, if desired, will be conferred.

COURSE OF LAW STUDIES.

FIRST YEAR.

Blackstone's Commentaries,
Kent's Commentaries,
Chitty on Contracts.
Gould's Pleading,
Greenleaf's Evidence.

This list will be enlarged as occasion requires.

Story's Equity Pleading and Jurisprudence,
Greenleaf's Evidence,
Angel and Ames on Corporation,
Browne on Actions at Law,
Mansel on Demurrer,
Burton on Real Property,
Curtis's Forms.

In addition to regular recitations, a course of lectures is delivered each quarter.

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT.

In this department it is the design to give the Student a thorough course of instruction in Book-keeping by both single and double Entry, a complete drill in mercantile calculations and a practical knowledge of the forms of bills, notes, and commercial papers generally. Lectures will be given on mercantile law, the functions of money, and the science of accounts in general. The text book is Crittenden's Book-keeping, and Mayhew, and Corner, will be used for reference.

ELECTIVE STUDIES.

Students wishing to graduate in the classical or scientific course, may be allowed to substitute law, for a part of the mathematical course after the Sophomore year. Those having the ministry in view, may also substitute Hebrew. In some cases French or German may be substituted. But all substitutions must have the concurrence of the Faculty, and will be subject to an extra charge for tuition each term.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

Parents and guardians are informed that daily records are kept of the merit and demerit of each Student, the former denoting the excellencies of each, in his recitations, and other College exercises—the latter, the delinquencies and deficiencies of each, in his respective duties. The President will furnish an exhibition of these records in any particular case, when requested by the student or his friends; and in all cases where private admonition has been given without effect, a statement of demerit will be forwarded to the friends of such delinquent scholar. This will be the last step of discipline, preceding the final one of suspension or dismission. The Faculty are determined that the College shall not be infested, and the whole community embarrassed, and perhaps corrupted, by idle or dissolute members.

FUNDS.

By a resolution of the Board of Trustees, the parent of each minor is expected to name some person in Lebanon as the guardian or patron of his son while in College, with whom his funds shall be deposited, and to whom he shall be accountable for their proper use. All persons are forbidden to trust a minor without the consent of his guardian, and are hereby notified that if they do so, they do it at their own risk.

EXAMINATIONS.

Two days at the close of each term will be devoted to examination on the studies pursued during the term. No student will be advanced unless he pass a satisfactory examination. The Examining Committee are solicited to be present at all the examinations.

GOVERNMENT.

The discipline of the institution will be paternal and mild, but firm. An effort will be made to awaken and develop the mental and moral faculties, and thus secure the true element of progress through life. Transgression of rules, and negligence in study, may be borne with for a season, when signs of amendment are perceived; but no student will be permitted to remain while acting in open disregard of rule.

Believing that the time appropriated to vacation is ample for relaxation, and having painfully observed the evil effects of absence from recitation, either at the beginning or any other period of the term, upon the standing and proficiency of the student, the Faculty earnestly request parents and guardians not to sanction such absence, without very urgent reasons.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

Two Literary Societies—the Philosophian and the Platonian—have been organized, and have already laid the foundation of respectable Libraries.

LIBRARIES.

The Libraries of the College and Literary Societies contain about 6,000 volumes. The College Library is accessible to all the students, according to rules established by the Joint Board. The Libraries belonging to the two Literary Societies are accessible to the members of the Societies, according to rules established by themselves. During the past year a number of volumes have been added to the College Library, and it is hoped that a still larger addition will be made during the present year. The Literary Societies have also greatly increased the number and value of their books, by liberal and well selected purchases.

APPARATUS.

The Apparatus belonging to the College is extensive and well selected, and affords facilities for giving instructions in the Natural Sciences equal to any institution in the West.

TEXT-BOOKS.

All the books in the Courses of Study are kept at the College, and will be sold to Students at the usual prices. A full supply of stationery is also kept on hand for the accommodation of Students.

MERIT AND DEMERIT.

A daily record of the merit and demerit of each Student is kept, which is read publicly at the close of each term, and then entered permanently upon the College Record.

DEGREES CONFERRED.

The Degree of Bachelor of Arts is conferred only on those who have, in a satisfactory manner, completed the branches embraced in the Collegiate or Classical Course.

The Degree of Bachelor of Science will be conferred on all those who have, in like manner, completed the branches embraced in the Scientific Course.

The Degrees of Bachelor of Laws will be conferred on all who complete, in a satisfactory manner, the Course of Study prescribed for that Department.

The Degree of Master of Arts may be conferred upon any Bachelor of Arts of three years standing, who, during the interval, has sustained a good moral character, and been engaged in some literary, professional or scientific pursuit. Graduates of longer standing, or from other colleges, may receive the Master's Degree on the same terms. Application for the Degree should be made to the President of the College at least three months before commencement, and should be accompanied by the fee—five dollars. In case the Degree is not conferred the money will be refunded.

LOCATION.

M'Kendree College is located in Lebanon, twenty-two miles east of St. Louis, on the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, which renders it easily accessible from all points. The situation is healthful, the college grounds are beautiful; the village is small, quiet, retired, and free from the various temptations to idleness and vice found in larger communities.

Further information concerning the College may be obtained from any member of the Southern Illinois Conference, or by correspondence with the Faculty.

CLASSIFICATION.

The studies pursued at this College are divided into the following Departments, with a Professor at the head of each:

I. Moral and Intellectual Philosophy.
II. Mathematics and Astronomy.
III. Natural Science.
IV. Greek Language and Literature.
V. Latin Language and Literature.
VI. Belles-Lettres and English Literature.

The above constitutes the Departments of the regular course. Provision is also made for instruction, when desired, in

VII. Hebrew and Biblical Literature.
VIII. Modern Languages—French and German.
IX. Law.
X. Commercial and Mercantile Science.

The studies in each Department are arranged, as nearly as possible, according to their natural relation and mutual dependence. Those come first in order, a knowledge of which is necessary to a proper understanding of those which follow. Students should not think of skipping over, and taking advanced studies, for which they have not the necessary preparation. This will not be allowed to those pursuing a regular course, except in cases of urgent necessity. But those who have not time or means to graduate in either the Collegiate or Scientific Course, may select and pursue any study taught, at the time, n the College, for which the Faculty may judge them to have he requisite qualifications, subject to all the rules and regulations of the College.

LAW DEPARTMENT.

At a meeting of the Joint Board in June, 1860, the Faculty were authorized to open a Law Department, and make provisions to meet the wants of the Students in regard to law studies. That Department has been opened, and is now in successful operation, eight Students having entered it the first term. It is under the care and instruction of Hon. A. C. French, LL. D., who will call others to assist him as occasion may require.

When the following course of studies has been completed in a satisfactory manner, the Degree of Bachelor of Laws, if desired, will be conferred:

COURSE OF LAW STUDIES.

FIRST YEAR.

Blackstone's Commentaries,
Kent's Commentaries,
Chitty on Contracts.
Gould's Pleading,
Greenleaf's Evidence.

This list will be enlarged as occasion requires.

SECOND YEAR.

Story on Bailments,
Rawle on Covenants of Title,
Angel on Limitations,
Story's Equity Pleading and Jurisprudence,
Greenleaf's Evidence,
Angel and Ames on Corporation.
Browne on Actions at Law,
Mansel on Demurrer,
Burton on Real Property,
Curtis's Forms.

In addition to regular recitations, a course of lectures is delivered each quarter.

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT.

In this Department it is the design to give the Student a thorough course of instruction in Book-Keeping, by both Single and Double Entry, a complete drill in mercantile calculations, and a practical knowledge of the forms of bills, notes, and commercial papers generally. Lectures will be given on mercantile law, the functions of money, and the science of accounts in general. The text book is Crittenden's Book-Keeping, and Mayhew, and Corner, will be used for reference.

ELECTIVE STUDIES.

Students wishing to graduate in the Classical or Scientific Course, may be allowed to substitute Law for a part of the Mathematical Course after the Sophomore Year. Those having the Ministry in view, may also substitute Hebrew. In some cases French or German may be substituted. But all substitutions must have the concurrence of the Faculty, and will be subject to an extra charge for tuition each term.

EXPENSES.

Tuition, in Academical Department, per term	$7 00
Tuition, in Preparatory Department, "	8 00

For German, French or Hebrew, (extra,)	5 00
Commercial Department	5 00

All College Bills must be paid for in advance.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

Parents and guardians are informed that daily records are kept of the merit and demerit of each Student, the former denoting the excellencies of each in his recitations and other College exercises—the latter the delinquencies and deficiencies of each in his respective duties. The President will furnish an exhibition of these records in any particular case, when requested by the student or his friends; and in all cases where private admonition has been given without effect, a statement of demerit will be forwarded to the friends of such delinquent scholar. This will be the last step of discipline preceding the final one of suspension or dismission. The Faculty are determined that the College shall not be infested, and the whole community embarrassed, and perhaps corrupted, by idle or dissolute members.

FUNDS.

By a resolution of the Board of Trustees, the parent of each minor is expected to name some person in Lebanon as the guardian or patron of his son while in College, with whom his funds shall be deposited, and to whom he shall be accountable for their proper use. All persons are forbidden to trust a minor without the consent of his guardian, and are hereby notified that if they do so, they do it at their own risk.

EXAMINATIONS.

Two days at the close of each term will be devoted to examination on the studies pursued during the term. No student will be advanced unless he pass a satisfactory examination. The Examining Committee are solicited to be present at all the examinations.

GOVERNMENT.

The discipline of the Institution will be paternal and mild, but firm. An effort will be made to awaken and develop the mental and moral faculties, and thus secure the true element of progress through life. Transgressions of rules, and negligence in study, may be borne with for a season, when signs of amendment are perceived; but no student will be permitted to remain while acting in open disregard of rule.

Believing that the time appropriated to vacation is ample for relaxation, and having painfully observed the evil effects of absence from recitation, either at the beginning or any other period of the term, upon the standing and proficiency of the student, the Faculty earnestly request parents and guardians not to sanction such absence, without very urgent reasons.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

Two Literary Societies—the Philosophian and the Platonian—have been organized, and have already laid the foundation of respectable libraries.

LIBRARIES.

The Libraries of the College and Literary Societies contain about 6,000 volumes. The College Library is accessible to all the students, according to rules established by the Joint Board. The Libraries belonging to the two Literary Societies are accessible to the members of the Societies, according to rules established by themselves. During the past year a number of volumes have been added to the College Library, and it is hoped that a still larger addition will be made during the present year. The Literary Societies have also greatly increased the number and value of their books, by liberal and well selected purchases.

APPARATUS.

The Apparatus belonging to the College is extensive and well selected, and affords facilities for giving instructions in the Natural Sciences equal to any institution in the West.

TEXT-BOOKS.

All the books in the Course of Study are kept at the College, and will be sold to students at the usual prices. A full supply of stationery is also kept on hand for the accommodation of students.

MERIT AND DEMERIT.

A daily record of the merit and demerit of each student is kept, which is read publicly at the close of each term, and then entered permanently upon the College Record.

DEGREES CONFERRED.

The Degree of Bachelor of Arts is conferred only on those who have, in a satisfactory manner, completed the branches embraced in the Collegiate or Classical Course.

The Degree of Bachelor of Science will be conferred on all those who have, in like manner, completed the branches embraced in the Scientific Course.

The Degree of Bachelor of Laws will be conferred on all who complete, in a satisfactory manner, the Course of Study prescribed for that Department.

The Degree of Master of Arts may be conferred upon any Bachelor of Arts of three years standing, who, during the interval, has sustained a good moral character, and been engaged in some literary, professional or scientific pursuit. Graduates of longer standing, or from other colleges, may receive the Master's Degree on the same terms. Application for the Degree should be made to the President of the College at least three months before commencement, and should be accompanied by the fee—five dollars. In case the Degree is not conferred the money will be refunded.

LOCATION.

M'Kendree College is located in Lebanon, twenty-two miles east of St. Louis, on the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, which renders it easily accessible from all points. The situation is healthful, the college grounds are beautiful; the village is small, quiet, retired, and free from the various temptations to idleness and vice found in larger communities.

Further information concerning the College may be obtained from any member of the Southern Illinois Conference, or by correspondence with the Faculty.

CLASSIFICATION.

The Studies pursued at this College are divided into the following Departments, with a Professor at the head of each :

I. Moral and Intellectual Philosophy.
II. Mathematics and Astronomy.
III. Natural Science.
IV. Greek Language and Literature.
V. Latin Language and Literature.
VI. Belles-Lettres and English Literature.

The above constitute the Departments of the regular course. Provision is also made for instruction, when desired in

VII. Hebrew and Biblical Literature.
VIII. Modern Languages—French and German.
IX. Law.
X. Commercial and Mercantile Science.

The studies in each Department are arranged, as nearly as possible, according to their natural relation and mutual dependence. Those come first in order, a knowledge of which is necessary to a proper understanding of those which follow. Students should not think of skipping over, and taking advanced studies, for which they have not the necessary preparation. This will not be allowed to those pursuing a regular course, except in cases of urgent necessity. But those who have not time, or means to graduate in either the Collegiate or Scientific Course, may select and pursue any study taught, at the time, in the College, for which the Faculty may judge them to have the requisite qualifications, subject to all the rules and regulations of the College.

MISCELLANEOUS.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class must be fourteen years of age, and will be examined in the following branches, or their equivalents, which, for the convenience of those who pursue their preparatory studies at this Institution, we arrange below into a two years' course. Candidates for advanced standing will be examined in the studies which have been pursued by the class which they propose to enter, or in others equivalent to them. In all cases, satisfactory testimonials of good moral character must be presented; and when one has been a member of another College, a certificate of regular dismission will be required.

Candidates for the Scientific Course will be subject to similar examinations and requirements, except in the languages.

LAW DEPARTMENT.

At a meeting of the Joint Board, in June, 1860, the Faculty were authorized to open a Law Department, and make provisions to meet the wants of the Students in regard to law studies. That Department has been opened, and is now in successful operation. It is under the care and instruction of one who will call others to assist him, as occasion may require.

When the following course of studies has been completed in a satisfactory manner, the Degree of Bachelor of Laws, if desired, will be conferred.

COURSE OF LAW STUDIES.

FIRST YEAR.

Blackstone's Commentaries,
Kent's Commentaries,
Chitty on Contracts,

In addition to regular recitations, a course of Lectures is delivered each quarter.

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT.

In this department it is the design to give the Student a thorough course of instruction in Book-Keeping by both Single and Double Entry, a complete drill in mercantile calculations, and a practical knowledge of the forms of bills, notes, and commercial papers generally. Lectures will be given on Mercantile Law, the Functions of Money, and the Science of Accounts in general. The text book is Crittenden's Book-Keeping, and Mayhew, and Corner, will be used for reference.

ELECTIVE STUDIES.

Students wishing to graduate in the Classical or Scientific Course, may be allowed to substitute law for a part of the Mathematical Course after the Sophomore year. Those having the ministry in view, may also substitute Hebrew. In some cases French or German may be substituted. But all substitutions must have the concurrence of the Faculty, and will be subject to an extra charge for tuition each term.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

Parents and guardians are informed that daily records are kept of the merit and demerit of each Student, the former denoting the excellencies of each, in his recitations, and other College exercises—the latter, the delinquencies and deficiences of each, in his respective duties. The President will furnish an exhibition of these records in any particular case, when requested by the student or his friends; and in all cases where private admonition has been given without effect, a statement of demerit will be forwarded to the friends of such delinquent scholar. This will be the last step of discipline, preceding the final one of suspension or dismissal. The Faculty are determined that the College shall not be infested, and the whole community embarrassed, and perhaps corrupted, by idle or dissolute members.

FUNDS.

By a resolution of the Board of Trustees, the parent of each minor is expected to name some person in Lebanon as the guardian or patron of his son while in College, with whom his funds shall be deposited, and to whom he shall be accountable for their proper use. All persons are forbidden to trust a minor without the consent of his guardian, and are hereby notified that if they do so, they do it at their own risk.

EXAMINATIONS.

Two days at the close of each term will be devoted to examination on the studies pursued during the term. No student will be advanced unless he pass a satisfactory examination. The Examining Committee are solicited to be present at all the examinations.

GOVERNMENT.

The discipline of the Institution will be paternal and mild, but firm. An effort will be made to awaken and develop the mental and moral faculties, and thus secure the true element of progress through life. Transgression of rules and negligence in study may be borne with for a season, when signs of amendment are perceived; bnt no student will be permitted to remain while acting in open disregard of rule.

Believing that the time appropriated to vacation is ample for relaxation, and having painfully observed the evil effects of absence from recitation, either at the beginning or any other period of the term, upon the standing and proficiency of the student, the Faculty earnestly request parents and guardians not to sanction such absence, without very urgent reasons.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

Two Literary Societies—the Philosophian and the Platonian—have been organized, and have already laid the foundation of respectable Libraries.

LIBRARIES.

The Libraries of the College and Literary Societies contain about 7,500 volumes. The College Library is accessible to all the students, according to rules established by the Joint Board. The Libraries belonging to the two Literary Societies are accessible to the members of the Societies, according to rules established by themselves. During the past year a number of volumes have been added to the College Library, and it is hoped that a still larger addition will be made during the present year. The Literary Societies have also greatly increased the number and value of their books, by liberal and well selected purchases.

APPARATUS.

The Apparatus belonging to the College is extensive and well selected, and affords excellent facilities for giving instructions in the Natural Sciences.

TEXT BOOKS.

All the books in the Course of Study are kept at the College, and will be sold to Students at the usual prices. A full supply of stationery is also kept on hand for the accommodation of Students

MERIT AND DEMERIT.

A daily record of the merit and demerit of each student is kept, which is read publicly at the close of each term, and then entered permanently upon the College Record.

DEGREES CONFERRED.

The Degree of Bachelor of Arts is conferred only on those who have, in a satisfactory manner, completed the branches embraced in the Collegiate or Classical Course.

The Degree of Bachelor of Science will be conferred on all those who have, in like manner, completed the branches embraced in the Scientific Course.

The Degree of Bachelor of Laws will be conferred on all who complete, in a satisfactory manner, the Course of Study prescribed for that Department.

The Degree of Master of Arts may be conferred upon any Bachelor of Arts of three years standing, who, during the interval, has sustained a good moral character, and been engaged in some literary, professional, or scientific pursuit. Graduates of longer standing, or from other colleges, may receive the Master's Degree on the same terms. Application for the Degree should be made to the President of the College at least three months before commencement, and should be accompanied by the fee—five dollars. In case the Degree is not conferred the money will be refunded.

LOCATION.

M'Kendree College is located in Lebanon, twenty-two miles east of St. Louis, on the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, which renders it easily accessible from all points. The situation is healthful, the college grounds are beautiful; the village is small, quiet, retired, and free from the various temptations to idleness and vice found in larger communities.

Further information concerning the College may be obtained from any member of the Southern Illinois Conference, or by correspondence with the Faculty.

CLASSIFICATION.

The Studies pursued at this College are divided into the following Departments, with a Professor at the head of each:

I. Moral and Intellectual Philosophy.
II. Mathematics and Astronomy.
III. Natural Science.
IV. Greek Language and Literature.
V. Latin Language and Literature.
VI. Belles Lettres, and English Literature.

The above constitute the Departments of the regular course. Provision is also made for instruction, when desired, in—

VII. Hebrew and Biblical Literature.
VIII. Modern Languages—French and German.
IX. Law.
X. Commercial and Mercantile Science.

The studies in each Department are arranged, as nearly as possible, according to their natural relation and mutual dependence. Those come first in order, a knowledge of which is necessary to a proper understanding of those which follow. Students should not think of skipping over, and taking advanced studies, for which they have not the necessary preparation. This will not be allowed to those pursuing a regular course, except in cases of urgent necessity. But those who have not time or means to graduate in either the Collegiate or Scientific Course, may select and pursue any study taught, at the time, in the College, for which the Faculty may judge them to have the requisite qualifications, subject to all the rules and regulations of the College.

MISCELLANEOUS.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class must be fourteen years of age, and will be examined in the following branches, or their equivalents, which, for the convenience of those who pursue their preparatory studies at this Institution, we arrange below into a two years' course. Candidates for advanced standing will be examined in the studies which have been pursued by the class which they propose to enter, or in others equivalent to them. In all cases, satisfactory testimonials of good moral character must be presented; and when one has been a member of another College, a certificate of regular dismission will be required.

Candidates for the Scientific Course will be subject to similar examinations and requirements, except in the languages.

LAW DEPARTMENT.

At a meeting of the Joint Board, in June, 1860, the Faculty were authorized to open a Law Department, and make provisions to meet the wants of the Students in regard to law studies. That Department has been opened, and is now in successful operation. It is under the care and instruction of one who will call others to assist him, as occasion may require.

When the following course of studies has been completed in a satisfactory manner, the Degree of Bachelor of Laws, if desired, will be conferred.

COURSE OF LAW STUDIES.

FIRST YEAR.

Blackstone's Commentaries,
Kent's Commentaries,
Chitty on Contracts,
Gould's Pleading,
Greenleaf's Evidence.

This list will be enlarged as occasion requires.

SECOND YEAR.

Blackstone's Commentaries,
Kent's Commentaries,
Chitty on Contracts,
Gould's Pleading,
Stephen's Pleading,
Chitty's Pleading,

Browne on Action at Law,

Story on Partnerships,
Story on Agency,
Story on Bailments,
Rawle on Covenants of Title,
Mansel on Demurrer,
Burton on Real Property,
Curtis' Forms.

In addition to regular recitations, a course of Lectures is delivered each quarter.

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT.

In this department it is the design to give the Student a thorough course of instruction in Book-Keeping by both Single and Double Entry, a complete drill in mercantile calculations, and a practical knowledge of the forms of bills, notes, and commercial papers generally. Lectures will be given on Mercantile Law, the Functions of Money, and the Science of Accounts in general. The text book is Crittenden's Book-Keeping; and Mayhew and Comer will be used for reference.

ELECTIVE STUDIES.

Students wishing to graduate in the Classical or Scientific Course, may be allowed to substitute Law for a part of the Mathematical Course after the Sophomore year. Those having the ministry in view, may also substitute Hebrew. In some cases French or German may be substituted. But all substitutions must have the concurrence of the Faculty, and will be subject to an extra charge of $5.00 for tuition each term.

SCHOLARSHIPS AND PRIZES.

The Stanton Centenary Scholarship is a centenary donation from Thomas Stanton, M. D., of Alton, to the Southern Illinois Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and it entitles the holder to Tuition, Incidentals, and Room Rent free of charge for the time of holding it. It is to be given as a Prize "to that young man preparing for the sacred ministry who shall have passed the best examination in the studies of the term next preceding, and who shall be recommended as worthy by the Presiding Elder of the District in the Conference which includes Lebanon." Its cash value is $18 per Term.

The Platonian Scholarship is a Prize given to the young man who shall during any term best perform all the duties assigned to him in the Platonian Society. It is to be assigned at the close of each term, and to be used for the next succeeding term. It entitles the student holding it to tuition free of charge.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

Parents and guardians are informed that daily records are kept of the merit and demerit of each Student, the former denoting the excellencies of each, in his recitations and other College exercises—the latter, the delinquencies and deficiencies of each, in his respective duties. The President will furnish an exhibition of these records in any particular case, when requested by the student or his friends; and in all cases where private admonition has been given without effect, a statement of demerit will be forwarded to the friends of such delinquent scholar. This will be the last step of discipline, preceding the final one of suspension or dismissal. The Faculty are determined that the College shall not be infested, and the whole community embarrassed, and perhaps corrupted, by idle or dissolute members.

FUNDS.

By a resolution of the Board of Trustees, the parent of each minor is expected to name some person in Lebanon as the guardian or patron of his son while in College, with whom his funds shall be deposited, and to whom he shall be accountable for their proper use. All persons are forbidden to trust a minor without the consent of his guardian, and are hereby notified that if they do so they do it at their own risk.

EXAMINATIONS.

Two days at the close of each term will be devoted to examination on the studies pursued during the term. No student will be advanced unless he pass a satisfactory examination. The Examining Committee are solicited to be present at all the examinations.

GOVERNMENT.

The discipline of the Institution will be paternal and mild, but firm. An effort will be made to awaken and develop the mental and moral faculties, and thus to secure the true element of progress through life. Transgression of rules and negligence in study may be borne with for a season, when signs of amendment are perceived; but no student will be permitted to remain while acting in open disregard of rule.

Believing that the time appropriated to vacation is ample for relaxation, and having painfully observed the evil effects of absence from recitation, either at the beginning or any other period of the term, upon the standing and proficiency of the student, the Faculty earnestly request parents and guardians not to sanction such absence without very urgent reasons.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

Two Literary Societies—the Philosophian and the Platonian—have been organized, and have already laid the foundation of respectable Libraries.

LIBRARIES.

The Libraries of the College and Literary Societies contain about 7,500 volumes. The College Library is accessible to all the students, according to rules established by the Joint Board. The Libraries belonging to the two Literary Societies are accessible to the members of the Societies, according to rules established by themselves. During the past year a number of volumes have been added to the College Library, and it is hoped that a still larger addition will be made during the present year. The Literary Societies have also greatly increased the number and value of their books, by liberal and well selected purchases.

APPARATUS.

The Apparatus belonging to the College is extensive and well selected, and affords excellent facilities for giving instruction in the Natural Sciences.

TEXT BOOKS.

All the books in the Course of Study are kept at the College, and will be sold to Students at the usual prices. A full supply of stationery is also kept on hand for the accommodation of Students.

MERIT AND DEMERIT.

A daily record of the merit and demerit of each Student is kept, which is read publicly at the close of each term, and then entered permanently upon the College Record.

DEGREES CONFERED.

The Degree of Bachelor of Arts is conferred only on those who have, in a satisfactory manner, completed the branches embraced in the Collegiate or Classical Course.

The Degree of Bachelor of Science will be conferred on all those who have, in like manner, completed the branches embraced in the Scientific Course.

The Degree of Bachelor of Laws will be conferred on all who complete, in a satisfactory manner, the Course of Study prescribed for that Department.

The Degree of Master of Arts may be conferred upon any Bachelor of Arts of three years standing, who, during the interval, has sustained a good moral character, and been engaged in some literary, professional, or scientific pursuit. Graduates of longer standing, or from other Colleges, may receive the Master's Degree on the same terms. Application for the Degree should be made to the President of the College at least three months before commencement, and should be accompanied by the fee—five dollars. In case the Degree is not conferred the money will be refunded.

LOCATION.

M'Kendree College is located in Lebanon, twenty-two miles east of St. Louis, on the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, which renders it easily accessible from all points. The situation is healthful, the College grounds are beautiful; the village is small, quiet, retired, and free from the various temptations to idleness and vice found in larger communities.

Further information concerning the College may be obtained from any member of the Southern Illinois Conference, or by correspondence with the Faculty.

CLASSIFICATION.

The Studies pursued at this College are divided into the following Departments, with a Professor at the head of each:

I.—Moral and Intellectual Philosophy.
II.—Mathematics and Astronomy.
III.—Natural Science.
IV.—Greek Language and Literature.
V.—Latin Language and Literature.
VI.—Belles Lettres, and English Literature.

The above constitute the Departments of the regular course. Provision is also made for instruction, when desired, in—

VII.—Hebrew and Biblical Literature.
VIII.—Modern Languages—French and German.
IX.—Law.
X.—Commercial and Mercantile Science.

The studies in each Department are arranged, as nearly as possible, according to their natural relation and mutual dependence. Those come first in order, a knowledge of which is necessary to a proper understanding of those which follow. Students should not think of skipping over, and taking advanced studies, for which they have not the necessary preparation. This will not be allowed to those pursuing a regular course, except in cases of urgent necessity. But those who have not time or means to graduate in either the Collegiate or Scientific Course, may select and pursue any study taught, at the time, in the College, for which the Faculty may judge them to have the requisite qualifications, subject to all the rules and regulations of the College.

MISCELLANEOUS.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class must be fourteen years of age, and will be examined in the following branches, or their equivalents, which, for the convenience of those who pursue their preparatory studies at this Institution, we arrange below into a two years' course. Candidates for advanced standing will be examined in the studies which have been pursued by the class which they propose to enter, or in others equivalent to them. In all cases satisfactory testimonials of good moral character must be presented; and when one has been a member of another College, a certificate of regular dismission will be required.

Candidates for the Scientific Course will be subject to similar examinations and requirements, except in the languages.

LAW DEPARTMENT.

At a meeting of the Joint Board, in June, 1860, the Faculty were authorized to open a Law Department, and make provisions to meet the wants of the Students in regard to law studies. That Department has been opened, and is now in successful operation. It is under the care and instruction of one who will call others to assist him, as occasion may require.

When the following course of studies has been completed in a satisfactory manner, the Degree of Bachelor of Laws, if desired, will be conferred.

COURSE OF LAW STUDIES.

FIRST YEAR.

Blackstone's Commentaries,
Kent's Commentaries,
Chitty on Contracts,
Gould's Pleading,
Greenleaf's Evidence.

This list will be enlarged as occasion requires.

SECOND YEAR.

Greenleaf's Evidence,
Angel and Ames on Corporation,
Browne on Action at Law,
Mansel on Demurrer,
Burton on Real Property,
Curtis' Forms,
Rawle on Covenants of Title.

In addition to regular recitations, a course of Lectures is delivered each quarter.

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT.

In this department it is the design to give the Student a thorough course of instruction in Book-Keeping by both Single and Double Entry, a complete drill in mercantile calculations, and a practical knowledge of the forms of bills, notes, and commercial papers generally. Lectures will be given on Mercantile Law, the Functions of Money, and the Science of Accounts in general. The text book is Crittenden's Book-Keeping; and Mayhew and Comer will be used for reference.

ELECTIVE STUDIES.

Students wishing to graduate in the Classical or Scientific Course, may be allowed to substitute Law for a part of the Mathematical Course after the Sophomore year. Those having the ministry in view, may also substitute Hebrew. In some cases French or German may be substituted. But all substitutions must have the concurrence of the Faculty, and will be subject to an extra charge of $5.00 for tuition each term.

SCHOLARSHIP AND PRIZES.

The Stanton Centenary Scholarship is a centenary donation from THOMAS STANTON, M. D., of Alton, to the Southern Illinois Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church; and it entitles the holder to Tuition, Incidentals, and Room Rent free of charge for the time of holding it. It is to be given as a Prize "to that young man preparing for the sacred ministry who shall have passed the best examination in the studies of the term next preceding, and who shall be recommended as worthy by the Presiding Elder of the District in the Conference which includes Lebanon." Its cash value is $18.00 per Term.

The Platonian Scholarship is a prize given to the young man who shall during any term best perform all the duties assigned to him in the Platonian Society. It is to be assigned at the close of each term, and to be used for the next succeeding term. It entitles the student holding it to tuition free of charge.

The Parker Prize for Declamation is given by the Rev. and Hon. T. A. PARKER, of Missouri, to the one who shall excel in declamation at what is called the "Junior and Sophomore Prize Declamation," at the close of the year. It is twenty-five dollars.

The Thompson Prize for Essays is to be given to the member of the Junior or Senior Classes who shall write and present the best Essay at commencement. It is twenty-five dollars, and is given by the Hon. ALONZO THOMPSON, of Missouri.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

Parents and guardians are informed that daily records are kept of the merit and demerit of each Student, the former denoting the excellencies of each, in his recitations and other College exercises—the latter, the delinquencies and deficiencies of each, in his respective duties. The President will furnish an exhibition of these records in any particular case, when requested by the student or his friends; and in all cases where private admonition has been given without effect, a statement of demerit will be forwarded to the friends of such delinquent scholar. This will be the last step of discipline, preceding the final one of suspension or dismissal. The Faculty are determined that the College shall not be infested, and the whole community embarrassed, and perhaps corrupted, by idle or dissolute members.

FUNDS.

By a resolution of the Board of Trustees, the parent of each minor is expected to name some person in Lebanon as the guardian or patron of his son while in College, with whom his funds shall be deposited, and to whom he shall be accountable for their proper use. All persons are forbidden to trust a minor without the consent of his guardian, and are hereby notified that if they do so they do it at their own risk.

EXAMINATIONS.

Two days at the close of each term will be devoted to examination on the studies pursued during the term. No student will be advanced unless he pass a satisfactory examination. The Examining Committee are solicited to be present at all examinations.

GOVERNMENT.

The discipline of the Institution will be paternal and mild, but firm. An effort will be made to awaken and develop the mental and moral faculties, and thus to secure the true element of progress through life. Transgression of rules and negligence in study may be borne with for a season, when signs of amendment are perceived; but no student will be permitted to remain while acting in open disregard of rule.

Believing that the time appropriated to vacation is ample for relaxation, and having painfully observed the evil effects of absence from recitation, either at the beginning or any other period of the term, upon the standing and proficiency of the student, the Faculty earnestly request parents and guardians not to sanction such absence without very urgent reasons.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

Two Literary Societies—the Philosophian and the Platonian—have been organized, and have already laid the foundation of respectable Libraries.

LIBRARIES.

The Libraries of the College and Literary Societies contain about 7,500 volumes. The College Library is accessible to all the students, according to rules established by the Joint Board. The Libraries belonging to the two Literary Societies are accessible to the members of the Societies, according to rules established by themselves. During the past year a number of volumes have been added to the College Library, and it is hoped that a still larger addition will be made during the present year. The Literary Societies have also greatly increased the number and value of their books, by liberal and well selected purchases.

APPARATUS.

The Apparatus belonging to the College is extensive and well selected, and affords excellent facilities for giving instruction in the Natural Sciences.

TEXT BOOKS.

All the books in the Course of Study are kept at the College, and will be sold to students at the usual prices. A full supply of stationery is also kept on hand for the accommodation of students.

MERIT AND DEMERIT.

A daily record of the merit and demerit of each student is kept, which is read publicly at the close of each term, and then entered permanently upon the College Record.

DEGREES CONFERRED.

The Degree of Bachelor of Arts is conferred only on those who have, in a satisfactory manner, completed the branches embraced in the Collegiate or Classical Course.

The Degree of Bachelor of Science will be conferred on all those who have, in like manner, completed the branches embraced in the Scientific Course.

The Degree of Bachelor of Laws, will be conferred on all who complete, in a satisfactory manner, the course of study prescribed for that department.

The Degree of Master of Arts may be conferred upon any Bachelor of Arts of three years standing, who, during the interval, has sustained a good moral character, and been engaged in some literary, professional, or scientific pursuit. Graduates of longer standing, or from other Colleges, may receive the Master's Degree on the same terms. Application for the Degree should be made to the President of the College at least three months before commencement, and should be accompanied by the fee—five dollars. In case the Degree is not conferred the money will be refunded.

LOCATION.

M'Kendree College is located in Lebanon, twenty-two miles east of St. Louis, on the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, which renders it easily accessible from all points. The situation is healthful, the College grounds are beautiful; the village is small, quiet, retired, and free from the various temptations to idleness and vice found in larger communities.

Further information concerning the College may be obtained from any member of the Southern Illinois Conference, or by correspondence with the Faculty.

In addition to regular recitations, a course of Lectures is delivered each quarter.

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT.

In this department it is the design to give the Student a thorough course of instruction in Book-Keeping by both single and double Entry, a complete drill in mercantile calculations, and a practical knowledge of the forms of bills, notes, and commercial papers generally. Lectures will be given on Mercantile Law, the Functions of money, and the Science of Accounts in general. The text book is Crittenden's Book-Keeping; and Mayhew and Comer will be used for reference.

ELECTIVE STUDIES.

Students wishing to graduate in the Classical or Scientific course, may be allowed to substitute Law for a part of the Mathematical Course after the Sophomore year. Those having the ministry in view, may also substitute Hebrew. In some cases French or German may be substituted. But all substitutions must have the concurrence of the Faculty, and will be subject to an extra charge of $5.00 for tuition each term.

SCHOLARSHIP AND PRIZES.

The Stanton Centenary Scholarship is a centenary donation from the late Thomas Stanton, M. D., of Alton, to the Southern Ill. Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church; and it entitles the holder to Tuition, Incidentals, and Room Rent free of charge for the time of holding it. It is to be given as a Prize "to that young man preparing for the sacred ministry who shall have passed the best examination in the studies of the term next preceding, and who shall be recommended as worthy by the Presiding Elder of the District in the Conference which includes Lebanon." Its cash value is $18.00 per Term.

The Platonian Scholarship is a prize given to the young man who shall during any term best perform all the duties assigned to him in the Platonian Society. It is to be assigned at the close of each term, and to be used for the next succeeding term. It entitles the student holding it to tuition free of charge.

The Parker Prize for Declamation is given by the Rev. and Hon. T. A. Parker, of Missouri, to the one who shall excel in declamation at what is called the "Junior and Sophomore Prize Declamation," at the close of the year. It is twenty-five dollars.

The President's Prize for excellence in Greek will be given to the young man whose standing in Greek shall be found to have been highest for the year. It is twenty dollars.

There will be a Prize given to the member of the Junior or Senior classes, who shall write and present the best essay at Commencement. This may be withheld in case there are not a sufficient number of competitors, or if the committee shall not consider any composition sufficiently meritorious.

THE ATHLETEON.

This is an Association of the Students and Faculty formed for the purpose of building a place for athletic exercises. The building has been erected and partly finished and provided with apparatus, and the members have for a year now been using it and profiting by the exercises. It is under its own officers and rules, managed by a Board of Control, and has been a great source of instruction, pleasure and profit to a large number of the Students. Membership in it is voluntary. The terms of membership are—$20, life member; $10, for two years; $7, for one year; and $3, per term. The friends of the Students are respectfully asked to aid the young men in this, their very laudable enterprise. They have expended about $4,000. Mr. W. F. Ratcliff is the Conductor of exercises.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

Parents and guardians are informed that daily records are kept of the merit and demerit of each Student, the former denoting the excellencies of each, in his recitations and other College exercises—the latter, the delinquencies and deficiencies of each, in his respective duties. The President will furnish an exhibition of these records in any particulur case, when requested by the student or his friends; and in all cases where private admonition has been given without effect, a statement of demerit will be forwarded to the friends of such delinquent scholar. This will be the last step of discipline, preceding the final one of suspension or dismissal. The Faculty are determined that the College shall not be infested, and the whole community embarrassed, and perhaps corrupted, by idle or dissolute members.

FUNDS.

By a resolution of the Board of Trustees, the parent of each minor is expected to name some person in Lebanon as the guardian or patron of his son while in College, with whom his funds shall be deposited, and to whom he shall be accountable for their proper use. All persons are forbidden to trust a minor without the consent of his guardian, and are hereby notified that if they do so they do it at their own risk.

EXAMINATIONS.

Two days at the close of each term will be devoted to examination on the studies pursued during the term. No student will be advanced unless he pass a satisfactory examination. The Examining Committee are solicited to be present at all examinations.

GOVERNMENT.

The discipline of the Institution will be paternal and mild, but firm. An effort will be made to awaken and develop the mental and moral faculties, and thus to secure the true element of progress through life. Transgression of rules and negligence in study may be borne with for a season, when signs of amendment are perceived; but no student will be permitted to remain while acting in open disregard of rule.

Believing that the time appropriated to vacation is ample for relaxation, and having painfully observed the evil effects of absence from recitation, either at the beginning or any other period of the term, upon the standing and proficiency of the student, the faculty earnestly request parents and guardians not to sanction such absence without very urgent reasons.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

Two Literary Societies—the Philosophian and the Platonian—have been organized, and have already laid the foundation of respectable Libraries.

LIBRARIES.

The Libraries of the College and Literary Societies contain about 7,500 volumes. The College Library is accessible to all the students, according to rules established by the Joint Board. The Libraries belonging to the two Literary Societies are accessible to the members of the Societies, according to rules established by themselves. During the past year a number of volumes have been added to the College Library, and it is hoped that a still larger addition will be made during the present year. The Literary Societies have also greatly increased the number and value of their books, by liberal and well selected purchases.

APPARATUS.

The Apparatus belonging to the College is extensive and well selected, and affords excellent facilities for giving instruction in the Natural Sciences.

TEXT BOOKS.

All the books in the Course of Study are kept at the College, and will be sold to students at the usual prices. A full supply of stationery is kept on hand for the accommodation of students.

MERIT AND DEMERIT.

A daily record of the merit and demerit of each student is kept, which is read publicly at the close of each term, and then entered permanently upon the College Record.

DEGREES CONFERRED.

The Degree of Bachelor of Arts is conferred only on those who have, in a satisfactory manner, completed the branches embraced in the Collegiate or Classical Course.

The Degree of Bachelor of Science will be conferred on all those who have, in like manner, completed the branches embraced in the Scientific Course.

The Degree of Bachelor of Laws, will be conferred on all who complete, in a satisfactory manner, the course of study perscribed for that department.

The degree of Master of Arts may be conferred upon any Bachelor of Arts of three years standing, who, during the interval, has sustained a good moral character, and been engaged in some literary, professional, or scientific pursuit. Graduates of longer standing, or from other Colleges, may receive the Master's Degree on the same terms. Application for the Degree should be made to the President of the College at least three months before commencement, and should be accompanied by the fee—ten dollars. In case the Degree is not conferred the money will be refunded.

LOCATION.

M'Kendree College is located in Lebanon, twenty-two miles east of St. Louis, on the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, which renders it easily accessible from all points. The situation is healthful, the College grounds are beautiful; the village is small, quiet, retired, and free from the various temptations to idleness and vice found in larger communities.

Further information concerning the College may be obtained from any member of the Southern Illinois Conference, or by correspondence with the Faculty.

CLASSIFICATION.

The Studies pursued at this College are divided into the following Departments, with a Professor at the head of each:

I.—Mental, Moral, and Social Science.
II.—Mathematics and Astronomy.
III.—Physics and Natural History.
IV.—Greek Language and Literature.
V.—Latin Language and Literature.
VI.—English Literature, Belles Lettres, and Criticism.

The above constitute the Departments of tbe regular course. Provision is also made for instruction, when desired, in—

VII.—Hebrew and Biblical Literature.
VIII.—Modern Languages—French and German.
IX.—Law.
X.—Commercial and Mercantile Science.
XI.—Normal Instruction.

The studies of each department are arranged, as nearly as possible, according to their natural relation and mutual dependence. Those come first in order, a knowledge of which is necessary to a proper understanding of those which follow. Students should not think of skipping over, and taking advanced studies, for which they have not the necessary preparation. This will not be allowed to those pursuing a regular course, except in cases of urgent necessity. But those who have not time or means to graduate in either the Collegiate or Scientific Course, may select and pursue any study taught, at the time, in the College, for which the Faculty may judge them to have the requisite qualifications, subject to all the rules and regulations of the College.

THE NORMAL DEPARTMENT.

The Normal Department is designed for those who are preparing themselves to teach in the public schools. Its course embraces all the studies of the department of English Literature, Mental, Moral, and Social Science; that of Physics and Natural History: and that of Mathematics as far as Trigonometry. In addition, there will be Lectures and Drills in the Theory and Practice of Teaching, on the School Laws of Illinois, and the organization of Schools.

In addition to regular recitations, a course of Lectures is delivered each quarter.

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT.

In this department it is the design to give the Student a thorough course of instruction in Book-Keeping by both single and double Entry, a complete drill in mercantile calculations, and a practical knowledge of the forms of bills, notes, and commercial papers generally. Lectures will be given on Mercantile Law, the Functions of Money, and the Science of Accounts in general. The text book is Crittenden's Book-Keeping; and Mayhew and Comer will be used for reference.

ELECTIVE STUDIES.

Students wishing to graduate in the Classical or Scientific course, may be allowed to substitute Law for a part of the Mathematical Course after the Sophomore year. Those having the ministry in view, may also substitute Hebrew. In some cases French or German may be substituted. But all substitutions must have the concurrence of the Faculty, and will be subject to an extra charge of $5.00 for tuition each term.

SCHOLARSHIP AND PRIZES.

The Stanton Centenary Scholarship is a Centenary donation from the late THOMAS STANTON, M. D., of Alton, to the Southern Illinois Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church; and it entitles the holder to Tuition, Incidentals, and Room Rent free of charge for the time of holding it. It is to be given as a prize "to that young man preparing for the sacred ministry who shall have passed the best examination in the studies of the term next preceding, and who shall be recommended as worthy by the Presiding Elder of the District in the Conference which includes Lebanon." Its cash value is $18 per Term.

The Platonian Scholarship is a prize given to the young man who shall during any term best perform all the duties assigned to him in the Platonian Society. It is to be assigned at the close of each term, and to be used for the next succeeding term. It entitles the student holding it to tuition free of charge.

The Parker Prize for Declamation is given by the Rev. and Hon. T. A. Parker, of Missouri, to the one who shall excel in declamation at what is called the "Junior and Sophomore Prize Declamation," at the close of the year. It is twenty-five dollars.

The President's Prize for excellence in Greek will be given to the young man whose standing in Greek shall be found to have been highest for the year. It is twenty dollars.

There will be a Prize given to the member of the Junior or Senior classes, who shall write and present the best Essay at Commencement. This may be withheld in case there is not a sufficient number of competitors, or if the committee shall not consider any composition sufficiently meritorious.

THE ATHLETEON.

This is an Association of the Students and Faculty formed for the purpose of building a place for athletic exercises. The building has been erected and liberally provided with apparatus sufficient for Light and Heavy Gymnastic exercises. It is under its own officers and rules, managed by a Board of Control, and has been a great source of instruction, pleasure and profit to a large number of Students. Membership in it is voluntary. The terms of membership are—$20, life member; $5, for two years; $3, for one year; and $2, per term. The friends of the Students are respectfully asked to aid the young men in this, their very laudable enterprise. They have expended about $4,000.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

Parents and guardians are informed that daily records are kept of he merit and demerit of each Student, the former denoting the excel- encies of each, in his recitations and other College exercises—the atter, the delinquencies and deficiencies of each, in his respective uties. The President will furnish an exhibition of these records in ny particular case, when requested by the student or his friends; nd in all cases where private admonition has been given without ffect, a statement of demerit will be forwarded to the friends of such elinquent scholar. This will be the last step of discipline, preceding he final one of suspension or dismissal. The Faculty are determined hat the College shall not be infested, and the whole community mbarrassed, and perhaps corrupted, by idle or dissolute members.

FUNDS.

By a resolution of the Board of Trustees, the parent of each minor s expected to name some person in Lebanon as the guardian or atron of his son while in College, with whom his funds shall be eposited, and to whom he shall be accountable for their proper use. ll persons are forbidden to trust a minor without the consent of his uardian, and are hereby notified that if they do so they do it at their wn risk.

EXAMINATIONS.

Two days at the close of each term will be devoted to examination n the studies pursued during the term. No student will be advanced nless he pass a satisfactory examination. The Examining Com- nittee are solicited to be present at all examinations.

GOVERNMENT.

The discipline of the Institution will be paternal and mild, but firm. An effort will be made to awaken and develop the mental and moral faculties, and thus to secure the true element of progress through life. Transgression of rules and negligence in study may be borne with for a season, when signs of amendment are perceived; but no student will be permitted to remain while acting in open disregard of rule.

Believing that the time appropriated to vacation is ample for relaxation, and having painfully observed the evil effects of absence from recitation, either at the beginning or any other period of the term upon the standing and proficiency of the student, the Faculty earnestly request parents and guardians not to sanction such absence without very urgent reasons.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

Three Literary Societies—the Philosophian, the Platonian, and th Clionian—have been organized, and are accomplishing much for th practical training of their members in the methods of transacting public business. They are under rules made by the joint action of th Trustees, the Faculty, and the Societies themselves. These hav respectable Libraries, to which additions have been recently made o great value.

LIBRARIES.

The Libraries of the College and Literary Societies contain abou 7,500 volumes. The College Library is accessible to all the students according to rules established by the Joint Board. The Librarie belonging to the Literary Societies are accessible to the member of the Societies, according to rules established by themselves. Durin the past year a number of volumes have been added to the Colleg Library, and it is hoped that a still larger addition will be made durin the present year. The Literary Societies have also greatly increase the number and value of their books, by liberal and well selecte purchases.

APPARATUS.

The Apparatus belonging to the College is extensive and well elected, and affords excellent facilities for giving instruction in the atural Sciences.

TEXT BOOKS.

All the books in the Course of Study are kept at the College, and ill be sold to students at the usual prices. A full supply of sta-ionery is kept on hand for the accommodation of students.

MERIT AND DEMERIT.

A daily record of the merit and demerit of each student is kept, hich is read publicly at the close of each term, and then entered ermanently upon the College Record.

DEGREES CONFERRED.

The Degree of Bachelor of Arts is conferred only on those who ave, in a satisfactory manner, completed the branches embraced in he Collegiate or Classical Course.

The Degree of Bachelor of Science will be conferred on all those ho have, in like manner, completed the branches embraced in the cientific Course.

The Degree of Bachelor of Laws will be conferred on all who com-lete, in a satisfactory manner, the course of study prescribed for hat department.

The Degree of Master of Arts may be conferred upon any Bachelor f Arts of three years standing, who, during the interval, has sus-ained a good moral character, and been engaged in some literary, rofessional, or scientific pursuit. Graduates of longer standing, or rom other Colleges, may receive the Master's Degree on the same erms. Application for the Degree should be made to the President f the College at least three months before commencement, and hould be accompanied by the fee—ten dollars. In case the Degree s not conferred the money will be refunded.

LOCATION.

M'Kendree College is located in Lebanon, twenty-two miles east of St. Louis, on the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, which renders it easily accessible from all points. The situation is healthful, the College grounds are beautiful; the village is small, quiet, retired, and free from the various temptations to idleness and vice found in larger communities.

Further information concerning the College may be obtained from any member of the Southern Illinois Conference, or by correspondence with the Faculty.

CLASSIFICATION.

The studies pursued at this College are divided into the following departments, with a Professor at the head of each:

I.—Mental, Moral, and Social Science.
II.—Mathematics and Astronomy.
III.—Physics and Natural History.
IV.—Greek Language and Literature.
V.—Latin Language and Literature.
VI.—English Literature, Belles Lettres, and Criticism.

The above constitute the Departments of the regular course. Provision is also made for instruction, when desired, in—

VII.—Hebrew and Biblical Literature.
VIII.—Modern Languages—French and German.
IX.—Law.
X.—Commercial and Mercantile Science.
XI.—Normal Instruction.

The studies of each department are arranged, as nearly as possible, according to their natural relation and mutual dependence. Those come first in order, a knowledge of which is necessary to a proper understanding of those which follow. Students should not think of skipping over, and taking advanced studies, for which they have not the necessary preparation. This will not be allowed to those pursuing a regular course, except in cases of urgent necessity. But those who have not time or means to graduate in either the Collegiate or Scientific Course, may select and pursue any study taught, at the time, in the College, for which the Faculty may judge them to have the requisite qualifications, subject to all the rules and regulations of the College.

THE NORMAL DEPARTMENT.

The Normal Department is designed for those who are preparing themselves to teach in the public schools. Its course embraces all the studies of the department of English Literature, Mental, Moral, and Social Science; that of Physics and Natural History; and that of Mathematics as far as Trigonometry. In addition, there will be Lectures and Drills in the Theory and Practice of Teaching, on the School Laws of Illinois, and the Organization of Schools.

The following books are recommended for reference in the Department of Languages:

Kuhner's and Buttman's Greek Grammars, Zumpt's and Madvig's Latin Grammars, Arnold's History of Rome, Mommsen's Rome, Grote's History of Greece, Brown's History of Grecian and Roman Classical Literature, Smith's Classical Dictionary and Smith's Antiquities, Fiske's Manual of Classical Literature, Long's Classical Atlas, Liddell and Scott's Greek Lexicon, Andrews' Latin Lexicon, Crucius' Homeric Lexicon, Sophocles' Greek Verbs, Doederlein's Latin Synonyms, Adler's German Lexicon, Craike's English Literature, Marsh's English Language, Marsh's Man and Nature.

MISCELLANEOUS.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class must be fourteen years of age, and will be examined in the following branches, or their equivalents, which, for the convenience of those who pursue their preparatory studies at this Institution, we arrange below into a two year's course. Candidates for advanced standing will be examined in the studies which have been pursued by the class which they propose to enter, or in others equivalent to them. In all cases satisfactory testimonials of good moral character must be presented; and when one has been a member of another College, a certificate of regular dismission will be required.

Candidates for the Scientific Course will be subject to similar examinations and requirements, except in the languages.

PREPARATORY COURSE.

FIRST YEAR.

FIRST TERM—First Book in Latin; Arithmetic, Robinson; Geography, Warren.

SECOND TERM—First Book in Greek; Latin Reader; Arithmetic, Robinson.

SECOND YEAR.

FIRST TERM — Greek Reader and Hadley's Greek Grammar; Cæsar, or Sallust; Latin Grammar continued; English Grammar, Clark.

Second Term—Reading and Oratory, Sanders and Kidd; Arithmetic, Greenleaf; English Grammar, Green's Analysis.

Third Term—Elementary Algebra, Loomis; Warren's Physical Geography; Green's Analysis; Arithmetic, Greenleaf.

Students in either of the Preparatory Departments will be required to attend to duties assigned them weekly in Composition and Declamation.

TEXT BOOKS IN HEBREW.

Grammar, Conant's Gesenius; Hebrew Bible, Hahn's; Lexicon, Robinson's Gesenius.

TEXT BOOKS IN GERMAN.

Woodbury's Method; German Reader; Worman's Grammar; Comfort's German Course; Berliner Echo.

LAW DEPARTMENT.

At a meeting of the Joint Board, in June, 1860, the Faculty were authorized to open a Law Department, and make provisions to meet the wants of the students in regard to law studies. That Department has been opened, and is now in successful operation. It is under the care and instruction of one who will call others to assist him, as occasion may require.

When the following course of studies has been completed, in a satisfactory manner, the Degree of Bachelor of Laws, if desired, will be conferred.

COURSE OF LAW STUDIES.

First Year—Blackstone's Commentaries; Kent's Commentaries; Chitty on Contracts; Gould's Pleading; Greenleaf's Evidence.

This list will be enlarged as occasion requires.

Second Year.—Blackstone's Commentaries; Kent's Commentaries; Chitty on Contracts; Gould's Pleading; Stephen's Pleading; Chitty's Pleading; Story on Bills; Story on Partnerships; Story on Agency; Story on Bailments; Angel on Limitations; Story's Equity Pleading and Jurisprudence; Greenleaf's Evidence; Angel and Ames on Corporation; Browne on Action at law; Mansel on Demurrer; Burton on Real Property; Curtis' Forms; Rawle on Covenants of Title.

In addition to regular recitations, a course of Lectures is delivered each quarter.

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT.

In this department it is the design to give the Student a thorough course of instruction in Book-Keeping by both Single and Double Entry, a complete drill in mercantile calculations, and a practical knowledge of the forms of bills, notes, and commercial papers generally. Lectures will be given on Mercantile Law, the functions of Money, and the Science of Accounts in general. The text-book is Crittenden's Book-Keeping; and Mayhew and Comer will be used for reference.

ELECTIVE STUDIES.

Students wishing to graduate in the Classical or Scientific course may be allowed to substitute Law for a part of the Mathematical Course after the Sophomore year. Those having the ministry in view may also substitute Hebrew. In some cases French or German may be substituted. But all substitutions must have the concurrence of the Faculty, and will be subject to an extra charge of $5.00 for tuition each term.

SCHOLARSHIP AND PRIZES.

The Stanton Centenary Scholarship is a Centenary donation from the late THOMAS STANTON, M.D., of Alton, to the Southern Illinois Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church; and it entitles the holder to Tuition, Incidentals, and Room Rent, free of charge for the time of holding it. It is to be given as a prize "to that young man preparing for the sacred ministry who shall have passed the best examination in the studies of the term next preceding, and who shall be recommended as worthy by the Presiding Elder of the District in the Conference which includes Lebanon." Its cash value is $18 per Term.

The Platonian Scholarship is a prize given to the young man who shall, during any term, best perform all the duties assigned to him in the Platonian Society. It is to be assigned at the close of each term, and to be used for the next succeeding term. It entitles the student holding it to tuition free of charge.

The Citizens' Prize for Declamation is given to the one who shall excel in declamation at what is called the "Junior and Sophomore Prize Declamation," at the close of the year. It is twenty-five dollars.

There will be a Prize given to the member of the Junior or Senior classes who shall write and present the best Essay at Commencement. This may be withheld in case there is not a sufficient number of competitors, or if the committee shall not consider any composition sufficiently meritorious. It is twenty-five dollars.

THE ATHLETEON.

This is an Association of the Students and Faculty, formed for the purpose of building a place for athletic exercises. The building has been erected and liberally provided with apparatus sufficient for Light and Heavy Gymnastic exercises. It is under its own officers and rules, managed by a Board of Control, and has been a great source of instruction, pleasure and profit to a large number of Students. Membership in it is voluntary. The terms of membership are—$20, life member; $5 for two years; $3 for one year; and $2 per term. The friends of the Students are respectfully asked to aid the young men in this, their very laudable enterprise. They have expended about $4,000.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

Parents and guardians are informed that daily records are kept of the merit and demerit of each Student, the former denoting the excellencies of each, in his recitations and other College exercises—the latter, the delinquencies and deficiencies of each, in his respective duties. The President will furnish an exhibition of these records in any particular case, when requested by the Student or his friends; and in all cases where private admonition has been given without effect, a statement of demerit will be forwarded to the friends of such delinquent scholar. This will be the last step of discipline preceding the final one of suspension or dismissal. The Faculty are determined that the College shall not be infested, and the whole community embarrassed, and perhaps corrupted, by idle or dissolute members.

FUNDS.

By a resolution of the Board of Trustees, the parent of each minor is expected to name some person in Lebanon as the guardian or patron of his son while in College, with whom his funds shall be deposited, and to whom he shall be accountable for their proper use. All persons are forbidden to trust a minor without the consent of his guardian, and are hereby notified that if they do so they do it at their own risk.

EXAMINATIONS.

Two days at the close of each term will be devoted to examination on the studies pursued during the term. No student will be advanced unless he pass a satisfactory examination. The Examining Committee are solicited to be present at all examinations.

GOVERNMENT.

The discipline of the Institution will be paternal and mild, but firm. An effort will be made to awaken and develop the mental and moral faculties, and thus to secure the true element of progress through life. Transgression of rules and negligence in study may be borne with for a season, when signs of amendment are perceived; but no Student will be permitted to remain while acting in open disregard of rule.

Believing that the time appropriated to vacation is ample for relaxation, and having painfully observed the evil effects of absence from recitation, either at the beginning or any other period of the term, upon the standing and proficiency of the Student, the Faculty earnestly request parents and guardians not to sanction such absence without very urgent reasons.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

Three Literary Societies—the Philosophian, the Platonian, and the Clionian—have been organized, and are accomplishing much for the practical training of their members in the methods of transacting public business. They are under rules made by the joint action of the Trustees, the Faculty, and the Societies themselves. These have respectable Libraries, to which additions have been recently made of great value.

LIBRARIES.

The Libraries of the College and Literary Societies contain about 7,500 volumes. The College Library is accessible to all the Students, according to rules established by the Joint Board. The Libraries belonging to the Literary Societies are accessible to the members of the Societies, according to rules established by themselves. During the past year a number of volumes have been added to the College Library, and it is hoped that a still larger addition will be made during the present year. The Literary Societies have also greatly increased the number and value of their books, by liberal and well selected purchases.

APPARATUS.

The Apparatus belonging to the College is extensive and well selected, and affords excellent facilities for giving instruction in the Natural Sciences.

TEXT BOOKS.

All the books in the Course of Study are kept at the College, and will be sold to students at the usual prices. A full supply of stationery is kept on hand for the accommodation of students.

MERIT AND DEMERIT.

A daily record of the merit and demerit of each student is kept, which is read publicly at the close of each term, and then entered permanently upon the College Record.

DEGREES CONFERRED

The Degree of Bachelor of Arts is conferred only on those who have, in a satisfactory manner, completed the branches embraced in the Collegiate or Classical Course.

The Degree of Bachelor of Science will be conferred on all those who have, in like manner, completed the branches embraced in the Scientific Course.

The Degree of Bachelor of Laws will be conferred on all who complete, in a satisfactory manner, the course of study prescribed for that department.

The Degree of Master of Arts may be conferred upon any Bachelor of Arts of three years standing, who, during the interval, has sustained a good moral character, and been engaged in some literary, professional, or scientific pursuit. Graduates of longer standing, or from other Colleges, may receive the Master's Degree on the same terms. Application for the Degree should be made to the President of the College at least three months before commencement, and should be accompanied by the fee—ten dollars. In case the Degree is not conferred the money will be refunded.

LOCATION.

M'KENDREE COLLEGE is located in Lebanon, twenty-two miles east of St. Louis, on the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, which renders it easily accessible from all points. The situation is healthful, the College grounds are beautiful; the village is small, quiet, retired, and free from the various temptations to idleness and vice found in larger communities.

Further information concerning the College may be obtained from any member of the Southern Illinois Conference, or by correspondence with the Faculty.

CLASSIFICATION.

The studies pursued at this College are divided into the following departments, with a Professor at the head of each:

I.—Mental, Moral, and Social Science.
II.—Mathematics and Astronomy.
III.—Physics and Natural History.
IV.—Greek Language and Literature.
V.—Latin Language and Literature.
VI.—English Literature, Belles Lettres, and Criticism.

The above constitute the Departments of the regular course. Provision is also made for instruction, when desired, in—

VII.—Hebrew and Biblical Literature.
VIII.—Modern Languages—French and German.
IX.—Law.
X.—Commercial and Mercantile Science.
XI.—Normal Instruction.

The studies of each department are arranged, as nearly as possible, according to their natural relation and mutual dependence. Those come first in order, a knowledge of which is necessary to a proper understanding of those which follow. Students should not think of skipping over and taking advanced studies, for which they have not the necessary preparation. This will not be allowed to those pursuing the regular course, except in cases of urgent necessity. But those who have not time or means to graduate in either the Collegiate or Scientific Course, may select and pursue any study taught, at the time, in the College, for which the Faculty may judge them to have the necessary qualifications, subject to all the rules and regulations of the College.

THE NORMAL DEPARTMENT.

The Normal Department is designed for those who are preparing themselves to teach in the public schools. Its course embraces all the studies of the department of English Literature, Mental, Moral and Social Science; that of Physics and Natural History; and that of Mathematics as far as Trigonometry. In addition, there will be Lectures and Drills in the Theory and Practice of Teaching, on the School Laws of Illinois, and the Organization of Schools.

MISCELLANEOUS.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class must be fourteen years of age, and will be examined in the following branches, or their equivalents, which, for the convenience of those who pursue their preparatory studies at this Institution, we arrange below into a two year's course. Candidates for advanced standing will be examined in the studies which have been pursued by the class which they propose to enter, or in others equivalent to them. In all cases satisfactory testimonials of good moral character must be presented; and when one has been a member of another College, a certificate of regular dismission will be required.

Candidates for the Scientific Course will be subject to similar examination and requirements, except in the languages.

PREPARATORY COURSE.

FIRST YEAR.

First Term—First Book in Latin; Arithmetic, Robinson; Geography, Warren.

Second Term—First Book in Greek; Latin Reader; Arithmetic, Robinson.

SECOND YEAR.

First Term—Greek Reader and Hadley's Greek Grammar; Cæsar, or Sallust; Latin Grammar continued; English Grammar, Clark.

SCIENTIFIC PREPARATORY COURSE.

First Term—Geography, Warren; Arithmetic, Robinson; English Grammar, Clark; Steel's Astronomy.

Second Term—Reading and Oratory, Sanders and Kidd; Arithmetic, Robinson; English Grammar, Green's Analysis.

Third Term—Elementary Algebra, Robinson; Warren's Physical Geography; Green's Analysis; Arithmetic, Robinson.

Students in either of the Preparatory Departments will be required to attend to duties assigned them weekly in Composition and Declamation.

TEXT BOOKS IN HEBREW.

TEXT BOOKS IN GERMAN.

Woodbury's method; German Reader; Worman's Grammar; Comfort's German Course; Berliner Echo; Schiller's William Tell.

LAW DEPARTMENT.

At a meeting of the Joint Board, in June, 1860, the Faculty were authorized to open a Law Department, and make provision to meet the wants of the students in regard to law studies. That Department has been opened, and is now in successful operation. It is under the care and instruction of one who will call others to assist him, as occasion may require.

When the following course of studies has been completed, in a satisfactory manner, the Degree of Bachelor of Laws, if desired, will be conferred.

COURSE OF LAW STUDIES.

First Year—Blackstone's Commentaries; Kent's Commentaries; Chitty on Contracts; Gould's Pleading; Greenleaf's Evidence.

This list will be enlarged as occasion requires.

Second Year—Blackstone's Commentaries; Kent's Commentaries; Chitty on Contracts: Gould's Pleading; Stephen's Pleading; Chitty's Pleading; Story on Bills; Story on Partnerships; Story on Agency; Story on Bailments; Angel on Limitations; Story's Equity Pleading and Jurisprudence; Greenleaf's Evidence; Angel and Ames on Corporation; Browne on Action at law; Mansel on Demurrer; Burton on Real Property; Curtis' Forms; Rawle on Covenants of Title.

In addition to regular recitations, a course of Lectures is delivered each quarter.

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT.

In this department it is the design to give the Student a thorough course of instruction in Book-Keeping by both Single and Double Entry, a complete drill in mercantile calculations, and a practical knowledge of the forms of bills, notes, and commercial papers, generally. Lectures will be given on Mercantile Law, the functions of Money, and the Science of Accounts in general. The text-book is Crittenden's Book-Keeping; and Mahew and Comer will be used for reference.

ELECTIVE STUDIES.

Students wishing to graduate in the Classical or Scientific course may be allowed to substitute Law for a part of the Mathematical Course after the Sophomore year. Those having the ministry in view may also substitute Hebrew. In some cases French or German may be substituted. But all substitutions must have the concurrence of the Faculty, and will be subject to an extra charge of $5.00 for tuition each term.

SCHOLARSHIP AND PRIZES.

The Stanton Centenary Scholarship is a Centenary donation from the late THOMAS STANTON, M.D., of Alton, to the Southern Illinois Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church; and it entitles the holder to Tuition, Incidentals and Room Rent, free of charge for the time of holding it. It is to be given as a prize "to that young man preparing for the sacred ministry who shall have passed the best examination in the studies of the term next preceding, and who shall be recommended as worthy by the Presiding Elder of the District in the Conference which includes Lebanon." Its cash value is $18 per term.

The Platonian Scholarship is a prize given to the young man who shall, during any term, best perform all the duties assigned to him in the Platonian Society. It is to be assigned at the close of each term, and to be used for the next succeeding term. It entitles the student holding it to tuition free of charge.

The Citizens' Prize for Declamation is given to the one who shall excel in declamation at what is called the "Junior and Sophomore Prize Declamation," at the close of the year. It is twenty-five dollars. There is a prize for the Ladies to the one who shall excel in Reading. This is likewise twenty-five dollars.

There will be a Prize given to the member of the Junior or Senior classes who shall write and present the best Essay at Commencement. This may be withheld in case there is not a sufficient number of competitors, or if the committee shall not consider any composition sufficiently meritorious. It is twenty-five dollars.

THE ATHLETEON.

This is an Association of the Students and Faculty, formed for the purpose of building a place for athletic exercises. The building has been erected and liberally provided with apparatus sufficient for Light and Heavy Gymnastic exercises. It is under its own officers and rules, managed by a Board of Control, and has been a great source of instruction, pleasure and profit to a large number of Students. Membership in it is voluntary. The terms of membership are—$20, life member; $5 for two years; $3 for one year; and $2 per term. The friends of the Students are respectfully asked to aid the young men in this, their very laudable enterprise. They have expended about $4,000.

EXPENSES.

All College bills must be paid in advance.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

Parents and guardians are informed that daily records are kept of the merit and demerit of each Student, the former denoting the excellencies of each, in his recitations and other College exercises—the latter, the delinquencies, and deficiencies of each, in his respective duties. The President will furnish an exhibition of these records in any particular case, when requested by the Student or his friends; and in all cases where private admonition has been given without effect, a statement of demerit will be forwarded to the friends of such delinquent scholar. This will be the last step of discipline preceding the final one of suspension or dismissal. The Faculty are determined that the College shall not be infested, and the whole community embarrassed, and perhaps corrupted, by idle or dissolute members.

FUNDS.

By a resolution of the Board of Trustees, the parent of each minor is expected to name some person in Lebanon as the guardian or patron of his son while in College, with whom his funds shall be deposited, and to whom he shall be accountable for their proper use. All persons are forbidden to trust a minor without the consent of his guardian, and are hereby notified that if they do so they do it at their own risk.

EXAMINATIONS.

Two days at the close of each term will be devoted to examination on the studies pursued during the term. No student will be advanced unless he pass a satisfactory examination. The Examining Committee are solicited to be present at all examinations.

GOVERNMENT.

The discipline of the Institution will be paternal and mild, but firm. An effort will be made to awaken and develop the mental and moral faculties, and thus to secure the true element of progress through life. Transgression of rules and negligence in study may be borne with for a season, when signs of amendment are perceived; but no Student will be permitted to remain while acting in open disregard of rule.

Believing that the time appropriated to vacation is ample for relaxation, and having painfully observed the evil effects of absence from recitation, either at the beginning or any other period of the term, upon the standing and proficiency of the Student, the Faculty earnestly request parents and guardians not to sanction such absence without very urgent reasons.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

Three Literary Societies—the Philosophian, the Platonian, and the Clionian—have been organized, and are accomplishing much for the practical training of their members in the methods of transacting public business. They are under rules made by the joint action of the Trustees, the Faculty, and the Societies themselves. These have respectable Libraries, to which additions have been recently made of great value.

LIBRARIES.

The Libraries of the College and Literary Societies contain about 7,500 volumes. The College Library is accessible to all the Students, according to rules established by the Joint Board. The Libraries belonging to the Literary Societies are accessible to the members of the Societies, according to rules established by themselves. During the past year a number of volumes have been added to the College Library, and it is hoped that a still larger addition will be made during the present year. The Literary Societies have also greatly increased the number and value of their books, by liberal and well selected purchases.

APPARATUS.

The Apparatus belonging to the College is extensive and well selected, and affords excellent facilities for giving instruction in the Natural Sciences.

TEXT BOOKS.

All the books in the Course of Study are kept at the College, and will be sold to students at the usual prices. A full supply of stationery is kept on hand for the accommodation of students.

MERIT AND DEMERIT.

A daily record of the merit and demerit of each student is kept, which is read publicly at the close of each term, and then entered permanently upon the College Record.

DEGREES CONFERRED.

The Degree of Bachelor of Arts is conferred only on those who have, in a satisfactory manner, completed the branches embraced in the Collegiate or Classical Course.

The Degree of Bachelor of Science will be conferred on all those who have, in like manner, completed the branches embraced in the Scientific Course.

The Degree of Bachelor of Laws will be conferred on all who complete, in a satisfactory manner, the course of study prescribed for that department.

The Degree of Master of Arts may be conferred on any Bachelor of Arts of three years standing, who, during the interval, has sustained a good moral character, and been engaged in some literary, professional, or scientific pursuit. Graduates of longer standing, or from other Colleges, may receive the Master's Degree on the same terms. Application for the Degree should be made to the President of the College at least three months before commencement, and should be accompanied by the fee—ten dollars. In case the Degree is not conferred the money will be refunded.

LOCATION.

M'KENDREE COLLEGE is located in Lebanon, twenty-two miles east of St. Louis, on the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, which renders it easily accessible from all points. The situation is healthful, the College grounds are beautiful; the village is small, quiet, retired, and free from the various temptations to idleness and vice found in larger communities.

Further information concerning the College may be obtained from any member of the Southern Illinois Conference, or by correspondence with the faculty.

CLASSIFICATION.

The studies pursued at this College are divided into the following departments, with a Professor at the head of each:

I.—Mental, Moral, and Social Science.
II.—Mathematics and Astronomy.
III.—Physics and Natural History.
IV.—Greek Language and Literature.
V.—Latin Language and Literature.
VI.—English Literature, Belles Lettres, and Criticism.

The above constitute the Departments of the regular course. Provision is also made for instruction, when desired, in—

VII.—Hebrew and Biblical Literature.
VIII.—Modern Languages—French and German.
IX.—Law.
X.—Commercial and Mercantile Science.
XI.—Normal Instruction.

The studies of each department are arranged, as nearly as possible, according to their natural relation and mutual dependence. Those come first in order, a knowledge of which is necessary to a proper understanding of those which follow. Students should not think of skipping over and taking advanced studies, for which they have not the necessary preparation. This will not be allowed to those pursuing the regular course, except in cases of urgent necessity. But those who have not time or means to graduate in either the Collegiate or Scientific Course, may select and pursue any study taught, at the time, in the College, for which the Faculty may judge them to have the necessary qualifications, subject to all the rules and regulations of the College.

THE NORMAL DEPARTMENT.

The Normal Department is designed for those who are preparing themselves to teach in the public schools. Its course embraces all the studies of the department of English Literature, Mental, Moral, and Social Science; that of Physics and Natural History; and that of Mathematics as far a Trigonometry. In addition, there will be Lectures and Drills in the Theory and Practice of Teaching, on the School Laws of Illinois, and the Organization of Schools.

COURSE FOR BACHELOR OF SCIENCE.

For this Degree, all the studies in the catalogue, except the languages, are required.

REFERENCE BOOKS.

The following books are recommended for reference in the Department of the Languages:

Kuhner's and Buttman's Greek Grammars, Zumpt's and Madvig's Latin Grammars, Arnold's History of Rome, Mommsen's Rome, Grote's History of Greece, Brown's History of Grecian and Roman Classical Literature, Smith's Classical Dictionary and Smith's Antiquities, Fiske's Manual of Classical Literature, Long's Classical Atlas, Liddle and Scott's Greek Lexicon, Andrews' Latin Lexicon, Crucius' Homeric Lexicon, Sophocles' Greek Verbs, Doederlein's Latin Synonyms, Adler's German Lexicon, Craike's English Literature, Marsh's English Language, Marsh's Man and Nature.

MISCELLANEOUS.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class must be fourteen years of age, and will be examined in the following branches, or their equivalents, which, for the convenience of those who pursue their preparatory studies at this Institution, we arrange below into a two year's course. Candidates for advanced standing will be examined in the studies which have been pursued by the class which they propose to enter, or in others equivalent to them. In all cases satisfactory testimonials of good moral character must be presented; and when one has been a member of another College a certificate of regular dismission will be required.

Candidates for the Scientific Course will be subject to similar examinations and requirements, except in the languages.

PREPARATORY COURSE.

FIRST YEAR.

First Term—First Book in Latin; Arithmetic, Robinson; Geography, Warren.

Second Term—First Book in Greek; Latin Reader; Arithmetic, Robinson.

Third Term—Arithmetic, Robinson; First Book in Greek; Arnold's Greek Reader; Harkness' Latin Grammar; Cæsar.

Second Term—Reading and Oratory, Sanders and Kidd; Arithmetic, Robinson; English Grammar, Green's Analysis.

Third Term—Elementary Algebra, Robinson; Warren's Physical Geography; Green's Analysis; Arithmetic, Robinson.

Students in either of the Preparatory Departments will be required to attend to duties assigned them weekly in Composition and Declamation.

TEXT BOOKS IN HEBREW.

TEXT BOOKS IN GERMAN.

Comfort's German Course; German Reader; Berliner Echo; Schiller's William Tell; Gœthe's Egmont.

LAW DEPARTMENT.

At a meeting of the Joint Board, in June, 1860, the Faculty were authorized to open a Law Department, and make provision to meet the wants of the students in regard to law studies. That Department has been opened, and is now in successful operation. It is under the care and instruction of one who will call others to assist him, as occasion may require.

When the following course of studies has been completed, in a satisfactory manner, the Degree of Bachelor of Laws, if desired, will be conferred.

COURSE OF LAW STUDIES.

First Year—Blackstones's Commentaries; Kent's Commentaries; Chitty on Contracts; Gould's Pleading; Greenleaf's Evidence.

This list will be enlarged as occasion requires.

Second Year—Blackstone's Commentaries; Kent's Commentaries; Chitty on Contracts; Gould's Pleading; Stephen's Pleading; Chitty's Pleading; Story on Bills; Story on Partnerships; Story on Agency; Story on Bailments; Angel on Limitations; Story's Equity Pleading and Jurisprudence; Greenleaf's Evidence; Angel and Ames on Corporation; Browne on Action at Law; Mansel on Demurrer; Burton on Real Property; Curtis' Forms; Rawle on Covenants of Title.

In addition to regular recitations, a course of Lectures is delivered each quarter.

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT.

In this department it is the design to give the Student a thorough course of instruction in Book-Keeping by both Single and Double Entry, a complete drill in mercantile calculations, and a practical knowledge of the forms of bills, notes, and commercial papers, generally. Lectures will be given on Mercantile Law, the Functions of Money, and the Science of Accounts in general. The text-book is Crittenden's Book-Keeping; and Mahew and Comer will be used for reference.

ELECTIVE STUDIES.

Students wishing to graduate in the Classical or Scientific course may be allowed to substitute Law for a part of the Mathematical course after the Sophomore year. Those having the ministry in view may also substitute Hebrew. In some cases French or German may be substituted. But all substitutions must have the concurrence of the Faculty, and will be subject to an extra charge of $5.00 for tuition each term.

SCHOLARSHIP AND PRIZES.

The Stanton Centenary Scholarship is a Centenary donation from the late THOMAS STANTON, M.D., of Alton, to the Southern Illinois Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church; and it entitles the holder to Tuition, Incidentals and Room Rent, free of charge for the time of holding it. It is to be given as a prize "to that young man preparing for the sacred ministry who shall have passed the best examination in the studies of the term next preceding, and who shall be recommended as worthy by the Presiding Elder of the District in the Conference which includes Lebanon." Its cash value is $18 per term.

The Platonian Scholarship is a prize given to the young man who shall, during any term, best perform all the duties assigned to him in the Platonian Society. It is to be assigned at the close of each term, and to be used for the next succeeding term. It entitles the student holding it to tuition free of charge.

The Citizens' Prize for Declamation is given to the one who shall excel in declamation at what is called the "Junior and Sophomore Prize Declamation," at the close of the year. It is twenty-five dollars. There is a prize for the Ladies to the one who shall excel in Reading. This is likewise twenty-five dollars.

There will be a Prize given to the member of the Junior or Senior classes who shall write and present the best Essay at Commencement. This may be withheld in case there is not a sufficient number of competitors, or if the committee shall not consider any composition sufficiently meritorious. It is twenty-five dollars.

THE ATHLETEON.

This is an Association of the Students and Faculty, formed for the purpose of building a place for athletic exercises. The building has been erected and liberally provided with apparatus sufficient for Light and Heavy Gymnastic exercises. It is under its own officers and rules, managed by a Board of Control, and has been a great source of instruction, pleasure and profit to a large number of Students. Membership in it is voluntary. The terms of membership are—$20, life member; $5, for two years; $3, for one year; and $2 per term. The friends of the Students are respectfully asked to aid the young men in this, their very laudable enterprise. They have expended about $4,000.

EXPENSES.

All College bills must be paid in advance.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

Parents and guardians are informed that daily records are kept of the merit and demerit of each Student, the former denoting the excellencies of each, in his recitations and other College exercises—the latter, the delinquencies, and deficiencies of each, in his respective duties. The President will furnish an exhibition of these records in any particular case, when requested by the Student or his friends; and in all cases where private admonition has been given without effect, a statement of demerit will be forwarded to the friends of such delinquent scholar. This will be the last step of discipline preceding the final one of suspension or dismissal. The Faculty are determined that the College shall not be infested, and the whole community embarrassed, and perhaps corrupted, by idle or dissolute members.

FUNDS.

By a resolution of the Board of Trustees, the parents of each minor is expected to name some person in Lebanon as the guardian or patron of his son while in College, with whom his funds shall be deposited, and to whom he shall he accountable for their proper use. All persons are forbidden to trust a minor without the consent of his guardian, and are hereby notified that if they do so they do it at their own risk.

EXAMINATIONS.

Two days at the close of each term will be devoted to examination on the studies pursued during the term. No student will be advanced unless he pass a satisfactory examination. The Examining Committee are solicited to be present at all examinations.

GOVERNMENT.

The discipline of the Institution will be paternal and mild, but firm. An effort will be made to awaken and develope the mental and moral faculties, and thus to secure the true element of progress through life. Transgression of rules and negligence in study may be borne with for a season, when signs of amendment are perceived; but no Student will be permitted to remain while acting in open disregard of these rules.

Believing that the time appropriated to vacation is ample for relaxation, and having painfully observed the evil effects of absence from recitation, either at the begining or any other period of the term, upon the standing and proficiency of the Student, the Faculty earnestly request parents and guardians not to sanction such absence without very urgent reasons.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

Three Literary Societies—the Pholosophian, the Platonian, and the Clionian—have been organized, and are accomplishing much for the practical training of their members in the methods of transacting public business. They are under rules made by the joint action of the Trustees, the Faculty, and the Societies themselves. These have respectable Libraries, to which additions have been recently made of great value.

LIBRARIES.

The Libraries of the College and Literary Societies contain about 7,500 volumes. The College Library is accessible to all the Students, according to rules established by the Joint Board. The Libraries belonging to the Literary Societies are accessible to the members of the Societies, according to rules established by themselves. During the past year a number of volumes have been added to the College Library, and it is hoped that a still larger addition will be made during the present year. The Literary Societies have also greatly increased the number and value of their books, by liberal and well selected purchases.

APPARATUS.

The Apparatus belonging to the College is extensive and well selected, and affords excellent facilities for giving instruction in the Natural Sciences.

TEXT BOOKS.

All the books in the Course of Study are kept at the College, and will be sold to students at the usual prices. A full supply of stationery is kept on hand for the accommodation of students.

MERIT AND DEMERIT.

A daily record of the merit and demerit of each student is kept, which is read publicly at the close of each term, and then entered permanently upon the College Record.

DEGREES CONFERRED.

The degree of Bachelor of Arts is conferred only on those who have, in a satisfactory manner, completed the branches embraced in the Collegiate or Classical Course.

The degree of Bachelor of Science will be conferred on all those who have, in like manner, completed the branches embraced in the Scientific Course.

The degree of Bachelor of Laws will be conferred on all who complete, in a satisfactory manner, the course of study prescribed for that department.

The degree of Master of Arts may be conferred on any Bachelor of Arts of three years standing, who, during the interval, has sustained a good moral character, and been engaged in some literary, professional, or scientific pursuit. Graduates of longer standing, or from other Colleges, may receive the Master's Degree on the same terms. Application for the Degree should be made to the President of the College at least three months before commencement, and should be accompanied by the fee—ten dollars. In case the Degree is not conferred the money will be refunded.

LOCATION.

M'KENDREE COLLEGE is located in Lebanon, twenty-two miles east of St. Louis, on the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, which renders it easily accessible from all points. The situation is healthful, the College grounds are beautiful; the village is small, quiet, retired and free from the various temptations to idleness and vice found in larger communities.

Further information concerning the College may be obtained from any member of the Southern Illinois Conference, or by correspondence with the Faculty.

PROFESSORSHIPS.

The Studies in the preceding Course are distributed among the following Professorships:

I.

MENTAL AND MORAL SCIENCE.

REV. JOHN W. LOCKE, D. D.

The Instruction in this Department contemplates a thorough examination of the text-books, free discussion in the recitation-room, and written essays upon the topics studied, with lectures from the professor.

II.

MATHEMATICS AND ASTRONOMY.

REV. OLIVER V. JONES, A. M.

The course in this Department extends through a period of four years.

FRESHMAN YEAR.

First Term,	Algebra	Robinson.
Second Term	Algebra and Geometry	Robinson.
Third Term	Geometry	Robinson.

SOPHOMORE YEAR.

First Term	Trignometry	Loomis.
Second Term	Analytical Geometry	Loomis.

JUNIOR YEAR.

First Term	Calculus	Loomis.
Third Term	Mechanics	Peck.

SENIOR YEAR.

Third Term	Astronomy	Loomis.

During the course lectures will be delivered on the History and Utility of Mathematics and Astronomy.

Exercises in the field will be given in Mensuration and Surveying.

An effort will be made to render the branches pursued in this Department not only disciplinary to the mind but of practical utility to the Student.

III.

LATIN LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE.

PROF. SAMUEL H. DENEEN, A. M.

This Department aims to familiarize the student with the forms, structure and idioms of the Latin Language; with the laws of the different forms of poetical and prose composition; with the style and characteristics of the best Roman authors; with the historical periods to which the several writers read belong; and with Roman life and civilization as illustrated thereby.

In addition to the daily drill and analysis of words and sentences, written translations are required from English into Latin, and from Latin into English; and attention is continually called to the words in our language derived from the Latin, and to the influence and imitation of Roman authors to be traced in our own literature.

The authors read are: HISTORIANS—Cæsar, Sallust, Livy and Tacitus. POETS—Virgil, Horace, Ovid and Juvenal. DRAMATISTS—Plautus or Terence; and the ORATIONS and MORAL and PHILOSOPHICAL WORKS of Cicero.

IV.

GREEK LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE.

REV. WILLIAM F. SWAHLEN, A. M.

The studies in this department aim first at affording the student a means for the discipline and development of his faculties, which shall serve as a basis for subsequent special studies; and secondly, at making him master of the principles and structure of the language, as well as familiar with the standard authors, and the literature of the various periods.

In the earlier part of the course, the Etymology and Syntax receive special attention—stress being laid on the written exercises, from English into Greek; as the student advances, the Mythology, History and Antiquities are progressively introduced, and written translations from Greek into English receive due attention. Essays are also regularly required on the different authors and their characteristics.

The course embraces two terms of Poetry, two of History, one each of Philosophy, Tragedy, Comedy, Oratory and Greek Testament.

V.

GERMAN LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE.

REV. WILLIAM F. SWAHLEN, A. M.

Until quite recently, this study was optional; but the joint Board at its annual session in 1874, wisely resolved to make a two years' course obligatory on candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Science. We hope this is but the beginning of better things, and that the time is not far distant, when the course shall be so enlarged as to enable students to become still better acquainted with the rich literature of this, "the most cultivated of modern tongues."

The object aimed at in this department is, to make the student not only theoretically, but practically acquainted with this living language.

The first year is occupied with the study of the structure of the language; the second is devoted to the study of the literature. Throughout the former, written exercises are daily required, and colloquial practice is commenced at an early period. By this constant practice, the ear and the tongue are educated, as well as the eye, and a good degree of proficiency is thereby attained.

COURSE OF STUDY.

FIRST YEAR.

First Term	Comfort's Course.
Second Term	Comfort's Course, completed.
Third Term	Berlin Echo. German Composition.

SECOND YEAR.

First Term	Worman's German Reader. Written Translations.
Second Term	Schiller—Wm. Tell or Maid of Orleans. History of German Literature.
Third Term	Goethe—Egmont or Iphigenie in Tauris. History of German Literature.

VI.

PHYSICS AND NATURAL SCIENCE.

REV. E. E. EDWARDS, A. M.

This department includes Natural Philosophy, Chemistry, Zoology, Biology, Geology, Mineralogy and Botany. The Chemical and Philosophical apparatus is sufficiently complete to admit numerous illustrative experiments, and lectures are given on the sciences of Chemistry, Biology, Zoology and Geology. The students in this department are required to write essays upon the topics connected with the course of study. It is the aim of the teacher to encourage the students in his classes to habits of research and independent thought.

VII.

ENGLISH LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE.

REV. E. E. EDWARDS, A. M.

This department is for the present under the charge of the Professor of Natural Science. It includes the Study of Words, the Analysis of Sentences, Prose Composition, English Literature and History. Special attention is given to Essay-writing.

LAW DEPARTMENT.

HON. H. H HORNER.

At a meeting of the Joint Board, in June, 1860, the Faculty were authorized to open a Law Department, and make provision to meet the wants of the students in regard to law studies. That Department has been opened, and is now in successful operation. It is under the care and instruction of one who will call others to assist him as occasion may require.

When the following course of studies has been completed in a satisfactory manner, the degree of Bachelor of Laws, if desired, will be conferred.

COURSE OF LAW STUDIES.

First Year—Blackstone's Commentaries; Kent's Commentaries; Chitty on Contracts; Gould's Pleading; Greenleaf's Evidence.

This list will be enlarged as occasion requires.

Second Year—Blackstone's Commentaries; Kent's Commentaries; Chitty on Contracts; Gould's Pleading; Stephens' Pleading; Chitty's Pleading; Story on Bills; Story on Partnerships; Story on Agency; Story on Bailments; Angel on Limitations; Story's Equity Pleading and Jurisprudence; Greenleaf's Evidence; Angel and Ames on Corporation; Browne on Action at Law; Mansel on Demurrer; Burton on Real Property; Curtis' Forms; Rawle on Covenants of Title.

In addition to regular recitations, a Course of Lectures is delivered each quarter.

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT.

In this department it is the design to give the student a thorough course of instruction in Book Keeping by both Single and Double Entry, a complete drill in Mercantile Calculations, and a practical knowledge of the forms of Bills, Notes, and Commercial Papers generally. Lectures will be given on Mercantile Law, the Functions of Money, and the Science of Accounts in general. The text-book is Crittenden's Book Keeping; and Mahew and Comer will be used for reference.

REFERENCE BOOKS.

The following books are recommended for reference in the Department of the Languages:

GREEK GRAMMARS—Buttman, Kühner, Hadley and Crosby.

LATIN GRAMMARS—Zumpt, Madvig, Andrews & Stoddard, Bullions & Morris, Allen & Greenough, Gildersleeve.

GREEK LEXICONS — Liddell & Scott, Crucius' Homeric Lexicon, Veitch's Greek Verbs, Yonge's English-Greek Lexicon.

LATIN LEXICONS—Andrews' Latin-English Lexicon, Smith's English-Latin Lexicon, Doederlein's Latin Synonyms.

ANCIENT GEOGRAPHY—Mitchell & Short, Long's Classical Atlas, Smith's Dictionary of Ancient Geography.

ANTIQUITIES—Fiske's Manual, Bojesen, Smith's Dictionary of Antiquities.

MYTHOLOGY—Murray.

HISTORIES OF GREECE—Smith, Thirwall, Grote and Curtius.

HISTORIES OF ROME—Liddell, Arnold, Mommsen, Long, Merivale, and Gibbon.

HISTORIES OF GREEK LITERATURE — Browne, Mure, Müller and Donaldson.

HISTORIES OF ROMAN LITERATURE—Browne, Dunlop, Teuffel.

CLASSICAL DICTIONARIES—Anthon, Smith.

In connection with the daily recitations, lessons are given in the History, Literature, and Antiquities of Greece and Rome, and from time to time lectures are delivered on special topics of Ancient History and Philosophy.

MISCELLANEOUS.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class must be fourteen years of age, and will be examined in the following branches, or their equivalents, which, for the convenience of those who pursue their preparatory studies at this Institution, we arrange herewith into a two years' course. Candidates for advanced standing will be examined in the studies which have been pursued by the class which they propose to enter, or in others equivalent to them. In all cases satisfactory testimonials of good moral character must be presented; and when one has been a member of another College, a certificate of regular dismission will be required.

Candidates for the Scientific Course will be subject to similar examinations and requirements, except in the languages.

Warren's Physical Geography;
Green's Analysis;
Arithmetic, Robinson.

Students in either of the Preparatory Departments will be required to attend to duties assigned them weekly in Composition and Declamation.

SCHOLARSHIP AND PRIZES.

The Stanton Centenary Scholarship is a centenary donation from the late Thomas Stanton, M.D., of Alton, to the Southern Illinois Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church; and it entitles the holder to Tuition, Incidentals and Room Rent, free of charge, for the time of holding it. It is to be given as a prize "to that young man preparing for the sacred ministry who shall have passed the best examination in the studies of the term next preceding, and who shall be recommended as worthy by the Presiding Elder of the District in the Conference which includes Lebanon." Its cash value is $18 per term.

The Platonian Scholarship is a prize given to the young man who shall, during any term, best perform all the duties assigned to him in the Platonian Society. It is to be assigned at the close of each term, and to be used for the next succeeding term. It entitles the student holding it to tuition free of charge.

The Citizens' Prize for Declamation is given to the one who shall excel in declamation at what is called the "Junior and Sophomore Prize Declamation," at the close of the year. It is twenty-five dollars. There is a prize for the Ladies, to the one who shall excel in Reading. This is likewise twenty-five dollars.

There will be a prize given to the member of the Junior or Senior classes who shall write and present the best Essay at Commencement. This may be withheld in case there is not a sufficient number of competitors, or if the committee shall not consider any composition sufficiently meritorious. It is twenty-five dollars.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

Parents and guardians are informed that daily records are kept of the merit and demerit of each Student, the former denoting the excellencies of each, in his recitations and other College exercises—the latter, the delinquencies and deficiencies of each, in his respective duties. The President will furnish an exhibition of these records in any particular case, when requested by the Student or his friends; and in all cases where private admonition has been given without effect, a statement of demerit will be forwarded to the friends of such delinquent scholar. This will be the last step of discipline preceding the final one of suspension or dismissal. The Faculty are determined that the College shall not be infested, and the whole community embarrassed, and perhaps corrupted, by idle or dissolute members.

FUNDS.

By a resolution of the Board of Trustees, the parent or guardian of each minor is expected to name some person in Lebanon as the guardian or patron of his son or ward while in College, with whom his funds shall be deposited, and to whom he shall be accountable for their proper use. All persons are forbidden to trust a minor without the consent of his guardian, and are hereby notified that if they do so it is at their own risk.

EXAMINATIONS.

Two days at the close of each term will be devoted to examination on the studies pursued during the term. No student will be advanced unless he pass a satisfactory examination. The Examining Committee are solicited to be present at all examinations.

GOVERNMENT.

The discipline of the Institution will be paternal and mild, but firm. An effort will be made to awaken and develop the mental and moral faculties, and thus to secure the true element of progress through life. Transgression of rules and negligence in study may be borne with for a season, when signs of amendment are perceived; but no Student will be permitted to remain while acting in open disregard of these rules.

Believing that the time appropriated to vacation is ample for relaxation, and having painfully observed the evil effects of absence from recitation, either at the beginning or any other period of the term, upon the standing and proficiency of the Student, the Faculty earnestly request parents and guardians not to sanction such absence without very urgent reasons.

REQUIREMENTS.

Regular and punctual attendance at the morning services in the chapel, at recitations, at church, and at the Sunday afternoon lecture; the strict oservance of the hours prescribed for study; the faithful performance of the exercises, studies and duties assigned by the Faculty; a prompt account of the reason for any neglect of duty, tardiness or absences; the subordination of all other exercises and studies to those required by the Faculty.

PROHIBITIONS.

Irreverence during religious services at church or chapel; violation of the Sabbath by engaging in any kind of play or amusement, or by assembling, except for worship, in the rooms of students or elsewhere; disrespect towards the Faculty; ungentlemanly treatment of fellow-students or citizens; absence from room during the hours of study; loud conversation, loud laughing, wrestling, jumping or other unnecessary noise in the college buildings or campus; disturbance of the regular recitations and exercises in any way whatever; the frequenting of taverns, groceries, billiard saloons, bowling alleys or any such places of drinking or amusement; lounging about stores or public places, or remaining there longer than business requires; using profane or obscene language; visiting circuses or shows; keeping pistols, dirk-knives or any unlawful weapons; card-playing and gambling of every kind; writing upon or otherwise defacing the college buildings or furniture; disorderly conduct at boarding-houses or elsewhere; leaving town without the knowledge and consent of the Faculty; boarding at hotels or public houses without the written permission of the Faculty; taking lessons in any branch of study, in the regular college terms, from any person not connected with the Faculty, except by permission.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

Three Literary Societies—the Philosophian, the Platonian, and the Clionian—have been organized, and are accomplishing much for the practical training of their members in the methods of transacting public business. They are under rules made by the joint action of the Trustees, the Faculty, and the Societies themselves. These have respectable Libraries, to which additions have been recently made of great value.

LIBRARIES.

The Libraries of the College and Literary Societies contain about 7,500 volumes. The College Library is accessible to all the Students, according to the rules established by the Joint Board. The Libraries belonging to the Literary Societies are accessible to the members of the Societies, according to rules established by themselves. During the past year a number of volumes have been added to the College Library, and it is hoped that a still larger addition will be made during the present year. The Literary Societies have also greatly increased the number and value of their books, by liberal and well selected purchases.

APPARATUS.

The apparatus belonging to the College is extensive and well selected, and affords excellent facilities for giving instruction in the Natural Sciences.

TEXT BOOKS.

All the books in the Course of Study are kept at the College, and will be sold to students at the usual prices. A full supply of stationery is kept on hand for the accommodation of students.

MERIT AND DEMERIT.

A daily record of the merit and demerit of each student is kept, which is read publicly at the close of each term, and then entered permanently upon the College Record.

DEGREES CONFERRED.

The degree of Bachelor of Arts is conferred only on those who have, in a satisfactory manner, completed the branches embraced in the Collegiate or Classical Course.

The degree of Bachelor of Science will be conferred on all those who have, in like manner, completed the branches embraced in the Scientific Course.

The degree of Bachelor of Laws will be conferred on all who complete, in a satisfactory manner, the course of study prescribed for that department.

The degree of Master of Arts may be conferred on any Bachelor of Arts of three years standing, who, during the interval, has sustained a good moral character, and been engaged in some literary, professional, or scientific pursuit. Graduates of longer standing, or from other Colleges, may receive the Master's Degree on the same terms. Application for the degree should be made to the President of the College at least three months before Commencement.

HISTORY.

M'Kendree College was founded as an institution of learning February 20th, 1828. It was established in consequence of the action of the Illinois Conference at its session in Mt. Carmel, September 1827. Mr. E. R. Ames, now Bishop in the M. E. Church, was placed at its head. The population of St. Clair County at that time did not exceed 5000, and that of the State of Illinois was not more than 140,000. In 1830 Bishop M'Kendree donated to the college a valuable section of land, and the institution was named in honor of him. It received its charter from the State in 1834. The venerable Peter Akers, D. D., was shortly after chosen President. At the solicitation of the Board of Trustees the Legislature of the State granted a new charter, January 26th, 1839, investing the institution with the powers of a University. It has the active patronage of three Methodist Conferences, and its Roll of Alumni bears the names of about two-hundred and fifty persons, many of whom are in high offices of trust both in church and state.

LOCATION.

M'Kendree College is located in Lebanon, twenty-two miles east of St. Louis, on the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, which renders it easily accessible from all points. The situation is healthful, the College grounds are beautiful; the village is small, quiet, retired, and free from the various temptations to idleness and vice found in larger communities.

Further information concerning the College may be obtained from any member of the Southern Illinois Conference, or by correspondence with the Faculty.

PROFESSORSHIPS.

The Studies in the preceding Course are distributed among the following Professorships:

I.

MENTAL AND MORAL SCIENCE.

REV. JOHN W. LOCKE, D.D.

The Instruction in this Department contemplates a thorough examination of the text-books, free discussion in the recitation-room, and written essays upon the topics studied, with lectures from the professor.

II.

MATHEMATICS AND ASTRONOMY.

REV. OLIVER V. JONES, A.M.

The Course in this Department extends through a period of four years.

FRESHMAN YEAR.

FIRST TERM	Algebra	Robinson.
SECOND TERM	Algebra and Geometry	Robinson.
THIRD TERM	Geometry	Robinson.

SOPHOMORE YEAR.

FIRST TERM	Trigonometry	Loomis.
SECOND TERM	Analytical Geometry	Loomis.

JUNIOR YEAR.

FIRST TERM	Calculus	Loomis.
THIRD TERM	Mechanics	Peck.

SENIOR YEAR.

THIRD TERM	Astronomy	Loomis.

During the Course lectures will be delivered on the History and Utility of Mathematics and Astronomy.

Exercises in the field will be given in Mensuration and Surveying.

An effort will be made to render the branches pursued in this Department not only disciplinary to the mind, but of practical utility to the Student.

III.

LATIN LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE.

PROF. SAMUEL H. DENEEN, A.M.

This Department aims to familiarize the student with the forms, structure, and idioms of the Latin Language; with the laws of the different forms of poetical and prose composition; with the style and characteristics of the best Roman authors; with the historical periods to which the several writers read belong; and with Roman life and civilization as illustrated thereby.

In addition to the daily drill and analysis of words and sentences, written translations are required from English into Latin, and from Latin into English; and attention is continually called to the words in our language derived from the Latin, and to the influence and imitation of Roman authors to be traced in our own literature.

The authors read are: HISTORIANS—Cæsar, Sallust, Livy and Tacitus. POETS—Virgil, Horace, Ovid and Juvenal. DRAMATISTS—Plautus or Terence; and the ORATIONS and MORAL and PHILOSOPHICAL WORKS of Cicero.

IV.

GREEK LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE.

REV. WILLIAM F. SWAHLEN, A. M.

The studies in this Department aim, first, at affording the student a means for the discipline and development of his faculties, which shall serve as a basis for subsequent special studies; and secondly, at making him master of the principles and structure of the language, as well as familiar with the standard authors and the literature of the various periods.

In the earlier part of the course the Etymology and Syntax receive special attention—stress being laid on the written exercises, from English into Greek; as the student advances, the Mythology, History, and Antiquities are progressively introduced, and written translations from Greek into English receive due attention. Essays are, also, regularly required on the different authors and their characteristics.

The course embraces two terms of Poetry, two of History, one each of Philosophy, Tragedy, Comedy, Oratory, and Greek Testament.

V.

GERMAN LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE.

REV. WILLIAM F. SWAHLEN, A. M.

Until quite recently this study was optional; but the joint Board, at its annual session in 1874, wisely resolved to make a two years' course obligatory on candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Science. We hope this is but the beginning of better things, and that the time is not far distant when the Course shall be so enlarged as to enable students to become still better acquainted with the rich literature of this, "the most cultivated of modern tongues."

The object aimed at in this Department is to make the student, not only theoretically, but practically acquainted with this living language.

The first year is occupied with the study of the structure of the language; the second is devoted to the study of the literature. Throughout the former, written exercises are daily required, and colloquial practice is commenced at an early period. By this constant practice the ear and the tongue are educated, as well as the eye, and a good degree of proficiency is thereby attained.

COURSE OF STUDY.

FIRST YEAR.

FIRST TERM	Comfort's Course.
SECOND TERM	Comfort's Course, completed.
THIRD TERM	Berlin Echo. German Composition.

SECOND YEAR.

FIRST TERM	Worman's German Reader. Written Translations.
SECOND TERM	Schiller—William Tell or Maid of Orleans. History of German Literature.
THIRD TERM	Goethe—Egmont or Iphigenie in Tauris. History of German Literature.

VI.

PHYSICS AND NATURAL SCIENCE.

REV. E. E. EDWARDS, A.M.

This Department includes Natural Philosophy, Chemistry, Zoology, Biology, Geology, Mineralogy and Botany. The Chemical and Philosophical apparatus is sufficiently complete to admit numerous illustrative experiments, and lectures are given on the sciences of Chemistry, Biology, Zoology and Geology. The students in this Department are required to write essays upon the topics connected with the course of study. It is the aim of the teacher to encourage the students in his classes to habits of research and independent thought.

VII.

ENGLISH LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE.

REV. E. E. EDWARDS, A.M.

This Department is for the present under the charge of the Professor of Natural Science. It includes the Study of Words, the Analysis of Sentences, Prose Composition, English Literature and History. Special attention is given to Essay-writing.

LAW DEPARTMENT.

HON. H. H. HORNER, A.M.

At a meeting of the Joint Board, in June, 1860, the Faculty were authorized to open a Law Department, and make provision to meet the wants of the students in regard to law studies. That Department has been opened, and is now in successful operation. It is under the care and instruction of one who will call others to assist him as occasion may require.

When the following course of studies has been completed in a satisfactory manner, the degree of Bachelor of Laws, if desired, will be conferred.

COURSE OF LAW STUDIES.

FIRST YEAR—Blackstone's Commentaries; Kent's Commentaries; Chitty on Contracts; Gould's Pleading; Greenleaf's Evidence.

This list will be enlarged as occasion requires.

SECOND YEAR—Blackstone's Commentaries; Kent's Commentaries; Chitty on Contracts; Gould's Pleading; Stephens' Pleading; Chitty's Pleading; Story on Bills; Story on Partnerships; Story on Agency; Story on Bailments: Angel on Limitations; Story's Equity Pleading anc Jurisprudence; Greenleaf's Evidence; Angel and Ames on Corporation; Browne on Action at Law; Mansel on Demurrer; Burton on Real Property; Curtis' Forms; Rawle on Covenants of Title.

In addition to regular recitations, a Course of Lectures is deliverec each quarter.

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT.

In this Department it is the design to give the student a thorough cours of instruction in Book Keeping by both Single and Double Entry, a complete drill in Mercantile Calculations, and a practical knowledge of th forms of Bills, Notes, and Commercial Papers generally. Lectures wil be given on Mercantile Law, the Functions of Money, and the Scienc of Accounts in general. The text-book is Crittenden's Book Keeping and Mahew and Comer will be used for reference.

REFERENCE BOOKS.

The following books are recommended for reference in the Department of the Languages:

Greek Grammars—Buttman, Kühner, Hadley and Crosby.

Latin Grammars—Zumpt, Madvig, Andrews & Stoddard, Bullions & Morris, Allen & Greenough, Gildersleeve.

Arithmetic, Robinson.

Students in either of the Preparatory Departments will be required t attend to duties assigned them weekly in Composition and Declamation

SCHOLARSHIP AND PRIZES.

The Stanton Centenary Scholarship is a centenary donation from the late Thomas Stanton, M.D., of Alton, to the Southern Illinois Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church; and it entitles the holder to Tuition, Incidentals and Room Rent, free of charge, for the time of holding it. It is to be given as a prize "to that young man preparing for the sacred ministry who shall have passed the best examination in the studies of the term next preceding, and who shall be recommended as worthy by the Presiding Elder of the District in the Conference which includes Lebanon." Its cash value is eighteen dollars per term.

The Platonian Scholarship is a prize given to the young man who shall, during any term, best perform all the duties assigned to him in the Platonian Society. It is to be assigned at the close of each term, and to be used for the next succeeding term. It entitles the student holding it to tuition free of charge.

The Brownlee Prize for Declamation is given to the one who shall excel in declamation at what is called the "Junior and Sophomore Prize Declamation," at the close of the year. It is the gift of Prof. J. H. Brownlee, and is twenty-five dollars. There is also a prize for the Ladies, to the one who shall excel in Reading. This is likewise twenty-five dollars.

There will be a prize given to the member of the Junior or Senior classes who shall write and present the best Essay at Commencement This may be withheld in case there is not a sufficient number of competitors, or if the committee shall not consider any composition sufficiently meritorious. It is twenty-five dollars.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

Parents and guardians are informed that daily records are kept of the merit and demerit of each student, the former denoting the excellencies of each in his recitations and other College exercises; the latter, the delinquencies and deficiencies of each in his respective duties. The President will furnish an exhibit of these records in any particular case, when requested by the student or his friends; and in all cases where private admonition has been given without effect a statement of demerit will be forwarded to the friends of such delinquent scholar. This will be the last step of discipline preceding the final one of suspension or dismissal. The Faculty are determined that the College shall not be infested, and the whole community embarrassed, and perhaps corrupted, by idle or dissolute members.

FUNDS.

By a resolution of the Board of Trustees, the parent or guardian of each minor is expected to name some person in Lebanon as the guardian or patron of his son or ward while in College, with whom his funds shall be deposited, and to whom he shall be accountable for their proper use. All persons are forbidden to trust a minor without the consent of his guardian, and are hereby notified that if they do so it is at their own risk.

EXAMINATIONS.

Two days at the close of each term will be devoted to examination on the studies pursued during the term. No student will be advanced unless he pass a satisfactory examination. The Examining Committee are solicited to be present at all examinations.

GOVERNMENT.

The discipline of the Institution will be paternal and mild, but firm. An effort will be made to awaken and develop the mental and moral faculties, and thus to secure the true element of progress through life. Transgression of rules and negligence in study may be borne with for a season, when signs of amendment are perceived; but no student will be permitted to remain while acting in open disregard of these rules.

Believing that the time appropriated to vacation is ample for relaxation, and having painfully observed the evil effects of absence from recitation, either at the beginning or any other period of the term, upon the standing and proficiency of the student, the Faculty earnestly request parents and guardians not to sanction such absence without very urgent reasons.

REQUIREMENTS.

Regular and punctual attendance at the morning services in the chapel, at recitations, at church, and at the Sunday afternoon lecture; the strict observance of the hours prescribed for study; the faithful performance of the exercises, studies and duties assigned by the Faculty; a prompt account of the reason for any neglect of duty, tardiness, or absences; the subordination of all other exercises and studies to those required by the Faculty.

PROHIBITIONS.

Irreverence during religious services at church or chapel; violation of the Sabbath by engaging in any kind of play or amusement, or by assembling, except for worship, in the rooms of students or elsewhere; disrespect toward the Faculty; ungentlemanly treatment of fellow students or citizens; absence from room during the hours of study; loud conversation, loud laughing, wrestling. jumping, or other unnecessary noise in the College buildings or campus; disturbance of the regular recitations and exercises in any way whatever; the frequenting of taverns, groceries, billiard saloons, bowling alleys, or any such places of drinking or amusement; lounging about stores or public places, or remaining there longer than business requires; using profane or obscene language; visiting circuses or shows; keeping pistols, dirk-knives, or any unlawful weapons; card-playing and gambling of every kind; writing upon or otherwise defacing the College buildings or furniture; disorderly conduct at boarding-houses or elsewhere; leaving town without the knowledge and consent of the Faculty; boarding at hotels or public houses without the written permission of the Faculty; taking lessons in any branch of study, in the regular College terms, from any person not connected with the Faculty, except by permission.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

Three literary societies—the Philosophian, the Platonian, and the Clionian—have been organized, and are accomplishing much for the practical training of their members in the methods of transacting public business. They are under rules made by the joint action of the Trustees, the Faculty, and the societies themselves. These have respectable Libraries, to which additions have been recently made of great value.

LIBRARIES.

The Libraries of the College and Literary Societies contain about 7,500 volumes. The College Library is accessible to all the students, according to the rules established by the Joint Board. The Libraries belonging to the Literary Societies are accessible to the members of the societies, according to rules established by themselves. During the past year a number of volumes have been added to the College Library, and it is hoped that a still larger addition will be made during the present year. The Literary Societies have, also, greatly increased the number and value of their books by liberal and well selected purchases.

APPARATUS.

The apparatus belonging to the College is extensive and well selected, and affords excellent facilities for giving instruction in the Natural Sciences.

TEXT-BOOKS.

All the books in the course of study are kept at the College, and will be sold to students at the usual prices. A full supply of stationery is kept on hand for the accommodation of students.

MERIT AND DEMERIT.

A daily record of the merit and demerit of each student is kept, which is read publicly at the close of each term, and then entered permanently upon the College Record.

DEGREES CONFERRED.

The Degree of Bachelor of Arts is conferred only on those who have, in a satisfactory manner, completed the branches embraced in the Collegiate or Classical Course.

The degree of Bachelor of Science will be conferred on all those who have, in like manner, completed the branches embraced in the Scientific Course.

The degree of Bachelor of Laws will be conferred on all who complete, in a satisfactory manner, the course of study prescribed for that department.

The degree of Master of Arts may be conferred on any Bachelor of Arts of three years standing, who, during the interval, has sustained a good moral character, and been engaged in some literary, professional, or scientific pursuit. Graduates of longer standing, or from other Colleges, may receive the Master's Degree on the same terms. Applications for the degree should be made to the President of the College at least three months before Commencement.

HISTORY.

M'Kendree College was founded as an institution of learning, February 20th, 1828. It was established in consequence of the action of the Illinois Conference at its session in Mt. Carmel, September 1827. Mr. E. R. Ames, now Bishop in the M. E. Church, was placed at its head. The population of St. Clair County at that time did not exceed 5000, and that of the State of Illinois was not more than 140,000. In 1830, Bishop M'Kendree donated to the college a valuable section of land, and the institution was named in honor of him. It received its charter from the State in 1834. The venerable Peter Akers, D.D., was shortly after chosen President. At the solicitation of the Board of Trustees the Legislature of the State granted a new charter, January 26th, 1839, investing the institution with the powers of a University. It has the active patronage of three Methodist Conferences, and its Roll of Alumni bears the names of about three hundred persons, many of whom are in high office of trust both in church and state.

LOCATION.

M'Kendree College is located in Lebanon, twenty-two miles east of St. Louis, on the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, which renders it easily accessible from all points. The situation is healthful, the College grounds are beautiful; the village is small, quiet, retired, and free from the various temptations to idleness and vice found in larger communities.

Further information concerning the College may be obtained from any member of the Southern Illinois Conference, or by correspondence with the Faculty.

PROFESSORSHIPS.

The studies in the preceding course are distributed among the following Professorships:

I.

MENTAL AND MORAL SCIENCE.

REV. JOHN W. LOCKE, D.D.

This Department includes Psychology, Logic, Moral Philosophy, and Evidences of Christianity; also Constitutional and International Law and Political Economy. The thorough examination of approved text-books, accompanied with oral lectures, comprises the instruction proposed. Free discussion on the part of the students is encouraged, and essays on the leading topics of study are required. Access to the standard authorities in the College Library is afforded to all the classes.

II.

MATHEMATICS AND ASTRONOMY.

REV. OLIVER V. JONES, A.M.

The Course in this Department extends through a period of four years.

FRESHMAN YEAR.

First Term	Algebra	Robinson.
Second Term	Algebra and Geometry	Robinson.
Third Term	Geometry	Robinson.

SOPHOMORE YEAR.

First Term	Trigonometry	Loomis.
Second Term	Analytical Geometry	Loomis.

JUNIOR YEAR.

First Term	Calculus	Loomis.
Third Term	Mechanics	Peck.

SENIOR YEAR.

Third Term	Astronomy	Loomis.

During the Course lectures will be delivered on the History and Utility of Mathematics and Astronomy.

Exercises in the field will be given in Mensuration and Surveying.

An effort will be made to render the branches pursued in this Department not only disciplinary to the mind, but of practical utility to the Student.

III.

LATIN LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE.

PROF. SAMUEL H. DENEEN, PH.D.

This department aims to familiarize the student with the forms, structure, and idioms of the Latin Language; with the laws of the different forms of poetical and prose composition; with the style and characteristics of the best Roman authors; with the historical periods to which the several writers read belong; and with Roman life and civilization as illustrated thereby.

In addition to the daily drill and analysis of words and sentences, written translations are required from English into Latin, and from Latin into English; and attention is continually called to the words in our language derived from the Latin, and to the influence and imitation of Roman Authors to be traced in our own literature.

The authors read are: HISTORIANS—Cæsar, Sallust, Livy and Tacitus. POETS—Virgil, Horace, Ovid and Juvenal. DRAMATISTS—Plautus or Terence; and the ORATIONS and MORAL and PHILOSOPHICAL WORKS of Cicero.

IV.

GREEK LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE.

REV. WILLIAM F. SWAHLEN, A.M.

The studies in this Department aim, first, at affording the student a means for the discipline and development of his faculties, which shal serve as a basis for subsequent special studies; and secondly, at making him master of the principles and structure of the Language, as well as familiar with the standard authors and the literature of the various periods.

In the earlier part of the course the Etymology and Syntax receive special attention—stress being laid on the written exercises, from English into Greek; as the student advances, the Mythology, History and Antiquities are progressively introduced, and written translations from Greek into English receive due attention. Essays are, also, regularl required on the different authors and their characteristics.

The course embraces two terms of Poetry, two of History, one each o Philosophy, Tragedy, Comedy, Oratory, and Greek Testament.

V.

GERMAN LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE.

REV. WILLIAM F. SWAHLEN, A.M.

Until quite recently this study was optional; but the joint Board, at its annual session in 1874, wisely resolved to make a two years' course obligatory on candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Science. We hope this is but the beginning of better things, and that the time is not far distant when the course shall be so enlarged as to enable students to become still better acquainted with the rich literature of this, "the most cultivated of modern tongues."

The object aimed at in this Department is to make the student, not only theoretically, but practically acquainted with this living language. The first year is occupied with the study of the structure of the language; the second is devoted to the study of the literature. Throughout the former, written exercises are daily required, and colloquial practice is commenced at an early period. By this constant practice the ear and the tongue are educated, as well as the eye. and a good degree of proficiency is attained.

COURSE OF STUDY.

FIRST YEAR.

FIRST TERM	Comfort's Course.
SECOND TERM	Comfort's Course, completed.
THIRD TERM	Berlin Echo.

VI.

PHYSICS AND NATURAL SCIENCE.

REV. E. E. EDWARDS, A.M.

This Department includes Natural Philosophy, Physiology, Botany, Zoology, Biology, Geology, Mineralogy and Chemistry.

The Chemical and Philosophical Apparatus is sufficiently complete to admit of numerous illustrative experiments. Lectures are given in all the sciences in this Department. The student is required to write essays on scientific topics, and to pass weekly examinations on the studies pursued. These examinations, and the final examination at the end of each term, are to be written throughout. It is the aim of the teacher to encourage the students in his classes to form habits of careful research and of independent thinking and investigation, and those methods of study are recommended which will secure the best practical results.

VII.

ENGLISH LITERATURE.

This Department is temporarily under the charge of the Professor of Natural Science, assisted by other members of the Faculty. It includes the Study of Words, Analysis of Sentences, Composition, Rhetoric (Primary and Advanced), History (Ancient and Modern), and the History of English and American Literature. Attention is also given to the Art of Reading and Speaking, this branch of the Department being under the care of the Professor of Elocution, James H. Brownlee, A.M. At the close of the third term, prizes are awarded to the best essayist, to the best reader, and to the best declaimer.

VIII.

FINE ARTS.

Students desiring instruction in Music (Vocal and Instrumental), in Drawing (Linear or Perspective), in Painting in Water Colors or Oil, can be accommodated on reasonable terms.

LAW DEPARTMENT.

HON. H. H. HORNER, A.M., DEAN.

At a meeting of the Joint Board, in June, 1860, the Faculty were authorized to open a Law Department, and make provision to meet the wants of the students in regard to law studies. That Department has been opened, and is now in successful operation. It is under the care and instruction of one who will call others to assist him as occasion may require.

When the following course of studies has been completed in a satisfactory manner, the degree of Bachelor of Laws, if desired, will be conferred.

COURSE OF LAW STUDIES.

FIRST YEAR.—Blackstone's Commentaries; Kent's Commentaries; Chitty on Contracts; Gould's Pleading; Greenleaf's Evidence.

This list will be enlarged as occasion requires.

SECOND YEAR.—Blackstone's Commentaries; Kent's Commentaries; Chitty on Contracts; Gould's Pleading; Stephens' Pleading; Chitty's Pleading; Story on Bills; Story on Partnerships; Story on Agency; Story on Bailments; Angel on Limitations; Story's Equity Pleading and Jurisprudence; Greenleaf's Evidence; Angel and Ames on Corporations; Browne on Action at Law; Mansel on Demurrer; Burton on Real Property; Curtis' Forms; Rawle on Covenants of Title.

In addition to regular recitations, a Course of Lectures is delivered in each quarter.

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT.

In this Department it is the design to give the student a thorough course of instruction in Book Keeping by both Single and Double Entry, a complete drill in Mercantile Calculations, and a practical knowledge of the forms of Bills, Notes, and Commercial Papers generally. Lectures will be given on Mercantile Law, the Functions of Money, and the Science of Accounts in general. The text-book is Crittenden's Book Keeping; and Mayhew and Comer will be used for reference.

THEOLOGICAL CLASS.

For the accommodation of students having the Ministry in view, a Theological Class is organized under the charge of the President. A complete course in Systematic Theology is proposed.

REFERENCE BOOKS.

The following books are recommended for reference in the Department of the Languages:

GREEK GRAMMARS—Buttman, Kühner, Hadley and Crosby.

LATIN GRAMMARS—Zumpt, Madvig, Andrews & Stoddard, Bullions & Morris, Allen & Greenough, Gildersleeve.

GREEK LEXICONS—Liddell & Scott, Crucius' Homeric Lexicon, Veitch's Greek Verbs, Yonge's English-Greek Lexicon.

LATIN LEXICONS—Andrews' Latin-English Lexicon, Smith's English-Latin Lexicon, Doederlein's Latin Synonyms.

ANCIENT GEOGRAPHY—Mitchell and Short, Long's Classical Atlas, Smith's Dictionary of Ancient Geography.

ANTIQUITIES—Fiske's Manual, Bojesen, Smith's Dictionary of Antiquities.

MYTHOLOGY—Murray.

HISTORIES OF GREECE—Smith, Thirwall, Grote and Curtius.

HISTORIES OF ROME—Liddell, Arnold, Mommsen, Long, Merivale, and Gibbon.

HISTORIES OF GREEK LITERATURE—Brown, Mure, Müller and Donaldson.

HISTORIES OF ROMAN LITERATURE—Browne, Dunlap, Teuffel.

CLASSICAL DICTIONARIES—Anthon, Smith.

In connection with the daily recitations, lessons are given in the History, Literature, and Antiquities of Greece and Rome, and from time to time lectures are delivered on special topics of Ancient History and Philosophy.

MISCELLANEOUS.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class must be fourteen years of age, and will be examined in the following branches, or their equivalents, which, for the convenience of those who pursue their preparatory studies at this Institution, we arrange herewith into a two year's course. Candidates for advanced standing will be examined in the studies which have been pursued by the class which they propose to enter, or in others equivalent to them. In all cases satisfactory testimonials of good moral character must be presented; and when one has been a member of another College, a certificate of regular dismission will be required.

Candidates for the Scientific Course will be subject to similar examinations and requirements, except in the languages.

PREPARATORY COURSE.

FIRST YEAR.

FIRST TERM.

Students in either of the Preparatory Departments will be required to attend to duties assigned them weekly in Composition and Declamation.

SCHOLARSHIP AND PRIZES.

The Stanton Centenary Scholarship is a centenary donation from the late Thomas Stanton, M.D., of Alton, to the Southern Illinois Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church; and it entitles the holder to Tuition, Incidentals and Room Rent, free of charge, for the time of holding it. It is to be given as a prize "to that young man preparing for the sacred ministry who shall have passed the best examination in the studies of the term next preceding, and who shall be recommended as worthy by the Presiding Elder of the District in the Conference which includes Lebanon." Its cash value is eighteen dollars per term.

The Platonian Scholarship is a prize given to the young man who shall, during any term, best perform all the duties assigned to him in the Platonian Society. It is to be assigned at the close of each term, and to be used for the next succeeding term. It entitles the student holding it to tuition free of charge.

The Brownlee Prize for Declamation is given to the one who shall excel in declamation at what is called the "Junior and Sophomor Prize Declamation," at the close of the year. It is the gift of Prof. J. H. Brownlee and is twenty-five dollars.

There are also two Citizens' Prizes of twenty-five dollars each, to b awarded, one, to the lady who shall excel in reading; the other, to th member of the Senior or Junior class who shall write and present th best essay at Commencement.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

Parents and guardians are informed that daily records are kept of the merit and demerit of each student, the former denoting the excellencies of each in his recitations and other College exercises; the latter, the delinquencies and deficiencies of each in his respective duties. The President will furnish an exhibit of these records in any particular case, when requested by the student or his friends; and in all cases where private admonition has been given without effect, a statement of demerit will be forwarded to the friends of such delinquent scholar. This will be the last step of discipline preceding the final one of suspension or dismissal. The Faculty are determined that the College shall not be infested, and the whole community embarrassed, and perhaps corrupted, by idle or dissolute members.

FUNDS.

By a resolution of the Board of Trustees, the parent or guardian of each minor is expected to name some person in Lebanon as the guardian or patron of his son or ward while in College, with whom his funds shall be deposited, and to whom he shall be accountable for their proper use. All persons are forbidden to trust a minor without the consent of his guardian, and are hereby notified that if they do so it is at their own risk.

EXAMINATIONS.

Two days at the close of each term will be devoted to examination on the studies pursued during the term. No student will be advanced unless he pass a satisfactory examination. The Examining Committee are solicited to be present at all examinations.

GOVERNMENT.

The discipline of the Institution will be paternal and mild, but firm. An effort will be made to awaken and develop the mental and moral faculties, and thus to secure the true element of progress through life. Transgression of rules and negligence in study may be borne with for a season, when signs of amendment are perceived; but no student will be permitted to remain while acting in open disregard of these rules.

Believing that the time appropriated to vacation is ample for relaxation and having painfully observed the evil effects of absence from recitation, either at the beginning or any other period of the term, upon the standing and proficiency of the student, the Faculty earnestly request parents and guardians not to sanction such absence without very urgent reasons.

REQUIREMENTS.

Regular and punctual attendance at the morning services in the chapel, at recitations, at church, and at the Sunday afternoon lecture; the strict observance of the hours prescribed for study; the faithful performance of the exercises, studies and duties assigned by the Faculty; a prompt account of the reason for any neglect of duty, tardiness, or absences; the subordination of all other exercises and studies to those required by the Faculty.

PROHIBITIONS.

Irreverence during religious services at church or chapel; violation of the Sabbath by engaging in any kind of play or amusement, or by assembling, except for worship, in the rooms of students or elsewhere; disrespect toward the Faculty; ungentlemanly treatment of fellow students or citizens; absence from room during the hours of study; loud conversation, loud laughing, wrestling, jumping, or other unnecessary noise in the College buildings or campus; disturbance of the regular recitations and exercises in any way whatever; the frequenting of taverns, groceries, billiard saloons, bowling alleys, or any such places of drinking or amusement; lounging about stores or public places, or remaining there longer than business requires; using profane or obscene language; visiting circuses or shows; keeping pistols, dirk-knives, or any unlawful weapons; card-playing and gambling of every kind; writing upon or otherwise defacing the College buildings or furniture; disorderly conduct at boarding-houses or elsewhere; leaving town without the knowledge and consent of the Faculty; boarding at hotels or public houses without the written permission of the Faculty; taking lessons in any branch of study, in the regular College terms, from any person not connected with the Faculty, except by permission.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

Three literary societies—the Philosophian, the Platonian, and the Clionian—have been organized, and are accomplishing much for the practical training of their members in the methods of transacting public business. They are under rules made by the joint action of the Trustees, the Faculty, and the societies themselves. These have respectable Libraries, to which additions have been recently made of great value.

LIBRARIES.

The Libraries of the College and Literary Societies contain about 7,500 volumes. The College Library is accessible to all the students, according to the rules established by the Joint Board. The libraries belonging to the Literary Societies are accessible to the members of the societies, according to rules established by themselves. During the past year a number of volumes have been added to the College Library, and it is hoped that a still larger addition will be made during the present year. The Literary Societies have, also, greatly increased the number and value of their books by liberal and well selected purchases.

Law Students have the privileges of the College Library, and may, by the consent of the Faculty, become honorary members of either of the Literary Societies, and thus obtain access to the Society Library.

APPARATUS.

The apparatus belonging to the College is extensive and well selected, and affords excellent facilities for giving instruction in the Natural Sciences.

TEXT-BOOKS.

All the books in the course of study are kept at the College, and will be sold to students at the usual prices. A full supply of stationery is kept on hand for the accommodation of students.

MERIT AND DEMERIT.

A daily record of the merit and demerit of each student is kept, which is read publicly at the close of each term, and then entered permanently upon the College Record.

DEGREES CONFERRED.

The degree of Bachelor of Arts is conferred only on those who have, in a satisfactory manner, completed the branches embraced in the Collegiate or Classical Course.

The degree of Bachelor of Science will be conferred on all those who have, in like manner, completed the branches embraced in the Scientific Course.

The degree of Bachelor of Laws will be conferred on all who complete, in a satisfactory manner, the course of study prescribed for that department. Graduation fees must be paid in advance of the final examination.

The degree of Master of Arts may be conferred on any Bachelor of Arts of three years' standing, who, during the interval, has sustained a good moral character, and been engaged in some literary, professional, or scientific pursuit. Graduates of longer standing, or from other Colleges, may receive the Master's Degree on the same terms. Applications for the degree should be made to the President of the College at least three months before Commencement.

HISTORY.

M'Kendree College was founded as an institution of learning, February 20th, 1828. It was established in consequence of the action of the Illinois Conference at its session at Mt. Carmel, September, 1827. Mr. E. R. Ames, now Bishop in the M. E. Church, was placed at its head. The population of St. Clair County at that time did not exceed 5,000, and that of the State of Illinois was not more than 140,000. In 1830, Bishop McKendree donated to the College a valuable section of land, and the institution was named in honor of him. It received its charter from the State in 1834. The now venerable Peter Akers, D.D., was shortly after chosen President. At the solicitation of the Board of Trustees, the Legislature of the State granted a new charter, January 26, 1839, investing the institution with the powers of a University. It has the active patronage of three Methodist Conferences, and its Roll of Alumni bears the names of about three hundred persons, many of whom are in high office of trust both in church and state.

LOCATION.

M'Kendree College is located in Lebanon, twenty-two miles east of St. Louis, on the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, which renders it easily accessible from all points. The situation is healthful, the College grounds are beautiful; the village is small, quiet, retired, and free from the various temptations to idleness and vice found in larger communities.

Further information concerning the College may be obtained from any member of the Southern Illinois Conference, or by correspondence with the Faculty, or with the General Agent, Rev. Hiram Sears, A.M.

PROFESSORSHIPS.

The studies in the preceding course are distributed among the following Professorships:

I.

MENTAL AND MORAL SCIENCE.

REV. JOHN W. LOCKE, D.D.

This Department includes Psychology, Logic, Moral Philosophy, and evidences of Christianity; also Constitutional and International Law and Political Economy. The thorough examination of approved text-books, accompanied with oral lectures, comprises the instruction proposed. Free discussion on the part of the students is encouraged, and essays on the leading topics of study are required. Access to the standard authorities in the College Library is afforded to all the classes.

II.

MATHEMATICS AND ASTRONOMY.

REV. OLIVER V. JONES, A.M.

The Course in this Department extends through a period of four years.

FRESHMAN YEAR.

FIRST TERM	Algebra	Robinson.
SECOND TERM	Algebra and Geometry	Robinson.
THIRD TERM	Geometry	Robinson.

SOPHOMORE YEAR.

FIRST TERM	Trigonometry	Loomis.
SECOND TERM	Analytical Geometry	Loomis.

JUNIOR YEAR.

FIRST TERM	Calculus	Loomis.
THIRD TERM	Mechanics	Peck.

SENIOR YEAR.

THIRD TERM	Astronomy	Loomis.

During the Course lectures will be delivered on the History and Utility of Mathematics and Astronomy.

Exercises in the field will be given in Mensuration and Surveying.

An effort will be made to render the branches pursued in this Department not only disciplinary to the mind, but of practical utility to the Student.

III.

LATIN LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE.

PROF. SAMUEL H. DENEEN, PH.D.

This department aims to familiarize the student with the forms, structure, and idioms of the Latin Language; with the laws of the different forms of poetical and prose composition; with the style and characteristics of the best Roman authors; with the historical periods to which the several writers read belong; and with Roman life and civilization as illustrated thereby.

In addition to the daily drill and analysis of words and sentences written translations are required from English into Latin, and from Latin into English; and attention is contnually called to the words in our language derived from the Latin, and to the influence and imitation of Roman Authors to be traced in our own literature.

The authors read are: Historians—Cæsar, Sallust, Livy and Tacitus. Poets—Virgil, Horace, Ovid and Juvenal. Dramatists—Plautus of Terence; and the Orations and Moral and Philosophical Works of Cicero.

IV.

GREEK LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE.

REV. WILLIAM F. SWAHLEN, A.M.

The studies in this Department aim, first, at affording the student a means for the discipline and development of his faculties, which shall serve as a basis for subsequent special studies; and secondly, at making him master of the principles and structure of the Language, as well a familiar with the standard authors and the literature of the variou periods.

In the earlier part of the course the Etymology and Syntax receiv special attention—stress being laid on the written exercises, from Englis into Greek; as the student advances, the Mythology, History an Antiquities are progressively introduced, and written translations fro Greek into English receive due attention. Essays are, also, regular required on the different authors and their characteristics.

The course embraces two terms of Poetry, two of History, one each o Philosophy, Tragedy, Comedy, Oratory, and Greek Testament.

V.

GERMAN LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE.

REV. WILLIAM F. SWAHLEN, A. M.

Until quite recently this study was optional; but the joint Board, at its annual session in 1874, wisely resolved to make a two years' course obligatory on candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Science. We hope this is but the beginning of better things, and that the time is not far distant when the course shall be so enlarged as to enable students to become still better acquainted with the rich literature of this, "the most cultivated of modern tongues."

The object aimed at in this Department is to make the student, not only theoretically, but practically acquainted with this living language.

The first year is occupied with the study of the structure of the language; the second is devoted to the study of the literature. Throughout the former, written exercises are daily required, and colloquial practice is commenced at an early period. By this constant practice the ear and the tongue are educated, as well as the eye, and a good degree of proficiency is attained.

COURSE OF STUDY.

FIRST YEAR.

First Term	Comfort's Course.
Second Term	Comfort's Course, completed.
Third Term	Berlin Echo. German Composition.

SECOND YEAR.

First Term	Worman's German Reader. Written Translations.
Second Term	Schiller — William Tell or Maid of Orleans. History of German Literature.
Third Term	Goethe—Egmont or Iphigenie in Tauris. History of German Literature.

VI.

PHYSICS AND NATURAL SCIENCE.

REV. E. E. EDWARDS, A. M.

This Department includes Natural Philosophy, Physiology, Botany, Zoology, Biology, Geology, Mineralogy and Chemistry.

The Chemical and Philosophical Apparatus is sufficiently complete to admit of numerous illustrative experiments. Lectures are given in all the sciences in this Department. The student is required to write essays on scientific topics, and to pass weekly examinations on the studies pursued. These examinations, and the final examination at the end of each term, are to be written throughout. It is the aim of the teacher to encourage the students in his classes to form habits of careful research and of independent thinking and investigation, and those methods of study are recommended, which will secure the best practical results.

VII.

ENGLISH LITERATURE.

This Department is temporarily under the charge of the Professor of Natural Science, assisted by other members of the Faculty. It includes the Study of Words, Analysis of Sentences, Composition, Rhetoric (Primary and Advanced), History (Ancient and Modern), and the History of English and American Literature. Attention is also given to the Art of Reading and Speaking, this branch of the Department being under the care of the Professor of Elocution, James H. Brownlee, A. M. At the close of the third term, prizes are awarded to the best essayist, to the best reader, and to the best declaimer.

VIII.

FINE ARTS.

Students desiring instruction in Music (Vocal and Instrumental), in Drawing (Linear and Perspective), in Painting in Water Colors or Oil, can be accommodated on reasonable terms.

IX.

A Normal Department under efficient management is fully organized in which students are specially trained for common school work. The requisite studies are thoroughly reviewed and instruction in the theory and practice of Teaching is given.

LAW DEPARTMENT.

HON. H. H. HORNER, A.M., DEAN.

At a meeting of the Joint Board, in June 1860, the Faculty were authorized to open a Law Department, and make provision to meet the wants of the students in regard to law studies. That Department has been opened, and is now in successful operation. It is under the care and instruction of one who will call others to assist him as occasion may require.

When the following course of studies has been completed in a satisfactory manner, the degree of Bachelor of Laws, if desired, will be conferred.

COURSE OF LAW STUDIES.

FIRST YEAR.—Blackstone's Commentaries; Kent's Commentaries; Chitty on Contracts, Gould's Pleading; Greenleaf's Evidence.

This list will be enlarged as occasion requires.

SECOND YEAR.—Blackstone's Commentaries; Kent's Commentaries; Chitty on Contracts; Gould's Pleading; Stephen's Pleading; Chitty's Pleading; Story on Bills; Story on Partnership; Story on Agency; Story on Bailments; Angel on Limitations; Story's Equity Pleading and Jurisprudence; Greenleaf's Evidence; Angel and Ames on Corporations; Browne on Action at Law; Mansel on Demurrer; Burton on Real Property; Curtis' Forms; Rawle on Covenants of Title.

In addition to regular recitations, a Course of Lectures is delivered in each quarter.

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT.

J. W. WHITTLESEY, A.M.

In this Department it is the design to give the student a thorough course of instruction in Book Keeping by both Single and Double Entry, in every branch of business and profession, including national and private Bank Accounts, Railroad and Steamboat Book Keeping, Business Correspondence, Commercial Law, Business Ethics, Mercantile Economy, Telegraphy, Practical Penmanship, Reading, Spelling, lectures, etc.

For the amount charged, a more extended course is afforded here than in any other Business College in the West.

For Special Circular and full particulars apply to Prof. Whittlesey.

THEOLOGICAL CLASS.

For the accommodation of students having the Ministry in view, a Theological Class is organized under the charge of the President. A complete course in Systematic Theology is proposed,

REFERENCE BOOKS.

The following books are recommended for reference in the Department of the Languages:

GREEK GRAMMARS—Buttman, Kühner, Hadley and Crosby.
LATIN GRAMMARS—Zumpt, Madvig, Andrews & Stoddard, Bullions, & Morris, Allen & Greenough, Gildersleeve.

SCHOLARSHIP AND PRIZES.

The Stanton Centenary Scholarship is a centenary donation from the late Thomas Stanton, M.D., of Alton, to the Southern Illinois Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church; and it entitles the holder to Tuition, Incidentals and Room Rent, free of charge, for the time of holding it. It is to be given as a prize "to that young man preparing for the sacred ministry who shall have passed the best examination in the studies of the next term preceding, and who shall be recommended as worthy by the Presiding Elder of the District in the Conference which includes Lebanon." Its cash value is eighteen dollars per term.

The Platonian Scholarship is a prize given to the young man who shall, during any term, best perform all the duties assigned to him in the Platonian Society. It is to be assigned at the close of each term, and to be used for the next succeeding term. It entitles the student holding it to tuition free of charge.

The Brownlee Prize for Declamation is given to the one who shall excel in declamation at what is called the "Junior and Sophomore Prize Declamation," at the close of the year. It is the gift of Prof. J. H. Brownlee, and is twenty-five dollars.

There are also two Citizens' Prizes of twenty-five dollars each, to be awarded, one, to the lady who shall excel in reading; the other, to the member of the Senior or Junior class who shall write and present the best essay at Commencement.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

Parents and guardians are informed that daily records are kept of the merit and demerit of each student, the former denoting the excellencies of each in his recitations and other College exercises; the latter, the delinquencies and deficiencies of each in his respective duties. The President will furnish an exhibit of these records in any particular case, when requested by the student or his friends; and in all cases where private admonition has been given without effect, a statement of demerit will be forwarded to the friends of such delinquent scholar. This will be the last step of discipline preceding the final one of suspension or dismissal. The Faculty are determined that the College shall not be infested, and the whole community embarrassed, and perhaps corrupted, by idle or dissolute members.

FUNDS.

By a resolution of the Board of Trustees, the parent or guardian of each minor is expected to name some person in Lebanon as the guardian or patron of his son or ward while in College, with whom his funds shall be deposited, and to whom he shall be accountable for their proper use. All persons are forbidden to trust a minor without the consent of his guardian, and are hereby notified that if they do so it is at their own risk.

EXAMINATIONS.

Two days at the close of each term will be devoted to examination on the studies pursued during the term. No student will be advanced unless he pass a satisfactory examination. The examining Committee are solicited to be present at all examinations.

GOVERNMENT.

The discipline of the Institution will be paternal and mild, but firm. An effort will be made to awaken and develop the mental and moral faculties, and thus to secure the true element of progress through life. Transgression of rules and negligence in study may be borne with for a season, when signs of amendment are perceived; but no student will be permitted to remain while acting in open disregard of these rules. A daily record of the merit and demerit of each student is kept, and permanently entered upon the College Record. Five demerits during one term render him subject to private reproof, and twenty to suspension or dismissal.

Believing that the time appropriated to vacation is ample for relaxation, and having painfully observed the evil effects of absence from recitation, either at the beginning or any other period of the term, upon the standing and proficiency of the student, the Faculty earnestly request parents and guardians not to sanction such absence without very urgent reasons.

REQUIREMENTS.

Regular and punctual attendance at the morning services in the chapel, at recitations, at church, and at the Sunday afternoon lecture; the strict observance of the hours prescribed for study; the faithful performance of the exercises, studies and duties assigned by the Faculty; a prompt account of the reason for any neglect of duty, tardiness or absences; the subordination of all other exercises and studies to those required by the Faculty.

PROHIBITIONS.

Irreverence during religious services at church or chapel; violation of the Sabbath by engaging in any kind of play or amusement, or by assembling, except for worship, in the rooms of students or elsewhere; disrespect toward the Faculty; ungentlemanly treatment of fellow students or citizens; absence from room during the hours of study; loud conversation, loud laughing, wrestling, jumping, or other unnecessary noise in the College buildings or campus; disturbance of the regular recitations and exercises in any way whatever; the frequenting of taverns, groceries, billiard saloons, bowling alleys, or any such places of drinking or amusement; lounging about stores or public places, or remaining there longer than business requires; using profane or obscene language; visiting circuses or shows; keeping pistols, dirking-knives, or any unlawful weapons; card-playing and gambling of every kind; writing upon or otherwise defacing the College buildings or furniture; disorderly conduct at boarding-houses or elsewhere; leaving town without the knowledge and consent of the Faculty; taking lessons in any branch of study, in the regular College terms, from any person not connected with the Faculty, except by permission.

LIBRARIES.

The Libraries of the College and Literary Societies contain about 7,500 volumes. The College Library is accessible to all the students, according to the rules established by the Joint Board. The Libraries belonging to the Literary Societies are accessible to the members of the societies, according to the rules established by themselves. During the past year a number of volumes have been added to the College Library, and it is hoped that a still larger addition will be made during the present year. The Literary Societies have, also, greatly increased the number and value of their books by liberal and well selected purchases.

Law Students have the privileges of the College Library, and may, by the consent of the Faculty, become honorary members of either of the Literary Societies, and thus obtain access to the Society Libraries.

APPARATUS.

The apparatus belonging to the College is extensive and well selected, and affords excellent facilities for giving instruction in the Natural Sciences, and is in constant use by the classes as occasion demands.

TEXT BOOKS.

All the books in the course of study are kept at the College, and will be sold to students at the usual prices. A full supply of stationery is kept on hand for the accommodation of students.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

Three literary societies— the Philosophian, the Platonian, and the Clionian—have been organized, and are accomplishing much for the practical training of their members in the methods of transacting public business. They are under rules made by the joint action of the Trustees, the Faculty, and the societies themselves. These have well selected Libraries, to which additions are made from time to time.

DEGREES CONFERRED.

The degree of Bachelor of Arts is conferred only on those who have, in a satisfactory manner, completed the branches embraced in the Classical Course.

The degree of Bachelor of Science will be conferred on all those who have, in like manner, completed the branches embraced in the Scientific Course.

The degree of Bachelor of Laws will be conferred on all who complete, in a satisfactory manner, the course of study prescribed for that department. Graduation fees must be paid in advance of the final examination.

The degree of Master of Arts may be conferred on any Bachelor of Arts of three years' standing, who, during the interval, has sustained a good moral character, and been engaged in some literary, professional, or scientific pursuit. Graduates of longer standing, or from other Colleges, may receive the Master's degrees on the same terms. Applications for the degree should be made to the President of the College at least three months before Commencement.

HISTORY.

M'Kendree College was founded as an institution of learning, February 20th, 1828. It was established in consequence of the action of the Illinois Conference at its session at Mt. Carmel, September, 1827. Mr. E. R. Ames, now a Bishop in the M. E. Church, was placed at its head. The population of St. Clair County at that time did not exceed 5,000, and that of the State of Illinois was not more than 140,000. In 1830, Bishop McKendree donated to the College a valuable section of land, and the institution was named in honor of him. It received its charter from the State in 1834. The now venerable Peter Akers, D.D., was shortly after chosen President. At the solicitation of the Board of Trustees, the Legislature of the State granted a new charter, January 26, 1839, investing the institution with the powers of a University. It has the active patronage of the Missouri, the Southern Illinois, and the St. Louis Conferences. Its Roll of Alumni bears the names of about three hundred persons, many of whom are in high offices of trust both in church and state.

LOCATION.

Lebanon, Illinois, the seat of the College, is a quiet village on the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, twenty-two miles east of St. Louis. It is easy of access and comparatively free from the incentives to vice usual to large cities. The community is remarkable for its intelligence and sobriety and for its high social character, so that the social and moral requirements of the student while in College are fully met. For this reason as well as on account of the educational advantages afforded by the school, the attention of parents is invited to McKendree College as a most desirable place for the education of their sons and daughters.

Special information concerning the College may be obtained by correspondence with the Faculty or with any member of the patronizing conferences.

PROFESSORSHIPS.

The studies in the preceding course are distributed among the following Professorships:

I.

MENTAL AND MORAL SCIENCE.

REV. ROSS C. HOUGHTON, D. D.

This Department includes Psychology, Logic, Moral Philosophy, and evidences of Christianity; also Constitutional and International Law and Political Economy. The thorough examination of approved text-books, accompanied with oral lectures, comprises the instruction proposed. Free discussion on the part of the students is encouraged, and essays on the leading topics of study are required. Access to the standard authorities in the College Library is afforded to all the classes.

II.

MATHEMATICS AND ASTRONOMY.

REV. OLIVER V. JONES, A.M.

The Course in this Department extends through a period of four years.

FRESHMAN YEAR.

FIRST TERM	Algebra	Robinson.
SECOND TERM	Algebra and Geometry	Robinson.
THIRD TERM	Geometry	Robinson.

SOPHOMORE YEAR.

FIRST TERM	Trigonometry	Loomis.
SECOND TERM	Analytical Geometry	Loomis.

JUNIOR YEAR.

FIRST TERM	Calculus	Loomis.
THIRD TERM	Mechanics	Peck.

SENIOR YEAR.

THIRD TERM	Astronomy	Loomis.

During the Course lectures will be delivered on the History and Utility of Mathematics and Astronomy.

Exercises in the field will be given in Mensuration and Surveying.

An effort will be made to render the branches pursued in this Department not only disciplinary to the mind, but of practical utility to the Student.

III.

LATIN LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE.

PROF. SAMUEL H. DENEEN, A.M. PH.D.

This department aims to familiarize the student with the forms, structure and idioms of the Latin Language; with the laws of the different forms of poetical and prose composition; with the style and characteristics of the best Roman authors; the historical periods to which the several writers read belong; and with Roman life and civilization as illustrated thereby

In addition to the daily drill and analysis of words and sentences, written translations are required from English into Latin and from Latin into English; and attention is continually called to the words in our language derived from the Latin, and to the influence and imitation of Roman authors to be traced in our own literature.

The authors read are: HISTORIANS—Cæsar, Sallust, Livy and Tacitus. POETS—Virgil, Horace, Ovid and Juvenal. DRAMATISTS—Plautus or Terence; and the ORATIONS and MORAL and PHILOSOPHICAL WORKS OF Cicero.

IV.

GREEK LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE.

REV. WM. F. SWAHLEN, A.M. PH.D.

The studies in this Department aim, first, at affording the student a means for the discipline and development of his faculties, which shall serve as a basis for subsequent special studies; and secondly, at making him master of the principles and structure of the language, as well as familiar with the standard authors and the literature of the various periods.

In the earlier part of the course the Etymology and Syntax receive special attention—stress being laid on written exercises, from English into Greek; as the student advances, the Mythology, History and Antiquities are progressively introduced, and written translations from Greek into English receive due attention. Essays are also regularly required on the different authors and their characteristics.

The course embraces two terms of Poetry, two of History, one each of Philosophy, Tragedy, Comedy, Oratory, and Greek Testament.

V.

GERMAN LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE.

REV. WM. F. SWAHLEN, A.M. PH.D.

Until quite recently this study was optional; but the joint Board, at its annual session in 1874, wisely resolved to make it a two years' course, obligatory on candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Science. We hope this is but the beginning of better things, and that the time is not far distant when the course shall be so enlarged as to enable students to become still better acquainted with the rich literature of this, "the most cultivated of modern tongues."

The object aimed at in this Department is to make the student not only theoretically but practically acquainted with this living language.

The first year is occupied with the study of the structure of the language; the second is devoted to the study of the literature. Throughout the former, written exercises are daily required, and colloquial practice is commenced at an early period. By this constant practice the ear and the tongue are educated, as well as the eye, and a good degree of proficiency is attained.

COURSE OF STUDY.

FIRST YEAR.

FIRST TERM	Comfort's Course.
SECOND TERM	Comfort's Course, completed.
THIRD TERM	Berlin Echo.

SECOND YEAR.

FIRST TERM	Worman's German Reader. Written Translations.
SECOND TERM	Schiller—William Tell or Maid of Orleans. History of German Literature.
THIRD TERM	Goethe—Egmont or Iphigenie in Tauris. History of German Literature.

VI.

PHYSICS AND NATURAL SCIENCE.

REV. E. E. EDWARDS, A.M., PH.D.

This Department includes Natural Philosophy, Physiology, Botany, Zoology, Biology, Geology, Mineralogy and Chemistry.

The Chemical and Philosophical Apparatus is sufficiently complete to admit of numerous illustrative experiments. Lectures are given in all the sciences in this department. The student is required to write essays on scientific topics, and to pass weekly examinations on the studies pursued. These examinations and the final examination at the end of each term, are to be written throughout. It is the aim of the teacher to encourage the students in his classes to form habits of careful research and of independent thinking and investigation, and those methods of study are recommended which will secure the best practical results.

VII.

ENGLISH LITERATURE.

This Department is temporarily under the charge of the Professor of Natural Science assisted by other members of the faculty. It includes the Study of Words, Analysis of Sentences, Composition, Rhetoric (Primary and Advanced), History (Ancient and Modern), and the History of English and American Literature. Attention is also given to the Art of Reading and Speaking, this branch of the Department being under the care of the Professor of Elocution, James H. Brownlee, A.M. At the close of the third term prizes are awarded to the best essayist, to the best reader, and to the best declaimer.

VIII.

FINE ARTS.

Students desiring instruction in Music (Vocal and Instrumental), in Drawing, (Linear and Perspective), in Painting in Water Colors or Oil, can be accommodated on reasonable terms.

IX.

A Normal Department under efficient management is fully organized, in which students are specially trained for common school work. The requisite studies are thoroughly reviewed, and instruction in the theory and practice of teaching is given.

LAW DEPARTMENT.

HON. H. H. HORNER, A.M., DEAN.

At a meeting of the Joint Board, in June, 1860, the Faculty were authorized to open a Law Department, and make provision to meet the wants of students in regard to law studies. That Department has been opened and is now in sucessful operation. It is under the care and instruction of one who will call others to assist him as occasion may require.

When the following course of studies has been completed in a satisfactory manner, the degree of Bachelor of Laws, if desired, will be conferred.

COURSE OF LAW STUDIES.

FIRST YEAR.—Blackstone's Commentaries; Kent's Commentaries; Chitty on Contracts; Gould's Pleading; Greenleaf's Evidence.

This list will be enlarged as occasion requires.

SECOND YEAR.—Blackstone's Commentaries; Kent's Commentaries; Chitty on Contracts; Gould's Pleading; Stephen's Pleading; Chitty's Pleading; Story on Bills; Story on Partnership; Story on Agency; Story on Bailments; Angel on Limitations; Story on Equity Pleading and Jurisprudence; Greenleaf's Evidence; Angel and Ames on Corporations; Browne on Action at Law; Mansel on Demurrer; Burton on Real Property; Curtis' Forms; Rawle on Covenants of Title.

In addition to regular recitations, a Course of Lectures is delivered in each quarter.

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT.

J. W. WHITTLESEY, A.M.

In this Department it is the design to give the student a thorough course of instruction in Book Keeping by both Single and Double Entry, in every branch of business and profession, including national and private Bank Accounts, Railroad and Steamboat Book Keeping, Business Correspondence, Commercial Law, Business Ethics, Mercantile Economy, Telegraphy, Practical Penmanship, Reading, Spelling, Lectures, etc.

For the amount charged, a more extended course is afforded here than in any other Business College in the West.

For Special Circular and full particulars apply to Prof. Whittlesey.

THEOLOGICAL CLASS.

For the accommodation of students having the Ministry in view, a Theological class is organized under the charge of the President. A complete course in Systematic Theology is proposed.

REFERENCE BOOKS.

The following books are recommended for reference in the Department of the Languages:

GREEK GRAMMARS—Buttman, Kühner, Hadley and Crosby.
LATIN GRAMMARS—Zumpt, Madvig, Andrews & Stoddard, Bullion's & Morris' Allen & Greenough. Gildersleeve.
GREEK LEXICONS—Liddell & Scott, Crucius' Homeric Lexicon, Veitch's Greek Verbs, Yonge's English-Greek Lexicon.
LATIN LEXICONS—Andrews' Latin-English Lexicon, Smiths' English-Latin Lexicon, Doederlein's Latin Synonyms.
ANCIENT GEOGRAPHY—Mitchell & Short, Long's Classical Atlas, Smith's Dictionary of Ancient Geography.
ANTIQUITIES—Fiske's Manual, Bojesen, Smith's Dictionary of Antiquities.
MYTHOLOGY—Murray.
HISTORIES OF GREECE—Smith, Thirwall, Grote and Curtius.
HISTORIES OF ROME—Liddell, Arnold, Mommsen, Long, Merivale and Gibbon.
HISTORIES OF GREEK LITERATURE—Brown Mure, Müller, and Donaldson.
HISTORIES OF ROMAN LITERATURE—Browne, Cruttwell, Teuffel.
CLASSICAL DICTIONARIES—Anthon, Smith.

In connection with the daily recitations, lessons are given in the History, Literature and Antiquities of Greece and Rome, and from time to time lectures are delivered on special topics of Ancient History and Philosophy.

MISCELLANEOUS.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class must be fourteen years of age, and will be examined in the following branches or their equivalents, which, for the convenience of those who pursue their preparatory studies at this Institution, we arrange herewith into a two year's course. Candidates for advanced standing will be examined in the studies which have been pursued by the class which they propose to enter, or in others equivalent to them. In all cases satisfactory testimonials of good moral character must be presented; and when one has been a member of another College, a certificate of regular dismission will be required.

Candidates for the Scientific Course will be subject to similar examinations and requirements except in the languages.

Students in either of the Preparatory Departments will be required to attend to duties assigned them weekly in Composition and Declamation.

SCHOLARSHIP AND PRIZES.

The Stanton Centenary Scholarship is a centenary donation from the late Thomas Stanton, M. D., of Alton, to the Southern Illinois Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church; and it entitles the holder to Tuition, Incidentals and Room Rent, free of charge, for the time of holding it. It is to be given as a prize " to that young man preparing for the sacred ministry who shall have passed the best examination in the studies of the next term preceding, and who shall be recommended as worthy by the Presiding Elder of the District in the Conference which includes Lebanon." Its cash value is eighteen dollars per term.

The Platonian Scholarship is a prize given to the young man who shall, during any term, best perform all the duties assigned to him in the Platonian Society. It is to be assigned at the close of each term, and to be used for the next succeeding term. It entitles the student holding it to tuition free of charge.

The Citizens' Prize for Declamation is given to the one who shall excel in declamation at what is called the "Junior and Sophomore Prize Declamation," at the close of the year.

There are also two Citizens' Prizes of twenty-five dollars each, to be awarded, one, to the lady who shall excel in reading; the other to the member of the Senior or Junior class who shall write and present the best essay at Commencement.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

Parents and guardians are informed that daily records are kept of the merit and demerit of each student, the former denoting the excellencies of each in his recitations and other College exercises; the latter, the delinquencies and deficiencies of each in his respective duties. The President will furnish an exhibit of these records in any particular case, when requested by the student or his friends; and in all cases where private admonition has been given without effect, a statement of demerit will be forwarded to the friends of such delinquent scholar. This will be the last step of discipline preceding the final one of suspension or dismissal. The Faculty are determined that the College shall not be infested, and the whole community embarrassed, and perhaps corrupted, by idle or dissolute members.

FUNDS.

By a resolution of the Board of Trustees, the parent or guardian of each minor is expected to name some person in Lebanon as the guardian or patron of his son or ward while in College, with whom his funds shall be deposited, and to whom he shall be accountable for their proper use. All persons are forbidden to trust a minor without the consent of his guardian, and are hereby notified that if they do so it is at their own risk.

EXAMINATIONS.

Two days at the close of each term will be devoted to examination on the studies pursued during the term. No student will be advanced unless he pass a satisfactory examination. The examining Committee are solicited to be present at all examinations.

GOVERNMENT.

The discipline of the Institution will be paternal and mild, but firm. An effort will be made to awaken and develop the mental and moral faculties, and thus to secure the true element of progress through life. Transgressions of rules and negligence in study may be borne with for a season, when signs of amendment are perceived; but no student will be permitted to remain while acting in open disregard of these rules. A daily record of the merit and demerit of each student is kept, and permanently entered upon the College Record. Five demerits during one term render him subject to private reproof, and twenty to suspension or dismissal.

Believing that the time appropriated to vacation is ample for relaxation, and having painfully observed the evil effects of absence from recitation, either at the beginning or any other period of the term, upon the standing and proficiency of the student, the Faculty earnestly request parents and guardians not to sanction such absence without very urgent reasons.

REQUIREMENTS.

Regular and punctual attendance at the morning services in the chapel, at recitations, at church, and at the Sunday afternoon lecture; the strict observance of the hours prescribed for study; the faithful performance of the exercises, studies and duties assigned by the Faculty; a prompt account of the reason for any neglect of duty, tardiness or absences; the subordination of all other exercises and studies to those required by the Faculty.

PROHIBITIONS.

Irreverence during religious services at church or chapel; violation of the Sabbath by engaging in any kind of play or amusement, or by assembling, except for worship, in the rooms of students or elsewhere; disrespect toward the Faculty; ungentlemanly treatment of fellow students or citizens; absence from room during the hours of study; loud conversation. loud laughing, wrestling, jumping, or other unnecessary noise in the College buildings or campus; disturbance of the regular recitations and exercises in any way whatever; the frequenting of taverns, groceries, billiard saloons, bowling alleys, or any such places of drinking or amusement; lounging about stores or public places, or remaining there longer than business requires; using profane or obscene language; visiting circuses or shows; keeping pistols, dirking-knives, or any unlawful weapons; card-playing and gambling of every kind; writing upon or otherwise defacing the College buildings or furniture; disorderly conduct at boarding houses or elsewhere; leaving town without the knowledge and consent of the Faculty; taking lessons in any branch of study, in the regular College terms, from any person not connected with the Faculty, except by permission.

LIBRARIES.

The Libraries of the College and Literary Societies contain about 7,500 volumes. The College Library is accessible to all the students, according to the rules established by the Joint Board. The Libraries belonging to the Literary Societies are accessible to the members of the societies, according to the rules established by themselves. During the past year a number of volumes have been added to the College Library, and it is hoped that a still larger addition will be made during the present year. The Literary Societies have, also, greatly increased the number and value of their books by liberal and well selected purchases.

Law Students have the privileges of the College Library, and may, by the consent of the Faculty, become honorary members of either of the Literary Societies, and thus obtain access to the Society Libraries.

APPARATUS.

The apparatus belonging to the College is extensive and well selected, and affords excellent facilities for giving instruction in the Natural Sciences, and is in constant use by the classes as occasion demands.

TEXT BOOKS.

All the books in the course of study are kept at the College, and will be sold to students at the usual prices. A full supply of stationery is kept on hand for the accommodation of students.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

Three literary societies—the Philosophian; the Platonian, and the Clionian—have been organized, and are accomplishing much for the practical training of their members in the methods of transacting public business. They are under rules made by the joint action of the Trustees, the Faculty, and the societies themselves. These have well selected Libraries, to which additions are made from time to time.

DEGREES CONFERRED.

The degree of Bachelor of Arts is conferred only on those who have, in a satisfactory manner, completed the branches embraced in the Classical Course.

The degree of Bachelor of Science will be conferred on all those who have, in like manner, completed the branches embraced in the Scientific Course.

The degree of Bachelor of Laws will be conferred on all who complete, in a satisfactory manner, the course of study prescribed for that department. Graduation fees must be paid in advance of the final examination.

The degree of Master of Arts will be conferred on any Bachelor of Arts of three years' standing, who, during the interval, has sustained a good moral character, and been engaged in some literary, professional, or scientific pursuit. Graduates of longer standing, or from other Colleges, may receive the Master's degrees on the same terms. Applications for the degree should be made to the President of the College at least three months before Commencement.

HISTORY.

M'Kendree College was founded as an institution of learning, February 20th, 1828. It was established in consequence of the action of the Illinois Conference at its session at Mt. Carmel, September, 1827 Mr. E. R. Ames, now a Bishop in the M. E. Church, was placed at its head. The population of St. Clair County at that time did not exceed 5,000, and that of the State of Illinois was not more than 140,000. In 1830, Bishop M'Kendree donated to the College a valuable section of land, and the institution was named in honor of him. It received its charter from the State in 1834. The now venerable Peter Akers, D.D., was shortly after chosen President. At the solicitation of the Board of Trustees, the Legislature of the State granted a new charter, January 26, 1839. investing the institution with the powers of a University. It has the active patronage of the Missouri, the Southern Illinois, and the St. Louis Conferences. Its Roll of Alumni bears the names of about three hundred persons, many of whom are in high offices of trust both in church and state.

LOCATION.

Lebanon, Illinois, the seat of the College, is a quiet village on the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, twenty-two miles east of St. Louis. It is easy of access and comparatively free from the incentives to vice usual to large cities. The community is remarkable for its intelligence and sobriety, and for its high social character, so that the social and moral requirements of the student while in College are fully met. For this reason, as well as on account of the educational advantages afforded by the school, the attention of parents is invited to M'Kendree College as a most desirable place for the education of their sons and daughters.

Special information concerning the College may be obtained by correspondence with the Faculty, or with any member of the patronizing Conferences.

PROFESSORSHIPS.

The studies in the preceding course are distributed among the following Professorships:

I.

MENTAL AND MORAL SCIENCE.

REV. D. W. PHILLIPS, A.M.

This Department includes Psychology, Logic, Moral Philosophy and Evidences of Christianity; also Constitutional and Internationa Law, and Political Economy. The thorough examination of approve text-books, accompanied with oral lectures, comprises the instructio proposed. Free discussion on the part of the students is encouraged and essays on the leading topics of study are required. Access t the standard authorities in the College Library is afforded to all th classes.

II.

LATIN LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE.

PROF. SAMUEL H. DENEEN, A.M., PH.D.

This Department aims to familiarize the student with the forms structure and idioms of the Latin Language; with the laws of th different forms of poetical and prose composition; with the style an characteristics of the best Roman authors; the historical periods t which the several writers read belong; and with Roman life an civilization as illustrated thereby.

In addition to the daily drill and analysis of words and sentences written translations are required from English into Latin and fron Latin into English; and attention is continually called to the word in our language derived from the Latin, and to the influence an imitation of Roman authors to be traced in our own literature.

The authors read are: Historians—Cæsar, Sallust, Livy, and Tacitus. Poets—Virgil, Horace, Ovid, and Juvenal. Dramatists—Plautus or Terence; and the Orations and Moral and Philosophical Works of Cicero.

III.

GREEK LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE.

REV. WM. F. SWAHLEN, A.M., PH.D.

The studies in this Department aim, first, at affording the student a means for the discipline and development of his faculties, which shall serve as a basis for subsequent special studies; and secondly, at making him master of the principles and structure of the language, as well as familiar with the standard authors and the literature of the various periods.

In the earlier part of the course the Etymology and Syntax receive special attention—stress being laid on written exercises, from English into Greek; as the student advances, the Mythology, History, and Antiquities are progressively introduced, and written translations from Greek into English receive due attention. Essays are also regularly required on the different authors and their characteristics.

The course embraces two terms of Poetry, two of History, one each of Philosophy, Tragedy, Comedy, Oratory, and Greek Testament.

IV.

GERMAN LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE.

REV. WM. F. SWAHLEN, A.M. PH. D.

Until quite recently this study was optional; but the joint Board, at its annual session in 1874, wisely resolved to make it a two years' course obligatory on candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Science. We hope this is but the beginning of better things, and that the time is not far distant when the course shall be so enlarged as to enable students to become still better acquainted with the rich literature of this, "the most cultivated of modern tongues."

The object aimed at in this Department is to make the student not only theoretically but practically acquainted with this living language.

The first year is occupied with the study of the structure of the language; the second is devoted to the study of the literature. Throughout the former, written exercises are daily required, and colloquial practice is commenced at an early period. By this constant practice the ear and the tongue are educated as well as the eye, and a good degree of proficiency is attained.

COURSE OF STUDY.

THIRD TERM	Goethe—Egmont or Iphigenie in Tauris. History of German Literature.

V.

MATHEMATICS AND ASTRONOMY.

REV. JOSEPH HARRIS, A.M.

The course in this Department extends through a period of four years.

FRESHMAN YEAR.

FIRST TERM	Algebra	Robinson.
SECOND TERM	Algebra and Geometry	Robinson.
THIRD TERM	Geometry	Robioson.

SOPHOMORE YEAR.

FIRST TERM	Trigonometry	Loomis.
SECOND TERM	Analytical Geometry	Loomis.

JUNIOR YEAR.

FIRST TERM	Calculus	Loomis.
THIRD TERM	Mechanics	Peck.

SENIOR YEAR.

THIRD TERM	Astronomy	Loomis.

During the Course lectures will be delivered on the History and Utility of Mathematics and Astronomy.

Exercises in the field will be given in Mensuration and Surveying. An effort will be made to render the branches pursued in this Department not only disciplinary to the mind, but of practical utility to the student.

VI.

PHYSICS AND NATURAL SCIENCE.

PROF. LUCY J. RIDER.

This Department includes Natural Philosophy, Physiology, Botany, Zoology, Biology, Geology, Mineralogy, and Chemistry, theoretical and practical.

The Chemical and Philosophical Apparatus is sufficiently complete to admit of numerous illustrative experiments, and is receiving constant addition. Lectures are given in this department as occasion may demand; and essays on Scientific subjects, with frequent examinations, written and oral, are designed to thoroughly test the proficiency of the students. It is the aim of the teacher to encourage habits of research and independent investigation, and opportunities for practical work in blow-pipe and wet analysis will be afforded the students, in connection with Scientific theory.

VII.

ENGLISH LITERATURE, ELOCUTION, AND PHONETICS.

PROF. IDA M. MILLER, M.M.

The aim in the Department of English Literature is to render the student familiar with the origin and history of the English Language, its most important authors, the nature of their works, the characteristics of their genius, and the tendencies of the epochs in which they lived. Essays, biographical, historical, and critical, are required in connection with the daily recitations.

The instruction in the Department of Elocution and Phonetics includes the Culture of the Speaking Voice, Articulation, Orthoëpy, Philosophy of Expression, Declamation, Gesture, Oratorical Action, Dramatic Art, and Literary Criticism. Three lessons are given each week—two to instruction in Elocution and one to the critical reading of standard authors. Great care is taken to cultivate in the student correct habits of speech, and an easy graceful and forcible delivery. The following text books are used: Brown's Charts on Emotion and Gesture; The cultivation of the Speaking Voice, Hullah; Voice in Singing, Voice in Speech, Seiler; Philosophy of the Human Voice, by Dr. Rush. COLLATERAL READING: Flint's Physiology, Tyndall on Sound, Kames' Elements of Criticism. At the close of the third term prizes are awarded to the best declaimer, the best reader, and the best essayist.

VIII.

NORMAL DEPARTMENT.

A Normal Department under efficient management is organized, in which students are especially trained for common school work. The requisite studies are thoroughly reviewed, and lectures in Theory and Practice of Teaching are given, with practical work, as opportunity offers, under the constant direction and criticism of some member of the Faculty.

IX.

LAW DEPARTMENT.

HON. H. H. HORNER, A.M., DEAN.

At a meeting of the Joint Board, in June, 1860, the Faculty were authorized to open a Law Department, and make provision to meet the wants of students in regard to law studies. That Department has been opened and is now in successful operation. It is under the care and instruction of one who will call others to assist him as occasion may require.

When the following course of studies has been completed in a satisfactory manner, the degree of Bachelor of Laws, if desired, will be conferred.

COURSE OF LAW STUDIES.

First Year.—Blackstone's Commentaries; Kent's Commentaries; Chitty on Contracts; Gould's Pleading; Greenleaf's Evidence.

This list will be enlarged as occasion requires.

Second Year.—Blackstone's Commentaries; Kent's Commentaries; Chitty on Contracts; Gould's Pleading; Stephen's Pleading; Chitty's Pleading; Story on Bills; Story on Partnership; Story on Agency; Story on Bailments; Angel on Limitations; Story on Equity Pleading and Jurisprudence; Greenleaf's Evidence; Angel and Ames on Corporations; Browne on Action at Law; Mansel on Demurrer; Burton on Real Property; Curtis' Forms; Rawle on Covenants of Title.

In addition to regular recitations, a Course of Lectures is delivered in each quarter.

X.

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT.

J. W. WHITTLESEY, A.M.

In this Department it is the design to give the student a thorough course of instruction in Book Keeping, by both Single and Double Entry, in every branch of business and profession, including national and private Bank Accounts, Railroad and Steamboat Book Keeping, Business Correspondence, Commercial Law, Business Ethics, Mercantile Economy, Telegraphy, Practical Penmanship, Reading, Spelling, Lectures, etc.

For the amount charged, a more extended course is afforded here than in any other Business College in the West.

For Special Circular and full particulars apply to Professor Whittlesey.

XI.

THEOLOGICAL CLASS.

For the accommodation of students having the Ministry in view, a Theological class is organized under the charge of the President. A complete course in Systematic Theology is proposed.

XII.

CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC.

GEORGE H. FARWELL, DIRECTOR AND PROF. OF INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC.

A complete course has been laid out for those who desire a systematic training in the art of Piano-forte Playing. Only the best authorized methods will be employed, and great pains will be taken in the technical and artistic development of the pupil.

Those entering the regular course, having reached a sufficient degree of excellence, will be required to perform at the public rehearsals and concerts and various entertainments of the College.

COURSE OF STUDY FOR THE PIANO.

First Grade.—New England Conservatory Method, part first; Selections from Plaidy, Scales, Arpeggios, etc.

Second Grade.—New England Conservatory Method, part second; Selections from Plaidy, Scales, Arpeggios, etc.; Studies from the works of Heller, Bertini, and others; Characteristic Pieces by Schumann, Spindler and others; Easy Pieces from Schubert, Beethoven, Mozart, Mendelssohn, and modern composers; Pieces for four hands.

Third Grade.—New England Conservatory Method, part third; Scales and Arpeggios continued; Scales in double thirds, sixths, etc.; Studies from the works of Duvernoy, Bertini, Czerny, Schmidt, Heller, Krause and others; Pieces by Schumann, Spindler, Mendelssohn, Haydn, and Mozart; Operatic Selections; Selections from modern composers; Duets.

Fourth Grade.—Plaidy's Technical Studies; Duvernoy's École du Mécanisme; Czerny's Études de la Vélocité; Heller, op. 45; Cramer's Studies; Selections from Bach's French Suites and Clemente's Gradus ad Parnassum; Selections from Mendelssohn's Lieder Chor; Worthe; Cappussis; Sonatas by Beethoven, Haydn, Mozart, Schubert and Hummel; Selections from modern composers; Duets, etc.

FIFTH GRADE. — Czerny's Finishing Studies; Selections from Bach's English Suites and the well-tempered Clavichord; Chopin's op. 10 and op. 25; Pieces by Thalbergh, Liszt, and Mendelssohn; Concertos, etc.; Selections from modern composers; Duets, etc.

The time required to complete the above course will depend upon the talent and diligence of the pupil. Before receiving a diploma, the pupil must have taken Harmony and Theory at least two terms and be able to pass a satisfactory examination in each. He will be also expected to answer general questions in Musical History and Biography.

Special arrangements will be made with all who desire an Eclectic Course.

VOCAL CULTURE.

IDA M. MILLER, M.M., PROFESSOR.

This Department comprises the following courses:

I.—Elementary—For beginners.

II.—Elective—For those who study without reference to graduation.

III.—Teachers—For those intending to teach.

IV.—Artists—For those who desire special drill in execution and expression.

The studies common to each of these courses are: Physiology of the Voice, Scansion, Notation, Vocalization, Solmization, Instrumentation, Orchestration, Brown's Charts on Elements of Music, Harmony.

Works for Collateral Reading: Marx's Musical Instruction, Bowman's and Weitzman's Manual of Music, Tyndall's Sound, Gardiner's Music of Nature, Albrechtsberger's Theory, Panseron & Dalby's Vocal Methods, History of Music (Ritter).

Candidates for graduation must be at least sixteen years of age and have passed a satisfactory examination in either the Teachers' or Artists' course, and the course of Harmony; must have read the prescribed collateral readings; must present to the teacher an original musical work, and an original essay on some topic connected with music, at least three weeks before commencement.

REFERENCE BOOKS.

The following books are recommended for reference in the Department of the Languages:

GREEK GRAMMARS.—Buttman, Kühner, Hadley and Crosby.

LATIN GRAMMARS.—Zumpt, Madvig, Andrews & Stoddard, Bullion & Morris, Allen & Greenough, Gildersleeve.

GREEK LEXICONS.—Liddell & Scott, Crucius' Homeric Lexicon, Veitch's Greek Verbs, Yonge's English-Greek Lexicon.

In connection with the daily recitations, lessons are given in the History, Literature and Antiquities of Greece and Rome, and from time to time Lectures are delivered on special topics of Ancient History and Philosophy.

MISCELLANEOUS.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class must be fourteen years of age, and will be examined in the following branches or their equivalents, which, for the convenience of those who pursue their preparatory studies at this Institution, we arrange herewith into a two years' course. Candidates for advanced standing will be examined in the studies which have been pursued by the class which they propose to enter, or in others equivalent to them. In all cases satisfactory testimonials of good moral character must be presented; and when one has been a member of another College, a certificate of regular dismission will be required.

Candidates for the Scientific Course will be subject to similar examinations and requirements, except in the languages.

SCHOLARSHIP AND PRIZES.

The Stanton Centenary Scholarship is a centenary donation from the late Thomas Stanton, M.D., of Alton, to the Southern Illinois Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church; and it entitles the holder to Tuition, Incidentals, and Room Rent, free of charge, for the time of holding it. It is to be given as a prize "to that young man preparing for the sacred ministry who shall have passed the best examination in the studies of the next term preceding, and who shall be recommended as worthy by the Presiding Elder of the District Conference which includes Lebanon." Its cash value is fourteen dollars per term.

The Platonian Scholarship is a prize given to the young man who shall, during any term, best perform all the duties assigned to him in the Platonian Society. It is to be assigned at the close of each term, and to be used for the next succeeding term. It entitles the student holding it to tuition free of charge.

The Citizens' Prize for Declamation is given to the one who shall excel in declamation at what is called the "Junior and Sophomore Prize Declamation," at the close of the year.

There are also two Citizens' Prizes of twenty-five dollars each, to be awarded, one to the lady who shall excel in Reading; the other to the member of the Senior or Junior class who shall write and present the best Essay at Commencement.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

Parents and guardians are informed that daily records are kept of the merit and demerit of each student, the former denoting the excellencies of each in his recitations and other College exercises; the latter, the delinquencies and deficiences of each in his respective duties. The President will furnish an exhibit of these records in any particular case, when requested by the student or his friends; and in all cases where private admonition has been given without effect, a statement of demerit will be forwarded to the friends of such delinquent scholar. This will be the last step of discipline preceding the final one of suspension or dismissal. The Faculty are determined that the College shall not be infested, and the whole community embarrassed, and perhaps corrupted, by idle or dissolute members.

FUNDS.

By a resolution of the Board of Trustees, the parent or guardian of each minor is expected to name some person in Lebanon as the guardian or patron of his son or ward, while in College, with whom his funds shall be deposited, and to whom he shall be accountable for their proper use. All persons are forbidden to trust a minor without the consent of his guardian, and are hereby notified that if they do so it is at their own risk.

EXAMINATIONS.

Two days at the close of each term will be devoted to examination on the studies pursued during the term. No student will be advanced unless he pass a satisfactory examination. The Examining Committee are solicited to be present at all examinations.

GOVERNMENT.

The discipline of the Institution will be paternal and mild, but firm. An effort will be made to awaken and develop the mental and moral faculties, and thus to secure the true element of progress through life. Transgressions of rules and negligence in study may be borne with for a season, when signs of amendment are perceived, but no student will be permitted to remain while acting in open disregard of these rules. A daily record of the merit and demerit of each student is kept, and permanently entered upon the College Record. Five demerits during one term render a student subject to private reproof, and twenty to suspension or dismissal.

Believing that the time appropriated to vacation is ample for relaxation, and having painfully observed the evil effects of absence from recitation, either at the beginning or any other period of the term, upon the standing and proficiency of the student, the Faculty earnestly request parents and guardians not to sanction such absence without very urgent reasons.

REQUIREMENTS.

Regular and punctual attendance at the morning services in the chapel, at recitations, at church, and at the Sunday afternoon lecture; the strict observance of the hours prescribed for study; the faithful performance of the exercises, studies and duties assigned by the Faculty; a prompt account of the reason for any neglect of duty, tardiness, or absences; the subordination of all other exercises and studies to those required by the Faculty.

PROHIBITIONS.

Irreverence during the religious services at church or chapel; violation of the Sabbath by engaging in any kind of play or amusement, or by assembling, except for worship, in the rooms of students or elsewhere; disrespect toward the Faculty; ungentlemanly treatment of fellow-students or citizens; absence from room during the hours of study; loud conversation, loud laughing, wrestling, jumping, or other unnecessary noise in the College buildings or campus; disturbance of the regular recitations and exercises in any way whatever; the frequenting of taverns, groceries, billiard saloons, or bowling alleys, or any such places of drinking or amusement; lounging about stores or public places, or remaining there longer than business requires; using profane or obscene language; visiting circuses or shows; keeping pistols, dirking-knives, or any unlawful weapons; card-playing and gambling of every kind; writing upon or otherwise defacing the College buildings or furniture; disorderly conduct at boarding houses or elsewhere; leaving town without the knowledge and consent of the Faculty; taking lessons in any branch of study, in the regular College terms, from any person not connected with the Faculty, except by permission.

LIBRARIES.

The Libraries of the College and Literary Societies contain about 7,500 volumes. The College Library is accessible to all the students, according to the rules established by the Joint Board. The Libraries belonging to the Literary Societies are accessible to the members of the societies, according to the rules established by themselves. During the past year a number of volumes have been added to the College Library, and it is hoped that a still larger addition will be made during the present year. The Literary Societies have, also, greatly increased the number and value of their books by liberal and well selected purchases.

Law students have the privileges of the College Library, and may, by the consent of the Faculty, become honorary members of either of the Literary Societies, and thus obtain access to the Society Libraries.

MUSEUM AND APPARATUS.

The apparatus belonging to the College is sufficiently extensive to afford excellent facilities for giving instruction in the Natural Sciences, and is in constant use by the classes as occasion demands.

The Museum is receiving constant additions. The most important of those received during the past year are a fine Botanical collection of about 6,000 species, representing the flora of America, with many foreign plants, and a collection of mounted birds representing the species of Southern Illinois. We desire to still further increase our collections, and the Alumni and friends of the College are earnestly requested to correspond with the Curator of the Museum, if able to furnish specimens or suggest exchanges.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

Three literary societies—the Philosophian, the Platonian, and the Clionian—have been organized, and are accomplishing much for the practical training of their members in the methods of transacting public business. They are under rules made by the joint action of the Trustees, the Faculty, and the societies themselves. These have well selected Libraries, to which additions are made from time to time.

DEGREES CONFERRED.

The degree of Bachelor of Arts is conferred only on those who have, in a satisfactory manner, completed the branches embraced in the Classical Course.

The degree of Bachelor of Science will be conferred on all those who have, in like manner, completed the branches embraced in the Scientific Course.

The degree of Bachelor of Laws will be conferred on all who complete, in a satisfactory manner, the course of study prescribed for that department. Graduation fees must be paid in advance of the final examination.

The degree of Master of Arts will be conferred on any Bachelor of Arts of three years' standing, who, during the interval, has sustained a good moral character, and been engaged in some literary, professional, or scientific pursuit. Graduates of longer standing, or from other Colleges, may receive the Master's degree on the same terms. Applications for the degree should be made to the President of the College at least three months before Commencement.

Diplomas will be awarded to students of Elocution, and Instrumental or Vocal Music, who complete the studies required.

HISTORY.

M'Kendree College was founded as an institution of learning February 20th, 1828. It was established in consequence of the action of the Illinois Conference at its session at Mt. Carmel, September, 1827. Mr. E. R. Ames, afterward a Bishop in the M. E. Church, was placed at its head. The Population of St. Clair County at that time did not exceed 5,000, and that of the State of Illinois was not more than 140,000. In 1830, Bishop M'Kendree donated to the College a valuable section of land, and the institution was named in honor of him. It received its charter from the State in 1834. The now venerable Peter Akers, D.D., was shortly after chosen President. At the solicitation of the Board of Trustees, the Legislature of the State granted a new charter, January 26, 1839, investing the institution with the powers of a University. It has the active patronage of the Missouri, the Southern Illinois, and the St. Louis Conferences. Its Roll of Alumni bears the names of about three hundred and fifty persons, many of whom are in high offices of trust both in church and state.

LOCATION.

Lebanon, Illinois, the seat of the College, is a quiet village on the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, twenty-two miles east of St. Louis. It is easy of access and comparatively free from the incentives to vice usual to large cities. The community is remarkable for its intelligence and sobriety, and for its high social character, so that the social and moral requirements of the student while in College are fully met. For this reason, as well as on account of the educational advantages afforded by the school, the attention of parents is invited to M'Kendree College as a most desirable place for the education of their sons and daughters.

Special information concerning the College may be obtained by correspondence with the Faculty, or with any member of the patronizing Conferences.

PROFESSORSHIPS.

The studies in the preceding course are distributed among the following Professorships:

I.

MENTAL AND MORAL SCIENCE.

REV. D. W. PHILLIPS, A.M.

This Department includes Psychology, Logic, Moral Philosophy and Evidences of Christianity; also Constitutional and International Law and Political Economy. The thorough examination of approved text-books, accompanied with oral lectures, comprises the instruction proposed. Free discussion on the part of the students is encouraged, and essays on the leading topics of study are required. Access to the standard authorities in the College Library is afforded to all the classes.

II.

LATIN LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE.

PROF. SAMUEL H. DENEEN, A.M., PH.D.

This Department aims to familiarize the student with the forms, structure and idioms of the Latin Language; with the laws of the different forms of poetical and prose composition; with the style and characteristics of the best Roman authors; the historical periods to which the several writers read belong; and with Roman life and civilization as illustrated thereby.

In addition to the daily drill and analysis of words and sentences, written translations are required from English into Latin and from Latin into English; and attention is continually called to the words in our language derived from the Latin, and to the influence and imitation of Roman authors to be traced in our own literature.

The authors read are: HISTORIANS—Cæsar, Sallust, Livy and Tacitus. POETS—Virgil, Horace, Ovid, and Juvenal. DRAMATISTS—Plautus or Terence; and the ORATIONS and MORAL and PHILOSOPHICAL WORKS OF CICERO.

III.

GREEK LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE.

REV. WM. F. SWAHLEN, A.M., PH.D.

The studies in this Department aim, first, at affording the student a means for the discipline and development of his faculties, which shall serve as a basis for subsequent special studies; and secondly, at making him master of the principles and structure of the language, as well as familiar with the standard authors and the literature of the various periods.

In the earlier part of the course the Etymology and Syntax receive special attention—stress being laid on written exercises, from English into Greek; as the student advances, the Mythology, History, and Antiquities are progressively introduced, and written translations from Greek into English receive due attention. Essays are also regularly required on the different authors and their characteristics.

The course embraces two terms of Poetry, two of History, one each of Philosophy, Tragedy, Comedy, Oratory, and Greek Testament.

IV.

GERMAN LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE.

REV. WM. F. SWAHLEN, A.M., PH.D.

Until quite recently this study was optional; but the joint Board, at its annual session in 1874, wisely resolved to make it a two years' course, obligatory on candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Science. We hope this is but the beginning of better things, and that the time is not far distant when the course shall be so enlarged as to enable students to become still better acquainted with the rich literature of this "the most cultivated of modern tongues."

The object aimed at in this Department is to make the student not only theoretically but practically acquainted with this living language.

The first year is occupied with the study of the structure of the language; the second is devoted to the study of the literature. Throughout the former, written exercises are daily required, and colloquial practice is commenced at an early period. By this constant practice the ear and the tongue are educated as well as the eye, and a good degree of proficiency is attained.

V.

MATHEMATICS AND ASTRONOMY.

REV. JOSEPH HARRIS, A.M.

The course in this Department extends through a period of four years.

FRESHMAN YEAR.

FIRST TERM	Algebra	Robinson.
SECOND TERM	Algebra and Geometry	Robinson.
THIRD TERM	Geometry	Loomis.

SOPHOMORE YEAR.

FIRST TERM	Trigonometry	Loomis.
SECOND TERM	Analytical Geometry	Loomis.

JUNIOR YEAR.

FIRST TERM	Calculus	Loomis.
THIRD TERM	Mechanics	Peck.

SENIOR YEAR.

THIRD TERM	Astronomy	Loomis.

During the Course lectures will be delivered on the History and Utility of Mathematics and Astronomy.

Exercises in the field will be given in Mensuration and Surveying.

An effort will be made to render the branches pursued in this Department not only disciplinary to the mind, but of practical utility to the student.

VI.

PHYSICS AND NATURAL SCIENCE.

PROF. LUCY J. RIDER, A.M.

This Department includes Natural Philosophy, Physiology, Botany, Zoology, Biology, Geology, Mineralogy, and Chemistry, theoretical and practical.

The Chemical and Philosophical Apparatus is sufficiently complete to admit of numerous illustrative experiments. Lectures are given in this department as occasion may demand; and frequent examinations, written and oral, are designed to thoroughly test the proficiency of the students. It is the aim of the teacher to encourage habits of research and independent investigation, and opportunities for practical work in blow-pipe and wet analysis will be afforded the students, in connection with Scientific theory.

VII.

ELOCUTION AND PHONETICS.

PROF. IDA M. MILLER, M.M.

The instruction in the Department of Elocution and Phonetics includes the Culture of the Speaking Voice, Articulation, Orthoëpy, Philosophy of Expression, Declamation, Gesture, Oratorical Action, Dramatic Art, and Literary Criticism. Three lessons are given each week—two to instruction in Elocution and one to the critical reading of standard authors. Great care is taken to cultivate in the student correct habits of speech, and an easy, graceful and forcible delivery. The following text books are used: Brown's Charts on Emotion and Gesture; The cultivation of the Speaking Voice, Hullah; Voice in Singing, Voice in Speech, Seiler; Philosophy of the Human Voice, by Dr. Rush. COLLATERAL READING: Flint's Physiology, Tyndall on Sound, Kames' Elements of Criticism. At the close of the third term prizes are awarded to the best declaimer, the best reader, and the best essayist.

VIII.

NORMAL DEPARTMENT.

A Normal Department under efficient management is organized, in which students are especially trained for common school work. The requisite studies are thoroughly reviewed, and lectures in Theory and Practice of Teaching are given, with practical work, as opportunity offers, under the constant direction and criticism of some member of the Faculty.

IX.

LAW DEPARTMENT.

HON. H. H. HORNER, A.M., DEAN.

At a meeting of the Joint Board, in June, 1860, the Faculty were authorized to open a Law Department, and make provision to meet the wants of students in regard to law studies. That Department has been opened and is now in successful operation. It is under the care and instruction of one who will call others to assist him as occasion may require.

When the following course of studies has been completed in a satisfactory manner, the degree of Bachelor of Laws, if desired, will be conferred.

COURSE OF LAW STUDIES.

FIRST YEAR.—Blackstone's Commentaries; Kent's Commentaries; Chitty on Contracts; Gould's Pleading; Greenleaf's Evidence.

This list will be enlarged as occasion requires.

SECOND YEAR.—Blackstone's Commentaries; Kent's Commentaries; Chitty on Contracts; Gould's Pleading; Stephen's Pleading;

Chitty's Pleading; Story on Bills; Story on Partnership; Story on Agency; Story on Bailments; Angel on Limitations; Story on Equity Pleading and Jurisprudence; Greenleaf's Evidence; Angel and Ames on Corporations; Browne on Action at Law; Mansel on Demurrer; Burton on Real Property; Curtis' Forms; Rawle on Covenants of Title.

In addition to the regular recitations the students meet weekly in the Law Association to discuss law points and hold Moot Courts.

The M'Kendree Law Association was founded in 1877, and has proved itself highly beneficial to those who are seeking a practical knowledge of the Legal Profession.

This new improvement combined with the Course of Lectures delivered in each quarter, makes the Law Department of the College one of the best in the State.

X.

COMMERCIAL AND SHORT HAND DEPARTMENT.

F. F. ROOSE, PRINCIPAL.

It is the design of this Department to give the Student a practical as well as theoretical Business Education, and make him acquainted with all the principles of Book-keeping, Commercial Law, Business Correspondence, Plain and Ornamental Penmanship, Short-hand and Taxidermy; and for the convenience of the Student has been divided into three courses:

The Commercial Course, including all departments of Book-keeping (both Single and Double Entry), as practiced in Stock and Partnership; Wholesale and Retail Merchandizing; Joint Accounts; National and Private Bank Accounts; Farm, Trustees, Executor, Administrator, Mechanic, and Laborer's Accounts; Lumbering, Manufacturing and Commission; also Commercial Law; Business Correspondence; Practical Penmanship and Detecting Counterfeit Money.

The Normal Penmanship Course, including Ornamental Penmanship and Business Writing in all its branches of Off-hand Flourishing, Lettering, Pen Drawing, Card Writing, Engrossing, Specimen Making, Blackboard Writing, &c , &c.

Short-hand Course, including the Corresponding Style and Verbatim Reporting.

TUITION AND EXPENSES.

The Commercial Course, $40.00; Normal Penmanship Course, $40.00; Short-hand Course, $10.00; Taxidermy, $10.00.

PARTIAL COURSE IN BOOK-KEEPING.

Three months, $20.00; Two months, $15.00; One month, $8.00; Nine months, $50.00.

Instructions, one school hour per day, in any one branch, for one Term, as follows:

Book-keeping, $5.00; Commercial Law, $5.00; Plain Penmanship, $5 00; Ornamental Penmanship, $10.00; Business Correspondence (two hours per week), $2.00.

This Department admits both Ladies and Gentlemen, who will be allowed to enter at any time and pursue any desired course, purchasing only such books as will be needed.

For Special Circulars and further particulars address the Principal.

XI.

THEOLOGICAL CLASS.

For the accommodation of students having the Ministry in view, a Theological class is organized under the charge of the President. A complete course in Systematic Theology is proposed.

XII.

CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC.

GEORGE H. FARWELL, DIRECTOR AND PROF. OF VOCAL AND INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC.

A complete course has been laid out for those who desire a systematic training in the art of Piano-forte Playing. Only the best authorized methods will be employed, and great pains will be taken in the technical and artistical development of the pupil.

Those entering the regular course, having reached a sufficient degree of excellence, will be required to perform at the public rehearsals and concerts and various entertainments of the College.

COURSE OF STUDY FOR THE PIANO.

FIRST GRADE.—New England Conservatory Method, part first; Selections from Plaidy. Scales, Arpeggios, etc.

SECOND GRADE.—New England Conservatory Method, part second; Selections from Plaidy, Scales, Arpeggios, etc. Studies from the works of Heller, Bertini, and others; Characteristic Pieces by Schumann, Spindler and others; Easy Pieces from Schubert, Beethoven, Mozart, Mendelssohn, and modern composers; Pieces for four hands.

THIRD GRADE.—New England Conservatory Method, part third; Scales and Arpeggios continued; Scales in double thirds, sixths, etc.; Studies from the works of Duvernoy, Bertini, Czerny, Schmidt, Heller, Krause and others; Pieces by Schumann, Spindler, Mendelssohn, Haydn, and Mozart; Operatic Selections; Selections from modern composers; Duets.

FOURTH GRADE.—Plaidy's Technical Studies; Duvernoy's École du Mécanisme; Czerny's Études de la Vélocité; Heller, op. 45; Cramer's Studies; Selections from Bach's French Suites and Clementе's Gradus ad Parnassum; Selections from Mendelssohn's "Lieder Ohne Worte"; Capriccio; Sonatas by Beethoven, Haydn, Mozart, Schubert and Hummel; Selections from modern composers; Duets, etc.

FIFTH GRADE. — Czerny's Finishing Studies; Selections from Bach's English Suites and the well-tempered Clavichord; Chopin's op. 10 and op. 25; Pieces by Thalbergh, Liszt, and Mendelssohn; Concertos, etc.; Selections from modern composers; Duets, etc.

The time required to complete the above course will depend upon the talent and diligence of the pupil. Before receiving a diploma, the pupil must have taken Harmony and Theory at least two terms and be able to pass a satisfactory examination in each. He will be also expected to answer general questions in Musical History and Biography.

Special arrangements will be made with all who desire an Eclectic Course.

VOICE CULTURE.

In this department the instruction consists mainly in the proper use of the organs of respiration, intonation and union of registers; physiology of vowels and consonants and correct pronunciation in singing; flexibility and skill in execution.

"Goldbeck's Vocal Method," a carefully prepared series of exercises based upon the Italian school, is used. The pupil will be made familiar with the best German, Italian and English composers and the various styles of singing. Opportunity will be afforded for chorus drill.

As in the instrumental department, diplomas will be awarded to those who complete the regular course of instruction.

REFERENCE BOOKS.

The following books are recommended for reference in the Department of the Languages:

GREEK GRAMMARS.—Buttman, Kühner, Hadley and Crosby.

LATIN GRAMMARS.—Zumpt, Madvig, Andrews & Stoddart, Bullion, & Morris, Allen & Greenough, Gildersleeve, Roby.

GREEK LEXICONS.—Liddell & Scott, Crucius' Homeric Lexicon, Veitch's Greek Verbs, Yonge's English-Greek Lexicon.

LATIN LEXICONS.—Harper's Latin-English Lexicon, Smith's English-Latin Lexicon, Doederlein's Latin Synonyms.

ANCIENT GEOGRAPHY.—Mitchell & Short, Long's Classical Atlas, Smith's Dictionary of Ancient Geography.

ANTIQUITIES.—Fiske's Manual, Bojesen, Smith's Dictionary of Antiquities.

MYTHOLOGY.—Murray.

HISTORIES OF GREECE.—Smith, Thirwall, Grote and Curtius.

HISTORIES OF ROME.—Liddell, Arnold, Mommsen, Long, Merrivale and Gibbon.

HISTORIES OF GREEK LITERATURE.—Brown, Mure, Müller and Donaldson.

HISTORIES OF ROMAN LITERATURE.—Browne, Cruttwell, Teuffel.

CLASSICAL DICTIONARIES.—Anthon, Smith.

In connection with the daily recitations, lessons are given in the History, Literature and Antiquities of Greece and Rome, and from time to time Lectures are delivered on special topics of Ancient History and Philosophy.

MISCELLANEOUS.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class must be fourteen years of age, and will be examined in the following branches or their equivalents, which, for the convenience of those who pursue their preparatory studies at this Institution, we arrange herewith into a two years' course. Candidates for advanced standing will be examined in the studies which have been pursued by the class which they propose to enter, or in others equivalent to them. In all cases satisfactory testimonials of good moral character must be presented; and when one has been a member of another College, a certificate of regular dismission will be required.

Candidates for the Scientific Course will be subject to similar examinations and requirements, except in the languages.

PREPARATORY COURSE.

SCHOLARSHIPS AND PRIZES.

The Stanton Centenary Scholarship is a centenary donation from the late Thomas Stanton, M.D., of Alton, to the Southern Illinois Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church; and it entitles the holder to Tuition, Incidentals, and Room Rent, free of charge, for the time of holding it. It is to be given as a prize "to that young man preparing for the sacred ministry who shall have passed the best examination in the studies of the next term preceding, and who shall be recommended as worthy by the Presiding Elder of the District Conference which includes Lebanon." Its cash value is fourteen dollars per term.

The Citizens' Prize for Declamation is given to the one who shall excel in declamation at what is called the "Junior and Sophomore Prize Declamation," at the close of the year.

There are also two Citizens' Prizes of twenty-five dollars each, to be awarded, one to the lady who shall excel in Reading; the other to the member of the Senior or Junior class who shall write and present the best Essay at Commencement.

EXPENSES.

Students may obtain board in clubs at $1 50 to $2 25 per week.

Commercial Department, one hour per day	5 00

All bills must be paid in advance.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

Parents and guardians are informed that daily records are kept of the merit and demerit of each student, the former denoting the excellencies of each in his recitations and other College exercises; the latter, the delinquencies and deficiences of each in his respective duties. The President will furnish an exhibit of these records in any particular case, when requested by the student or his friends; and in all cases where private admonition has been given without effect, a statement of demerit will be forwarded to the friends of such delinquent scholar. This will be the last step of discipline preceding the final one of suspension or dismissal. The Faculty are determined that the College shall not be infested, and the whole community embarrassed, and perhaps corrupted, by idle or dissolute members.

FUNDS.

By a resolution of the Board of Trustees, the parent or guardian of each minor is expected to name some person in Lebanon as the guardian or patron of his son or ward, while in College, with whom his funds shall be deposited, and to whom he shall be accountable for their proper use. All persons are forbidden to trust a minor without the consent of his guardian, and are hereby notified that if they do so it is at their own risk.

EXAMINATIONS.

Two days at the close of each term will be devoted to examination on the studies pursued during the term. No student will be advanced unless he pass a satisfactory examination. The Examining Committee are solicited to be present at all examinations.

GOVERNMENT.

The discipline of the Institution will be paternal and mild, but firm. An effort will be made to awaken and develop the mental and moral faculties, and thus to secure the true element of progress through life. Transgressions of rules and negligence in study may be borne with for a season, when signs of amendment are perceived, but no student will be permitted to remain while acting in open disregard of these rules. A daily record of the merit and demerit of each student is kept, and permanently entered upon the College Record. Five demerits during one term render a student subject to private reproof, and twenty to suspension or dismissal.

Believing that the time appropriated to vacation is ample for relaxation, and having painfully observed the evil effects of absence from recitation, either at the beginning or any other period of the term, upon the standing and proficiency of the student, the Faculty earnestly request parents and guardians not to sanction such absence without very urgent reasons.

REQUIREMENTS.

Regular and punctual attendance at the morning services in the chapel, at recitations, at church, and at the Sunday afternoon lecture; the strict observance of the hours prescribed for study; the faithful performance of the exercises, studies and duties assigned by the Faculty; a prompt account of the reason for any neglect of duty, tardiness, or absences; the subordination of all other exercises and studies to those required by the Faculty.

PROHIBITIONS.

Irreverence during the religious services at church or chapel; violation of the Sabbath by engaging in any kind of play or amusement, or by assembling, except for worship, in the rooms of students or elsewhere; disrespect toward the Faculty; ungentlemanly treatment of fellow-students or citizens; absence from room during the hours of study; loud conversation, loud laughing, wrestling, jumping, or other unnecessary noise in the College buildings or campus; disturbance of the regular recitations and exercises in any way whatever; the frequenting of taverns, groceries, billiard saloons, or bowling alleys, or any such places of drinking or amusement; lounging about stores or public places, or remaining there longer than business requires; using profane or obscene language; visiting circuses or shows; keeping pistols, dirking-knives, or any unlawful weapons; card-playing and gambling of every kind; writing upon or otherwise defacing the College buildings or furniture; disorderly conduct at boarding houses or elsewhere; leaving town without the knowledge and consent of the Faculty; taking lessons in any branch of study, in the regular College terms, from any person not connected with the Faculty, except by permission.

LIBRARIES.

The Libraries of the College and Literary Societies contain about 7,500 volumes. The College Library is accessible to all the students, according to the rules established by the Joint Board. The Libraries belonging to the Literary Societies are accessible to the members of the societies, according to the rules established by themselves. During the past year a number of volumes have been added to the College Library, and it is hoped that a still larger addition will be made during the present year. The Literary Societies have, also, greatly increased the number and value of their books by liberal and well selected purchases.

Law students have the privileges of the College Library, and may, by the consent of the Faculty, become honorary members of either of the Literary Societies, and thus obtain access to the Society Libraries.

MUSEUM AND APPARATUS.

The apparatus belonging to the College is sufficiently extensive to afford excellent facilities for giving instruction in the Natural Sciences, and is in constant use by the classes as occasion demands.

The Museum is receiving constant additions. The most imporant of those received during the past year are a fine Botanical collection of about 6,000 species, representing the flora of America, with many foreign plants, and a collection of mounted birds representing the species of Southern Illinois. We desire to still further increase our collections, and the Alumni and friends of the College are earnestly requested to correspond with the Curator of the Museum, if able to furnish specimens or suggest exchanges.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

Three literary societies—the Philosophian, the Platonian, and the Clionian—have been organized, and are accomplishing much for the practical training of their members in the methods of transacting public business. They are under rules made by the joint action of the Trustees, the Faculty, and the societies themselves. These have well selected Libraries, to which additions are made from time to time.

DEGREES CONFERRED.

The degree of Bachelor of Arts is conferred only on those who have, in a satisfactory manner, completed the branches embraced in the Classical Course.

The degree of Bachelor of Science will be conferred on all those who have, in like manner, completed the branches embraced in the Scientific Course.

The degree of Bachelor of Laws will be conferred on all who complete, in a satisfactory manner, the course of study prescribed for that department. Graduation fees must be paid in advance of the final examination.

The degree of Master of Arts will be conferred on any Bachelor of Arts of three years' standing, who, during the interval, has sustained a good moral character, and been engaged in some literary, professional, or scientific pursuit. Graduates of longer standing, or from other Colleges, may receive the Master's degree on the same terms. Applications for the degree should be made to the President of the College at least three months before Commencement.

Diplomas will be awarded to students of Elocution, and Instrumental or Vocal Music, who complete the studies required.

HISTORY.

M'KENDREE COLLEGE was founded as an institution of learning February 20th, 1828. It was established in consequence of the action of the Illinois Conference at its session at Mt. Carmel, September, 1827. Mr. E. R. Ames, afterward a Bishop in the M. E. Church, was placed at its head. The Population of St. Clair County at that time did not exceed 5,000, and that of the State of Illinois was not more than 140,000. In 1830, Bishop M'Kendree donated to the College a valuable section of land, and the institution was named in honor of him. It received its charter from the State in 1834. The now venerable Peter Akers, D.D., was shortly after chosen President. At the solicitation of the Board of Trustees, the Legislature of the State granted a new charter, January 26, 1839, investing the institution with the powers of a University. It has the active patronage of the Missouri, the Southern Illinois, and the St. Louis Conferences. Its Roll of Alumni bears the names of about three hundred and fifty persons, many of whom are in high offices of trust both in church and state.

LOCATION.

LEBANON, Illinois, the seat of the College, is a quiet village on the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, twenty-two miles east of St. Louis. It is easy of access and comparatively free from the incentives to vice usual to large cities. The community is remarkable for its intelligence and sobriety, and for its high social character, so that the social and moral requirements of the student while in College are fully met. For this reason, as well as on account of the educational advantages afforded by the school, the attention of parents is invited to M'Kendree College as a most desirable place for the education of their sons and daughters.

Special information concerning the College may be obtained by correspondence with the Faculty, or with any member of the patronizing Conferences.

PROFESSORSHIPS.

The studies in the preceding course are distributed among the following Professorships:

I.

MENTAL AND MORAL SCIENCE.

REV. D. W. PHILLIPS, A.M.

This Department includes Psychology, Logic, Moral Philosophy and Evidences of Christianity; also Constitutional and International Law and Political Economy. The thorough examination of approved text-books, accompanied with oral lectures, comprises the instruction proposed. Free discussion on the part of the students is encouraged, and essays on the leading topics of study are required. Access to the standard authorities in the College Library is afforded to all the classes.

II.

LATIN LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE.

PROF. SAMUEL H. DENEEN, A.M., PH.D.

This Department aims to familiarize the student with the forms, structure and idioms of the Latin Language; with the laws of the different forms of poetical and prose composition; with the style and characteristics of the best Roman authors; the historical periods to which the several writers read belong; and with Roman life and civilization as illustrated thereby.

In addition to the daily drill and analysis of words and sentences, written translations are required from English into Latin and from Latin into English; and attention is continually called to the words in our language derived from the Latin, and to the influence and imitation of Roman authors to be traced in our own literature.

The authors read are: HISTORIANS—Cæsar, Sallust, Livy, and Tacitus. POETS—Virgil, Horace, Ovid, and Juvenal. DRAMATISTS—Plautus or Terence; and the ORATIONS and MORAL and PHILOSOPHICAL WORKS OF CICERO.

III.

GREEK LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE.

REV. WM. F. SWAHLEN, A.M., PH.D.

The studies in this Department aim, first, at affording the student a means for the discipline and development of his faculties, which shall serve as a basis for subsequent special studies; and secondly, at making him master of the principles and structure of the language, as well as familiar with the standard authors and the literature of the various periods.

In the earlier part of the course the Etymology and Syntax receive special attention—stress being laid on written exercises, from English into Greek; as the student advances, the Mythology, History, and Antiquities are progressively introduced, and written translations from Greek into English receive due attention. Essays are also regularly required on the different authors and their characteristics.

The course embraces two terms of Poetry, two of History, one each of Philosophy, Tragedy, Comedy, Oratory, and Greek Testament.

IV.

GERMAN LANGUAGE AND LITERATURE.

REV. WM. F. SWAHLEN, A.M., PH.D.

Until quite recently this study was optional; but the joint Board, at its annual session in 1874, wisely resolved to make it a two years' course, obligatory on candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Science. We hope this is but the beginning of better things, and that the time is not far distant when the course shall be so enlarged as to enable students to become still better acquainted with the rich literature of this "the most cultivated of modern tongues."

The object aimed at in this Department is to make the student not only theoretically but practically acquainted with this living language.

The first year is occupied with the study of the structure of the language; the second is devoted to the study of the literature. Throughout the former, written exercises are daily required, and colloquial practice is commenced at an early period. By this constant practice the ear and the tongue are educated as well as the eye, and a good degree of proficiency is attained.

SOPHOMORE YEAR.

FIRST TERM	Trigonometry	Loomis.
SECOND TERM	Analytical Geometry	Loomis.

JUNIOR YEAR.

FIRST TERM	Calculus	Loomis.
THIRD TERM	Mechanics	Peck.

SENIOR YEAR.

THIRD TERM	Astronomy	Loomis.

During the Course lectures will be delivered on the History and Utility of Mathematics and Astronomy.

Exercises in the field will be given in Mensuration and Surveying.

An effort will be made to render the branches pursued in this Department not only disciplinary to the mind, but of practical utility to the student.

VI.

PHYSICS AND NATURAL SCIENCE.

PROF. E. B. WAGGONER, A.M.

This Department includes Natural Philosophy, Physiology, Botany, Zoology, Biology, Geology, Mineralogy, and Chemistry, theoretical and practical.

The Chemical and Philosophical Apparatus is sufficiently complete to admit of numerous illustrative experiments. Lectures are given in this department as occasion may demand; and frequent examinations, written and oral, are designed to thoroughly test the proficiency of the students. It is the aim of the teacher to encourage habits of research and independent investigation.

VII.

ENGLISH LITERATURE.

SARAH A. BARNES, A.M.

This department, hitherto consolidated with that of Natural Science, is now distinct, and efforts are being made to render it thorough, comprehensive and practical, elevating it to the position demanded by the present increased interest in the study of English.

It embraces History, Grammar, including sentential Analysis, Prose Composition, Rhetoric and English Literature, with specal studies of Chaucer, Shakespeare, and Milton.

VIII.

PROF. IDA M. MILLER, M.M.

The instruction in the Department of Elocution and Phonetics includes the Culture of the Speaking Voice, Articulation, Orthoëpy, Philosophy of Expression, Declamation, Gesture, Oratorical Action, Dramatic Art, and Literary Criticism. Three lessons are given each week—two to instruction in Elocution and one to the critical reading of standard authors. Great care is taken to cultivate in the student correct habits of speech, and an easy, graceful and forcible delivery. The following text books are used: Brown's Charts on Emotion and Gesture; The cultivation of the Speaking Voice, Hullah; Voice in Singing, Voice in Speech, Seiler; Philosophy of the Human Voice, by Dr. Rush. COLLATERAL READING: Flint's Physiology, Tyndall on Sound, Kames' Elements of Criticism. At the close of the third term prizes are awarded to the best declaimer, the best reader, and the best essayist.

IX.

NORMAL DEPARTMENT.

A Normal Department under efficient management is organized, in which students are especially trained for common school work. The requisite studies are thoroughly reviewed, and lectures in Theory and Practice of Teaching are given, with practical work, as opportunity offers, under the constant direction and criticism of some member of the Faculty.

X.

HON. H. H. HORNER, A.M., DEAN.

At a meeting of the Joint Board, in June, 1860, the Faculty were authorized to open a Law Department, and make provision to meet the wants of students in regard to law studies. That Department has been opened and is now in successful operation. It is under the care and instruction of one who will call others to assist him as occasion may require.

When the following course of studies has been completed in a satisfactory manner, the degree of Bachelor of Laws, if desired, will be conferred.

COURSE OF LAW STUDIES.

FIRST YEAR.—Blackstone's Commentaries; Kent's Commentaries; Chitty on Contracts; Gould's Pleading; Greenleaf's Evidence.

This list will be enlarged as occasion requires.

SECOND YEAR.—Blackstone's Commentaries; Kent's Commentaries; Chitty on Contracts; Gould's Pleading; Stephen's Pleading;

Chitty's Pleading; Story on Bills; Story on Partnership; Story on Agency; Story on Bailments; Angel on Limitations; Story on Equity Pleading and Jurisprudence; Greenleaf's Evidence; Angel and Ames on Corporations; Browne on Action at Law; Mansel on Demurrer; Burton on Real Property; Curtis' Forms; Rawle on Covenants of Title.

In addition to the regular recitations the students meet weekly in the Law Association to discuss law points and hold Moot Courts.

The M'Kendree Law Association was founded in 1877, and has proved itself highly beneficial to those who are seeking a practical knowledge of the Legal Profession.

This new improvement, combined with the Course of Lectures delivered in each quarter, makes the Law Department of the College one of the best in the State.

XI.

COMMERCIAL AND SHORT-HAND DEPARTMENT.

F. F. ROOSE, PRINCIPAL.

It is the design of this Department to give the Student a practical as well as theoretical Business Education, and make him acquainted with all the principles of Book-keeping, Commercial Law, Business Correspondence, Plain and Ornamental Penmanship, Short-hand and Taxidermy; and for the convenience of the Student has been divided into three courses:

The Commercial Course, including all departments of Book-keeping (both Single and Double Entry), as practiced in Stock and Partnership; Wholesale and Retail Merchandizing; Joint Accounts; National and Private Bank Accounts; Farm, Trustees, Executor, Administrator, Mechanic, and Laborer's Accounts; Lumbering, Manufacturing and Commission; also Commercial Law; Business Correspondence; Practical Penmanship, and Detecting Counterfeit Money.

The Normal Penmanship Course, including Ornamental Penmanship and Business Writing in all its branches of Off-hand Flourishing, Lettering, Pen Drawing, Card Writing, Engrossing, Specimen Making, Blackboard Writing, &c , &c.

Book-keeping, $5.00; Commercial Law, $5.00; Plain Penmanship, $5 00; Ornamental Penmanship, $10.00; Business Correspondence (two hours per week), $2.00.

This Department admits both Ladies and Gentlemen, who will be allowed to enter at any time and pursue any desired course, purchasing only such books as will be needed.

For Special Circulars and further particulars address the Principal.

XII.

THEOLOGICAL CLASS.

For the accommodation of students having the Ministry in view, a Theological class is organized under the charge of the President. A complete course in Systematic Theology is proposed.

XIII.

CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC.

LULU C. RINGEN, DIRECTOR AND PROF. OF VOCAL AND INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC.

A complete course has been laid out for those who desire a systematic training in the art of Piano-forte Playing. Only the best authorized methods will be employed, and great pains will be taken in the technical and artistical development of the pupil.

Those entering the regular course, having reached a sufficient degree of excellence, will be required to perform at the public rehearsals and concerts and various entertainments of the College.

COURSE OF STUDY FOR THE PIANO.

FIRST GRADE.—New England Conservatory Method, part first; Selections from Plaidy, Scales, Arpeggios, etc.

SECOND GRADE.—New England Conservatory Method, part second; Selections from Plaidy, Scales, Arpeggios, etc. Studies from the works of Heller, Bertini, and others; Characteristic Pieces by Schumann, Spindler and others; Easy Pieces from Schubert, Beethoven, Mozart, Mendelssohn, and modern composers; Pieces for four hands.

THIRD GRADE.—New England Conservatory Method, part third; Scales and Arpeggios continued; Scales in double thirds, sixths, etc.; Studies from the works of Duvernoy, Bertini, Czerny, Schmidt, Heller, Krause and others; Pieces by Schumann, Spindler, Mendelssohn, Haydn, and Mozart; Operatic Selections; Selections from modern composers; Duets.

FOURTH GRADE.—Plaidy's Technical Studies; Duvernoy's École du Mécanisme; Czerny's Études de la Vélocité; Heller, op. 45; Cramer's Studies; Selections from Bach's French Suites and Clemente's Gradus ad Parnassum; Selections from Mendelssohn's "Lieder Ohne Worte"; Capriccio; Sonatas by Beethoven, Haydn, Mozart, Schubert and Hummel; Selections from modern composers; Duets, etc.

FIFTH GRADE.—Czerny's Finishing Studies; Selections from Bach's English Suites and the well-tempered Clavichord; Chopin's op. 10 and op. 25; Pieces by Thalberg, Liszt, and Mendelssohn; Concertos, etc.; Selections from modern composers; Duets, etc.

The time required to complete the above course will depend upon the talent and diligence of the pupil. Before receiving a diploma, the pupil must have taken Harmony and Theory at least two terms and be able to pass a satisfactory examination in each. He will be also expected to answer general questions in Musical History and Biography.

Special arrangements will be made with all who desire an Eclectic Course.

VOICE CULTURE.

In this department the instruction consists mainly in the proper use of the organs of respiration, intonation and union of registers; physiology of vowels and consonants, and correct pronunciation in singing; flexibility and skill in execution.

"Goldbeck's Vocal Method," a carefully prepared series of exercises based upon the Italian school, is used. The pupil will be made familiar with the best German, Italian and English composers and the various styles of singing. Opportunity will be afforded for chorus drill.

As in the instrumental department, diplomas will be awarded to those who complete the regular course of instruction.

REFERENCE BOOKS.

The following books are recommended for reference in the Department of the Languages:

GREEK GRAMMARS.—Buttman, Kühner, Hadley and Crosby.

LATIN GRAMMARS.—Zumpt, Madvig, Andrews & Stoddard, Bullion & Morris, Allen & Greenough, Gildersleeve, Roby.

GREEK LEXICONS.—Liddell & Scott, Crucius' Homeric Lexicon, Veitch's Greek Verbs, Yonge's English-Greek Lexicon.

LATIN LEXICONS.—Harper's Latin-English Lexicon, Smith's English-Latin Lexicon, Doederlein's Latin Synonyms·

ANCIENT GEOGRAPHY.—Mitchell & Short, Long's Classical Atlas, Smith's Dictionary of Ancient Geography.

ANTIQUITIES.—Fiske's Manual, Bojesen, Smith's Dictionary of Antiquities.

SCHOLARSHIPS AND PRIZES.

The Stanton Centenary Scholarship is a centenary donation from the late Thomas Stanton, M.D., of Alton, to the Southern Illinois Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church; and it entitles the holder to Tuition, Incidentals, and Room Rent, free of charge, for the time of holding it. It is to be given as a prize "to that young man preparing for the sacred ministry who shall have passed the best examination in the studies of the next term preceding, and who shall be recommended as worthy by the Presiding Elder of the District Conference which includes Lebanon." Its cash value is fourteen dollars per term.

The Citizens' Prize for Declamation is given to the one who shall excel in declamation at what is called the "Junior and Sophomore Prize Declamation," at the close of the year.

There are also two Citizens' Prizes of twenty-five dollars each, to be awarded, one to the lady who shall excel in Reading; the other to the member of the Senior or Junior class who shall write and present the best Essay at Commencement.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

Parents and guardians are informed that daily records are kept of the merit and demerit of each student, the former denoting the excellencies of each in his recitations and other College exercises; the latter, the delinquencies and deficiences of each in his respective duties. The President will furnish an exhibit of these records in any particular case, when requested by the student or his friends; and in all cases where private admonition has been given without effect, a statement of demerit will be forwarded to the friends of such delinquent scholar. This will be the last step of discipline preceding the final one of suspension or dismissal. The Faculty are determined that the College shall not be infested, and the whole community embarrassed, and perhaps corrupted, by idle or dissolute members.

FUNDS.

By a resolution of the Board of Trustees, the parent or guardian of each minor is expected to name some person in Lebanon as the guardian or patron of his son or ward, while in College, with whom his funds shall be deposited, and to whom he shall be accountable for their proper use. All persons are forbidden to trust a minor without the consent of his guardian, and are hereby notified that if they do so it is at their own risk.

EXAMINATIONS.

Two days at the close of each term will be devoted to examination on the studies pursued during the term. No student will be advanced unless he pass a satisfactory examination. The Examining Committee are solicited to be present at all examinations.

GOVERNMENT,

The discipline of the Institution will be paternal and mild, but firm. An effort will be made to awaken and develop the mental and moral faculties, and thus to secure the true element of progress through life. Transgressions of rules and negligence in study may be borne with for a season, when signs of amendment are perceived, but no student will be permitted to remain while acting in open disregard of these rules. A daily record of the merit and demerit of each student is kept, and permanently entered upon the College Record. Five demerits during one term render a student subject to private reproof, and twenty to suspension or dismissal.

Believing that the time appropriated to vacation is ample for relaxation, and having painfully observed the evil effects of absence from recitation, either at the beginning or any other period of the term, upon the standing and proficiency of the student, the Faculty earnestly request parents and guardians not to sanction such absence without very urgent reasons.

REQUIREMENTS.

Regular and punctual attendance at the morning services in the chapel, at recitations, at church, and at the Sunday afternoon lecture; the strict observance of the hours prescribed for study; the faithful performance of the exercises, studies and duties assigned by the Faculty; a prompt account of the reason for any neglect of duty, tardiness, or absences; the subordination of all other exercises and studies to those required by the Faculty.

PROHIBITIONS.

Irreverence during the religious services at church or chapel; violation of the Sabbath by engaging in any kind of play or amusement, or by assembling, except for worship, in the rooms of students or elsewhere; disrespect toward the Faculty; ungentlemanly treatment of fellow-students or citizens; absence from room during the hours of study; loud conversation, loud laughing, wrestling, jumping, or other unnecessary noise in the College buildings or campus; disturbance of the regular recitations and exercises in any way whatever; the frequenting of taverns, groceries, billiard saloons, or bowling alleys, or any such places of drinking or amusement; lounging about stores or public places, or remaining there longer than business requires; using profane or obscene language; visiting circuses or shows; keeping pistols, dirking-knives, or any unlawful weapons; card-playing and gambling of every kind; writing upon or otherwise defacing the College buildings or furniture; disorderly conduct at boarding houses or elsewhere; leaving town without the knowledge and consent of the Faculty; taking lessons in any branch of study, in the regular College terms, from any person not connected with the Faculty, except by permission.

LIBRARIES.

The Libraries of the College and Literary Societies contain about 7,500 volumes. The College Library is accessible to all the students, according to the rules established by the Joint Board. The Libraries belonging to the Literary Societies are accessible to the members of the societies, according to the rules established by themselves. During the past year a number of volumes have been added to the College Library, and it is hoped that a still larger addition will be made during the present year. The Literary Societies have also, greatly increased the number and value of their books by liberal and well selected purchases.

Law students have the privileges of the College Library, and may, by the consent of the Faculty, become honorary members of either of the Literary Societies, and thus obtain access to the Society Libraries.

MUSEUM AND APPARATUS.

The apparatus belonging to the College is sufficiently extensive to afford excellent facilities for giving instruction in the Natural Sciences, and is in constant use by the classes as occasion demands.

The Museum is receiving constant additions. The most important of those received during the past years are a fine Botanical collection of about 6,000 species, representing the flora of America, with many foreign plants, and a collection of mounted birds representing the species of Southern Illinois. We desire to still further increase our collections, and the Alumni and friends of the College are earnestly requested to correspond with the Curator of the Museum, if able to furnish specimens or suggest exchanges.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

Three literary societies—the Philosophian, the Platonian, and the Clionian—have been organized, and are accomplishing much for the practical training of their members in the methods of transacting public business. They are under rules made by the joint action of the Trustees, the Faculty, and the societies themselves. These have well selected Libraries, to which additions are made from time to time.

DEGREES CONFERRED.

The degree of Bachelor of Arts is conferred only on those who have, in a satisfactory manner, completed the branches embraced in the Classical Course.

The degree of Bachelor of Science will be conferred on all those who have, in like manner, completed the branches embraced in the Scientific Course.

The degree of Bachelor of Laws will be conferred on all who complete, in a satisfactory manner, the course of study prescribed for that department. Graduation fees must be paid in advance of the final examination.

The degree of Master of Arts will be conferred on any Bachelor of Arts of three years' standing, who, during the interval, has sustained a good moral character, and been engaged in some literary, professional, or scientific pursuit. Graduates of longer standing, or from other Colleges, may receive the Master's degree on the same terms. Applications for the degree should be made to the President of the College at least three months before Commencement.

Diplomas will be awarded to students of Elocution, and Instrumental or Vocal Music, who complete the studies required.

HISTORY.

M'KENDREE COLLEGE was founded as an institution of learning February 20th, 1828. It was established in consequence of the action of the Illinois Conference at its session at Mt. Carmel, September, 1827. Mr. E. R. Ames, afterward a Bishop in the M. E. Church, was placed at its head. The population of St. Clair County at that time did not exceed 5,000, and that of the State of Illinois was not more than 140,000. In 1830, Bishop M'Kendree donated to the College a valuable section of land, and the institution was named in honor of him. It received its charter from the State in 1834. The now venerable Peter Akers, D.D., was shortly after chosen President. At the solicitation of the Board of Trustees, the Legislature of the State granted a new charter, January 26, 1839, investing the institution with the powers of a University. It has the active patronage of the Missouri, the Southern Illinois, and the St. Louis Conferences. Its Roll of Alumni bears the names of about three hundred and fifty persons, many of whom are in high offices of trust both in church and state.

LOCATION.

LEBANON, Illinois, the seat of the College, is a quiet village on the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad, twenty-two miles east of St. Louis. It is easy of access and comparatively free from the incentives to vice usual to large cities. The community is remarkable for its intelligence and sobriety, and for its high social character, so that the social and moral requirements of the student while in College are fully met. For this reason, as well as on account of the educational advantages afforded by the school, the attention of parents is invited to M'Kendree College as a most desirable place for the education of their sons and daughters.

Special information concerning the College may be obtained by correspondence with the Faculty, or with any member of the patronizing Conferences.
